

This monument marks the spot where President Harding handled his last bundle of wheat. It is located near Hutchinson, Kansas.

Mrs. Nelson Edwards of Baltimore, brought down this bag of Kansas rabbits in one day. It wasn't as easy as it looks!

Atop the Copley Plaza, Boston, these World War Vets peppered away at a fleet of planes from a nearby Army base and successfully repelled them.