MRS. HOLMES AND MRS. PEATTIE ATTENDS MEETING OF CLUBS AT ASHEVILLE

Mrs. George Hamilton Holmes, president of the Lanier Club, and Mrs. Robert Burns Peattie, State Chairman of Literature of the N. C. F. W. motored to Asheville Saturday to attend the annual meeting of the second district of the federation. The meeting was held in the fine new club house which all of the women's clubs of Asheville have united in building. It is a wide, two-storied edifice with a magnificent auditorium, a fine pipe organ, drawing rooms, a dining room, rooms for the meetings of small clubs, and all conveniences for club house-keeping.

It was clearly evident that the women of this club district are doing more and more every year in the way of civic and benevolent and educational work. Their one weak point appears to be the lack of cooperation in political matters. It will be remembered that every bill sponsored by the women was defeated at the legislature. However, they will return this year with the same bills and strengthened purpose. This includes a bill for limiting the working day of boys and girls between fourteen and sixteen to eight hours a day; a Mother's Aid Appropriation bill; an appropriation for a farm colony for women prisoners, and the taking over by the state, of the colored girls reformatory at Efland.

About two hundred women were present at the meeting. Mrs. J. S. Silversteen, the new district president, presided.

Miss Smith Is Guest in This Section Many Friends Here

Miss Folsom Smith of Sedgewick Manor, Greensboro, N. C., is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Howes of Valhalla. Miss Smith is a relative of Capt. A. L. Smith of Tryon Hills. Her mother was a near relation of Sydney Lanier, the poet. She is very much delighted with the beauty and charm of Tryon and hopes to be a frequent visitor here.

P. T. A. Rally Held

At Green's Creek High School

At the Greens Creek school building last Friday night there was held a most interesting and enthusiastic Parent-Teacher Association rally, and an association was organized in that community. The school children gave a very creditable program, after which the principal of the school turned over the meeting to Miss Seidel. Miss Seidel first introduced Mrs. Doubleday, the president of the Tryon organization and after this address in which Mrs. Doubleday urged all the mothers and the fathers who patronized the school to lend their support to the good cause for which such associations stand. Other Tryon women in attendance were Mrs. Allen Jervey, Mrs. Lois Preston, Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Hayne and Miss Mills of the local school faculty.

With the organization of the Parent-Teacher Association at Greens Creek there are now five in the county, the others being at Tryon, Saluda, Columbus and Mills Springs.

Mrs. Charles D. Brown, and son Stewart, who have been in Tryon for several months, are expecting to return to their home in Rivier Forest, Ill., soon. Probably returning here later on to spend some of the winter season.

Several Halloween parties are planned for Tryon, and in many circles great preparations are being made for this event.

Dr. Darby Fulton, of Nashville, Tenn., will be in Tryon this Sunday where he is scheduled to deliver an address at the Strand Theatre on Sunday morning. Dr. Fulton, is Associate Secretary of Foreign Missions for the Presbyterian Church, U. S. The public is invited to hear this talk.

Mrs. William Phin Mackay, and Mrs. Morris, have returned for the W. C. T. U. Convention in Salisbury, where they reported a wonderful and interesting session of that body.

Dr. Wall, of Shelby, has been a visitor in Tryon for several days.

Miss Richardson, who is a sister of Purdy Richardson, is visiting her brother here for several days and stopping at the Edgewood Inn.

Mr. Floyd L. Liles, one of the pioneer merchants and residents of Spartanburg, S. C., who has been in bad health for the last six months, has been a guest at the Edgewood Inn for several days.

Miss True and Mr. Morton, of Greensboro, N. C., spent the weekend with friends in Tryon, returning Monday.

Mr. Eugene Brownlee, proprietor of the Oak Hall hotel, who has been on sick list is out again, and we are glad to say improving very fast.

Honorable Zebulon Weaver, Congressman from this district is expected to be in Tryon Saturday, to confer with some of his friends here about the political situation. Mr. Weaver has a host of friends on this section, who will be glad to see him again.

Mr. Metcalf, of Chicago, Ill., who has a home near Columbus, N. C. was a visitor to the News office on Monday.

Mr. M. R. McCown, and Waverly Hester, made a business trip to Durham, N. C., last Friday, returning here on Monday.

Mr. Red Harrison, was a Saluda visitor last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Leonard, of Reidsville, S. C., were visitors in Tryon, on Tuesday, returning home in the afternoon.

Mr. Merrick, a brother to Mr. A. A. Merrick of this city, spent several days with friends and relatives here. He is associated with government in the prohibition department, operating in Indiana, and Illinois.

Friends of J. H. Stackhouse, are glad to hear that he has fully recovered from his recent sickness, and is able to take up his business duties again.

DANIELS MAKES BIG SPEECH

(From Asheville Times)

Josephus Daniels preached a vigorous and inspiring sermon to a thin but enthusiastic crowd at the Democratic rally in the auditorium of the new Hall Fletcher high school, West Asheville Monday on the text: "Whatsoever ye soweth, that shall ye also reap."

"After the war," Mr. Daniels said, "the folks at home in America were more shell-shocked than the soldiers who had weathered the great storm. In their mad endeavor to forget the terrors of war they set out in hot pursuit of pleasure and the dollar. America sowed materialism and contempt for world peace and all other ideals. We are now reaping the harvest: materialism, a jazzed-razed, dollar-mad people unprecedented corruption in government, disrespect for law and order."

Says Nation Threatened

"This nation cannot endure," Mr. Daniels solemnly warned, "unless the people get back and stay back to the fundamentals of our Democratic principles of government. Our citizens must take an active interest in their government and vote their honest and best judgement at every election."

"The biggest club in America today is the 'What's the Use Club,' made up of citizens who take no interest in politics and refuse to vote. They say the government is corrupt and the country is going to the dogs and their little vote will of corruption in our government and our country will go to the dogs if this 'What's the Use Club' is not put out of commission and our citizens don't realize their duties and responsibilities and take an active hand in their government."

Scores G. O. P. Corruption

Mr. Daniels had plenty to say about that record of the Republican party since it took the steering wheel of the nation. He scored "Newberrism" and declared that corruption in government affairs of public officials was growing at such a rapid rate that the very foundations of the nation were being shaken. The speaker had no nice things to say about Mr. Coolidge's management of affairs, his vast silence and economy. Mr. Daniels declared that all the much-talked of economy was pure myth and bunk and that Mr. Coolidge had mighty good reasons for keeping silent on much that has transpired in Washington and in Republican circles during his administration.

The former Secretary of the Navy during Wilson's administration related the stories of the Newberry Tea Pot Dome and Vae. He declared that corruption and the bribing dollar had their terrible claws at the throat of free and Democratic government. He warned that unless the people step in and stop this growing evil that the nation could not possibly endure.

Judge Robert M. Wells, Democratic candidate for solicitor in the Nineteenth Judicial District, presided at last night's Democratic rally. Plato D. Ebbs, candidate for re-election to the state senate introduced Mr. Daniels. The Rev. J. B. Grice, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church opening the meeting with prayer.

and also was soon to be the location of one of the two great National Parks that were to be established east of the Mississippi.

Congressman Weaver is likewise understood to have reiterated that he favored and would support a further tax reduction at the next session of Congress which the Republicans did not seem to desire, but instead wished to wait until just before the national election in 1928 for the sake of political affect, and he stated that this was an old time Republican manoeuver, which they practiced in 1919, when they had control of Congress.

Mr. Weaver is evidently in his campaign speaking to his constituents of both parties, alike in regard to many matters of national importance that concern them such as the creation of a great National Park in the Smoky Mountains, in which he was instrumental in passing through the lower House.

In length of service Mr. Weaver is almost the dean of the North Carolina delegation, and at the last session of Congress he received pro-
