In Memory of Mrs. Etta Wells

We, the ladies of the auxiliary of Rockfish Presbyterian Church have, again, been called upon to mourn the loss of one of our beloved friends.

Mrs. Etta Wells, on May 23, 1935.

Therefore, be it resolved: First, that we bow in humble submission to the will of God in losing this good neighbor, loving mother and Christian influence.

Second, that we strive to emulate her life in winning a good name, which is rather to be chosen than great riches. So that we, too, may leave this heritage to the world.

Third, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our auxiliary, a copy be sent to the bereaved family and one to the Wallace Enterprise.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. Stedman Carr, Mrs. Ralph Carlton, Mrs. William Farrior, Committee.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation to each one who in any way contributed to our comfort during the illness and death of our daughter and sister.

Marriage Licenses Issued

Four couples secured marriage licenses in this county during the past week, records in the Register of Deeds' office revealed yesterday. Of this number three were white, they being Roy Rodgers and Miss Ethel King; Geo. A. Williamson and Miss Mary Alice Jackson, and Everett Teachey and Miss Mildred E. Parker, all of whom gave Duplin as their place of residence.

DELAY OPENING

(Continued from page One) cational agricultural teachers. The opening was delayed, it is understood, because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis in the State at this time. Mr. Fields stated that according to the announcement made at the

the law have been announced, also but the question cannot be decided by the Supreme Court before next fall at the earliest. Yesterday the Supreme Court adjourned its spring term. The fall term will not open until the last week in August and even if the liquor cases are given precedence and heard at the opening of court, it will be some time before the decision is announced.

During that period of doubt, unless some unforeseen legal action is taken, Wilson and Edgecombe will be selling liquor, as many other counties where the election for sale is not stopped—and they go wet.

Beaufort Cross-fire

At the same time Judge Walter Small will hear Beaufort County Wets argue in favor of a restraining order to keep the Beaufort Drys from seeking to stop their election, set for Saturday. Tomorrow Judge E. H. Cranmer is expected to hear the Beaufort Drys, unless Judge Small won't let them talk to him.

The Wilson County commissioners yesterday appointed J. B. Gray, Sr., to succeed S. W. Anderson as a member of the control board. Mr. Anderson had declined to serve.

The Wilson authorities have made arrangements to rent a building on East Nash Street in which to locate their first liquor store, but do not expect to be opened for business for several days. Although legal liquor had been promised this week if possible, it was decided yesterday that it could not be done, there being too many arrangements to make.

Yesterday the Wilson board, composed of J. B. Williams, of Wilson, L. D. Tomlinson and Mr. Gray, were sworn in and had their bonds approved.

Deny Liquor Reports

The Wilson authorities were angered yesterday by the publication of reports, emanating from Raleigh, that four cars of liquor were on a siding, waiting for the store to open, "Unfounded and untrue," they declared.

O. A. Glover, former sheriff of Wilson, will run the Wilson store, it was decided.

Edgecombe officials yesterday went to Richmond to observe the Virginia State liquor store operation and get ideas for running their own. It was considered doubtful if the Edgecombe stores would be ready for opening before the last of next week, if that soon.

Franklin Appeals

When Franklin attorneys yesterday received the news that Judge Clawson Williams had enjoined the county from holding a liquor election and going into the whiskey business, on the ground that the local liquor law was unconstitutional, they announced an immediate appeal.
