Cotton Growers Warned To Keep Sales Record

Information Will Be Necessary When Producer Makes Application for Payment.

PRICE ADJUSTMENT PLAN CALLS FOR 12c RETURNS

Payments Are Not to Exceed Two Cents; Use Spot Markets as Meters

All cotton growers are being warned by the County Agent to keep a record of their cotton sales.

The objective of the price adjustment plan of the AAA is to assure producers, insofar as possible, a return of 12c per pound, basis 7-8 inch middling, for their 1935 cotton crop sold prior to August 1, 1936.

The adjustment payment per pound to each producer will be the amount per pound by which the official average base price on the ten designated spot cotton markets is below 12c per pound on the date of sale, but in no case shall the adjustment payment exceed 2c per pound, it was announced. In case the cotton is not sold by July 31, 1936, but is on that date under the 10c loan, a similar adjustment payment will be made in the amount per pound by which the official average base price on the ten designated spot cotton markets is below 12c per pound on July 31, 1936, but in no case shall the payment per pound exceed 2c.

Payments will be made throughout the cotton year, based on the amount of cotton sold up to and including July 31, 1931, which is not in excess of the producer's 1935 Bankhead Allotment, to each producer who is participating in the 1935 cotton acreage adjustment program, and who agrees to participate in the 1936 adjustment program.

Producers who before August 1, 1936, sell cotton from their 1935 crop, but who do not have a cotton acreage adjustment contract for 1935 or who have not complied in 1935, may make application for cotton price adjustment payments, based on the amount of their cotton so sold which is not in excess of their 1935 Bankhead Allotment. But such a payment cannot be made until he has made and complied with a 1936 cotton contract. All applications must be made prior to August 15, 1936.

All producers should secure a sales certificate from the buyer of his cotton and bring two copies to the County Agent's office when he wishes to make his application, says Mr. McLendon.

OXFORD SINGING CLASS RENDERS PROGRAM HERE

Presenting an interesting program of songs and skits, the singing class from the Oxford Orphanage entertained a large audience in the local high school auditorium last Friday night. The program was sponsored by the local Masonic order. Clifton J. Knowles had charge of the arrangements.

No admission fee was charged for the concert, and contributions taken during intermission netted approximately $65. This sum will be used in helping maintain the Masonic Orphanage in Oxford.

Prior to the program a group of local musicians rendered several musical numbers.

Nearby Territory Bought For Forest, Game Refuge

Thirty thousand acres of run-down farm and wooded lands in Bladen County, near Elizabethtown and Fayetteville are to be purchased by the Administration for use as a demonstration forest, game refuge and public recreation ground, it was announced this week by James M. Gray, Regional Director of Resettlement Land Utilization Division.

The purchase area, for which an allocation of $124,000 has been made, is designated as the Jones, Salter and Singletary Lakes project. Within the area a number of state-owned lakes making it admirably suited for recreational development. The project is viewed by Resettlement authorities as a demonstration of the proper utilization of this land.

Options on approved acreage are now being accepted, Mr. Gray said. Owners of the land purchased will be paid by the Government when titles have been approved by the office of the Attorney General of the United States. All land being acquired by the government has been offered for sale voluntarily by the owners. The Jones, Salter and Singletary Lakes Land area was selected for a demonstration project be-

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK IS OBSERVED LOCALLY

Howe B. Dunn, Secretary-Treasurer of the Wallace Volunteer Fire Department this week notified Sherwood Brockwell, State Fire Marshall, that all the specifications of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-11 inclusive, had been carried out to the fullest extent here with town officials and citizens cooperating.

Mayor J. A. Harrell, former fire chief, talked to an assemblage on Fire Prevention. Following this, and without premature knowledge, the students responded to a fire alarm. The grammar grade students left the building, in marching order, in one minute and 30 seconds. (Please Turn to Last Page)

Sidbury, Wilmington, Maurice Reddy, Assistant Director, Red Cross Relief, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., and a member. (Please Turn to Page Four)

TOUGH ON FOXES

Mrs. E. J. "Bogue" Johnson stands a good chance of getting a home-grown, but genuinely undomesticated, fox neck-piece for Christmas, or birthday, or maybe its for an anniversary, for while returning from Wilmington on Sunday night her husband ran over and killed two foxes.

One, a full-grown specimen, was run down near Rocky Point, and the other, which was somewhat smaller, met a similar fate between Wallace and Burgaw.

The postmaster has been receiving congratulations this week on his prowess, and his opportunity to give the wife an unusual gift. The stamp seller, however, grins at the felicitations and expresses hope that the season is not too early to prohibit satisfactory tanning of the hides.

Must Sign Tobacco Pacts Before Nov.

County Committee Sets Date for Bringing Campaign to a Close.

The Tobacco Control Committee of Duplin County has set November 1st as the closing date for signing tobacco contracts to be in force during the years 1936-39 inclusive, it was announced at Kenansville this week. All tobacco growers who have not signed their contracts have been notified that this closing date has been set. That notice will be the final one for signing contracts.

There can be no adjustments or changes made in contracts until all of those growers who will sign have signed, it was stated by the county agent who also stated that there is no reason for delay in completing the sign-up, whether or not an adjustment has been asked for.

There are only a few contracts in the county that have not been signed, but this number is large enough to hold up the completion of the campaign it was said.

According to figures released this week more than 85 percent of those eligible to sign contracts have already executed them. While the acreage runs a little above this figure.

Wallace Woman Again Head PTA

Mrs. J. S. Blair, Wallace, was re-elected president of the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers at the annual district meeting which was held in Wilmington, October 19. Featuring the meeting was the election of officers and the passing of resolutions requesting President Roosevelt to make more PWA money available for school projects and advocating "a reduction in the overlapping boards and agencies" now having charge of the schools of North Carolina.

Principal speakers during the session were Mrs. Blair, who gave her annual report, Clyde A. Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mrs. W. B. Aycock, Raleigh, President of the State Congress, Mrs. Bess N. Rosa, of (Please Turn to Last Page)

Coastal Fair To Open In Wilmington November 4

Wilmington, October 22.—Sponsored for the first time by the local American Legion post, the Coastal Fair, scheduled for the week of November 4, gives every indication of being the greatest attraction of its kind ever presented in this section of the state.

Entries already received for the 571 agricultural and industrial classes in which the association will award prizes indicate that the fair will be something more than a "carnival", though its splendid entertainment features will assure plenty of clean, wholesome amusement for the thousands who are expected to visit the grounds at Bellamy Park during the week.

Officials of the fair association have worked hard to present a well-balanced program on which educational features and amusement attractions will be mixed in the proper proportions.

On the educational side, the twenty departments have been placed in the hands of experienced, capable directors and the finest group of exhibits ever shown in this section is asured. On the amusement side the fair has obtained outstanding "free act" attractions and a "Midway" which will far outshine anything ever attempted here before and which, at the same time, is absolutely free from "gyp" joints and "peep" shows.

"The Midway at Coastal Fair will be really outstanding", said L. E. Mansfield, entertainment expert of long standing who has been in charge of that feature of the fair. "I have seen the state fair and others this season and I can sincerely say that the Standard Shows of America, which will be in Wilmington, will show you a Midway which is far superior to that at Raleigh or in any other city I've visited this season.

Entries in the 571 classes of the fair will be open until 10 o'clock Monday morning, November 4, according to William A. Peschau, secretary-treasurer of the Coastal Fair, Incorporated, to whom all entries should be made on the printed forms which will be made available promptly upon application.

Preliminary Census Report Indicates More Than Million Acre Increase in Two Crops

REDUCTION IN TOBACCO, COTTON IS RESPONSIBLE

Tobacco and Cotton Acreage is off 200,000 and 670,000 Acres Respectively

More than a million-acre increase in North Carolina feed crops over that of five years ago is shown by the preliminary summary of the 1935 Farm Census just released by the Director of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. This gain covered practically all the feed crops and most of the crops planted for human consumption, and was chiefly the result of a reduction of about 670,000 acres in cotton and 200,000 acres in tobacco.

Approximately 900,000 acres of this increase is represented by corn and hay, and about equally divided between the two. Nearly half a million acres of wheat were harvested in 1934 compared with about 350,000 acres reported for 1929.

Irish potatoes increased 52 percent, or about 32,000 acres, and sweet potatoes 58 percent, or roughly 35,000 acres in the five-year period. Notwithstanding the great change in cash crops, cotton and tobacco, a normal expansion of acreage is indicated by the increase of crop land harvested from 5,809,111 acres five years ago to 5,965,547 acres at the present.

North Carolina showed a decrease of about 20,000 in the number of horses but little change in the number of mules. There are 295,388 mules and mule colts while there are only 66,716 horses and colts. To utilize the increased supply of corn, hay and oats, there are 217,254 or 46.5 percent more cattle in 1935 than in 1930, of which 124,753 were cows, and about 108,000 more hogs. The census reports 684,266 cattle, 947,143 hogs and pigs and 77,044 sheep and lambs in this state at the present time.

In other principal points the report indicates North Carolina followed the trend of the rest of the country with an increase of 7.6 percent, or 21,250 farms, an increase in the land in farms of about 10 percent, but displayed a decrease in the gross value of 26 percent. In the state today 300,967 farms are being operated by 128,394 full owners, 29,717 part owners, 698 managers, 142,158 tenants, and 66,398 croppers, whereas the census report reveals that in 1930 279,708 farms were operated by 115,756 full owners, 25,680 part (Please Turn to Page Four)
