THINNING AID TO STRAWBERRY YIELD

develops more leaves and pro-duces more berries. Sometimes yields per acre can be doubled or even trebled by thinning the plants properly, he said.

According to the experiments, the best results were obtained by spacing the rows 3 1-2 to 4 feet apart, and spacing the plants 6 to 12 inches apart in the row.

Another advantage is grow-ing berries in spaced rows is that the crop is easier to har-vest, and fewer berries are left to become overripe and thus unsaleable.

Spaced plants are also more resistant to drought, it was dis-covered. However, spaced plants will suffer some in ex-treme dry weather, though not as much as thickly matted plants.

The practice of mulching strawberry beds in the fall is good, Professor Gardner con-tinued, and should be followed by every grower. He also pointed out that mulching gives better results on spaced plants.

Two Business Firms Here Hold Open House In New Quarters

the front cash register, every soft drink being on the house.

J. Aubrey Harrell and Cap-tain C. J. Snyder were hosts Tuesday evening at the Friend-ly Grill, marking the change from a small spot to a larger location. Near 1000 persons registered during the evening and caught glimpses of the cuisine presented there.

Semi-private booths, more tables, and a soda fountain are additions to the Friendly's ser-vice.

Completing the current trend for open house receptions is that planned by John Harmon Sheffield for his White House Cafe on completion of new brick quarters on Main Street. Here will be more booths, more tables, a soda fountain, a mag-azine supply and rest rooms.

The date for a planned recep-tion has not yet been announc-ed, it depending upon the con-structional accomplishments. Current indications are, how-ever, that the opening will be staged during the latter part of next week.

Another recent removal is that of the Wallace Wholesale Grocery company which has moved to larger quarters on Main Street.

Henry Stevens Made Chairman For Democratic Victory Dinner

ment it was learned that Sen-ator Robert R. Reynolds had been invited to speak at a dinner somewhere in this county. Stevens has made no official announcement as to whether or not the report is factual.

Original plans were that the Young Democratic Club sponsor a Jackson Day Din-ner in Kenansville on the night of February 27 with Congressman Graham A. Barden as guest speaker. Then came the suggestion that the program be changed to conform with the state-wide Victory Dinner schedule in which the state YDC or-ganization is cooperating. Barden was notified of the change in order that he might fill other engagements.

Suggestion of a Victory Dinner in this county on the night of March 4 has thus far failed to get a coopera-tive response. Sheriff D. S. Williamson, executive com-mittee chairman, stated that in discussions with persons in Kenansville the general impression was that such a dinner would be inadvisable.

COMICAL BLUNDERS OF THE ACCIDENT RACKETEERS. There was a genuine street car collision and 23 might have collected—only they swore they were in the wrong car! Read about it in The American Weekly with next Sun-day's WASHINGTON HER-ALD.—adv.

Interest of Democratic lead-ers in other sections, howev-er, hold that such a dinner is in order, and hope is held that Stevens will succeed in its promotion.

In the event the report of Stevens' appointment is without base it is planned that Wallace Democrats stage a dinner here on the night of March 4 and again extend Barden an invitation to deliv-er the principal address. Lo-cal leaders are certain that a record crowd would be in attendance and appreciate the opportunity of cooperat-ing in a movement of party harmony.

WALLACE DIVIDES BILL WITH BEULAVILLE HERE

Championship basketball was shown here Tuesday night when Wallace high school teams di-vided a bill with Beulaville, the local girls losing but the boys staying ahead in one of the most thrilling encounters seen here this season. Both Beula-ville teams are rated high in the county.

A clicking and fast girls team defeated the local sextet 26-9 to rack up their 24th con-secutive win, but the Wallace boys upheld the area's honor by keeping a sufficient lead throughout to win 18-12. The locals' defensive work was far better than the offensive, the boys frequently failing in trys at the goal. No slouches were seen on either team, for they played a fast brand of basket-ball throughout. Beulaville has been defeated but twice this season.

it was pointed out.

A problem affecting many home owners here was touch-ed by the major when he sug-gested that owners of irresponsible chickens make construc-tive efforts to keep their prop-erty incarcerated or else left to the mercy of the complain-ing party. Flowers and grass-es can be planted here in few spots unmolested by maraud-ing chickens.
