Society

Book Club

The first fall meeting of the Wallace Book Club was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Blair with Mrs. A. J. Cavanaugh, joint hostess.

Arrangements of colorful fall flowers were used in the living and dining room where guests were seated. A color note of yellow and green was used in the dining room. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a bowl of mixed flowers flanked by burning yellow tapers. Mrs. Stedman Carr, chairman of the Literature Department conducted the business meeting.

The topic for the program study this year will be "A Travelogue of North and South America." As a background for the study Mrs. James O. Carr and Miss Louise Grissom gave interesting talks on "General Character and Map Study of North and South America." After the new books had been distributed the hostesses served refreshments consisting of brown bread sandwiches, goblin salad, hoodoo cake and witches' brew.

Members of the Book Club are: Mesdames J. S. Blair, Chas. Brooks, Robt. Browder, Ralph Carlton, J. O. Carr, R. M. Carr, Stedman Carr, A. J. Cavanaugh, W. B. Jones, Joseph Johnson, H. M. Morrison, W. F. Murphy, J. F. Powers, W. M.

Woman's Club "Get Together Dinner"

A delightful and enjoyable get together dinner held in the high school building Friday evening inaugurated the year's activities of the Wallace Woman's Club.

The informal dinner was attended by over sixty members and was presented under the direction of Mrs. Roy Carter, chairman of the social committee.

The guests at the dinner were welcomed by Mrs. H. M. Morrison, president of the local club and Mrs. J. D. Robinson acted as Toastmistress. The program was planned by Mrs. W. B. Jones and presented as follows:

Song, "The Old North State", club members.

Toast to District President, Mrs. John Gavin of Kenansville, by Mrs. W. B. Jones.

Response, Mrs. Gavin.

Toast to new members, Mrs. J. S. Blair.

Response, Mrs. E. J. Johnson.

Introduction of Miss Martin, County Demonstration Agent, Mrs. J. D. Robinson.

Toast to the school faculty, Mrs. John Powers.

Response, Miss Nancy Conduff.

Skit, "Gathering of the Nuts", Faculty.

A delicious three course dinner was served by the girls in the Home Economics Department.

For this occasion the dining room of the school cafeteria was lavishly decorated with colorful fall flowers. Large baskets of red dahlias and golden rod were used. The tables were arranged in the shape of a U and the central table had as its centerpiece, a unique circus tent with many circus animals. This was duplicated at the adjoining tables and in between were nests of colorful balloons. Other balloons suspended from the ceiling and animal place cards further carried out the circus motif and added much fun and frolic to the occasion.

Officers of the social committee are Mrs. Roy Carter, chm., Mesdames J. B. Cooper, Paisley Boney, Jr., A. H. Carter, J. H. Currie, G. E. Boney.

Assisting these officers in arrangements for the dinner were the following committees: Decorations, Mesdames Albert Wells and L. B. Cavanaugh, Favors, Mesdames J. S. Blair and W. G. Wells, Program, Mrs. W. B. Jones.

Miss Gene Herring of Kingston visited relatives in Wallace last week.

Mrs. L. Calhoun and daughter Charlotte of Lavaras, Brazil were guests of Mrs. W. B. Jones last week.

J. P. Murray and Mrs. N. B. Murray and daughter spent Wednesday afternoon in Wallace.

Among those from Wallace shopping in Wilmington were, Mrs. A. H. Carter, Roy Carter, M. B. Pope, L. B. Townsend, L. B. Cavanaugh, M. J. Cavanaugh and Miss Mary E. Wells and Annette Hester.

Mrs. Little of Albemarle was the guest last week of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Griffith.

Mr. Bill Sheffield spent Wednesday in Wilmington, shopping.

with several high school seniors.

Festivities began with the singing of the college song, following which messages from various teachers, long-connected with the Woman's College, were read and discussed. These messages, accompanied by pictures, were displayed in an album sent out by the general alumnae association of the college. The county group wrote and forwarded a response to these messages.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Luther Powell, Wallace, President of the County Association, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Albert Wells, Rose Hill; Vice-president, Mrs. Paisley Boney, Jr., Wallace; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Elwyn Murray, Rose Hill. The annual meeting will be held next fall in Wallace.

The following women from Wallace attended the meeting: Mrs. Paisley Boney, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. J. S. Blair, Mrs. Luther Powell, and Misses Elsie Winstead and Tallu Crumley, both members of the high school faculty. Misses Betty Blanchard, Anna Elizabeth Powell and Dorothy Osborne, high school seniors also attended.

While the county association was in progress the annual Founder's Day exercises were being held in Greensboro, with Dr. W. C. Jackson, dean of administration, presiding. Dr. Frank P. Graham, President of the Greater University of North Carolina, and Dr. J. I. Foust, president-emeritus of the Woman's College, were also present.

Four speakers, all of whom knew Dr. Charles D. McIver, the founder and first president of the college, spoke briefly, their talks centering around the general theme "Personal Recollections of Dr. Charles D. McIver."

TOBACCO SIGN-UP TO

young men who now own and live upon their own land, on which there is no tobacco contract and is otherwise ineligible for a regular contract. The tenant or other person having been a tobacco grower in the past, but who now finds himself on land without a contract, is also eligible for a Special Base Contract.

Contracts are being signed much faster this year than last, it was learned as already 78 per cent of the eligible growers in Duplin County have agreed to cooperate with the Federal government. This speedier sign-up is due in part to the more thorough understanding the grower has of the terms of the contract and also to the realization of benefits derived as a result of acreage control.

LAST RITES HELD TODAY

Born and reared in Wallace, the deceased had spent her entire life in this section. In early womanhood she was married to Geo. Melvin Carr who preceded her to the grave 46 years ago. One child from this union now survives, Mrs. McKoy Sutherland, of Wilmington. Her second husband, the late Luther B. Carr, preceded her to the grave 6 years ago. One child from this union also survives, Mrs. J. W. Bland, Wallace, with whom she made her home. She is also survived by one sister and one brother, Mrs. D. H. Wallace, Wallace, and Capt. W. H. Ellsworth, of Washington, N. C.

The many beautiful floral offerings which were in evidence at the grave attested in part to the esteem in which the deceased was held, both in her home community and elsewhere.

AMBITIOUS BOYS GIVEN LOOPHOLE BY MARINES

Depression times have left a large number of high school graduates among the persons who are floundering in a sea of economic uncertainty, according to Major Clarence Nutting, who interviews many applicants for the marine corps at his office in Savannah, Ga. "Many of these young men are ready for the battle of life, but they find the door of opportunity closed to them. Naturally they are puzzled by the turn of affairs in a changing world which apparently have robbed them of a foothold on the ladder which leads to success," Major Nutting says.
