Habits Live

AMIEL, the philosopher, was never wiser than when he said: "Habits count for more than maxims, because habit is a living maxim, become flesh and instinct. To reform one's maxims is nothing; it is but to change the title of the book. To learn new habits is everything, for it is to reach the substance of life. Life is but a tissue of habits. Each good habit we weave in our teens means a better and happier life to its very end."

Mercy is that disposition of the mind which prompts us to pity those in trouble.—Ann Flaxman.

Chairman Jones Quite Likely Pushed Hard on the Reins

Ground for a monument at the San Jacinto battlefield in Houston, Texas, is broken and so is the plow that broke it.

They turned the handles of an ancient wooden plow over to Jesse H. Jones, 225-pound chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He shouted "let's go" to the oxen and the plow point went far into the ground, shattering the relic. Jones had failed to use his weight on the handles.
