

FATHER OF LOCAL MAN DIES IN ROCKY MOUNT

One of Duplin's oldest and most beloved characters, W. W. Register, 84, died suddenly Tuesday night, March 30, following a heart attack at the home of his daughter in Rocky Mount where he had resided since October.

Funeral services were conducted in Bellview cemetery, Wilmington, by Rev. J. S. Croley, pastor of Emanuel Presbyterian church, Wilmington, assisted by Rev. Geddie, pastor of North Rocky Mount church. Pallbearers were Wilmington friends of the deceased. Tributes of loving respect were shown by the many beautiful flowers.

Among those to mourn his death are 10 children, eight sons and two daughters: J. W. Register, Wilmington; R. S. Register, Miami, Fla.; Edw. Register, Richmond, Va.; H. A. Register, Wallace; C. C. Register, Henderson; L. C. Register, Rocky Mount; W. L. Register, Rocky Mount; H. L. Register, Rocky Mount, Mrs. J. C. Savage, Rose Hill, and Mrs. M. D. West, Rocky Mount. There are 39 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The deceased was married twice.

GIRL SCOUTS PLANNING PROGRAM FOR SUMMER

Rose Hill, April 6.—The Pohontas troop of local Girl Scouts met in the home of Mrs. L. W. Williams Friday afternoon. Miss Mildred Stanly, a counsellor, discussed plans for a summer program.

Miss Ruby Ann Maness and Hilda Mallard were announced as having passed Tenderfoot requirements within the last week. During the business session it was decided the troop would sell metal sponges to finance the Scout Hut next fall. It was voted to wait until after strawberry time to paper the hut.

This being the first of the series of programs on the Second Class Scout requirements, Mrs. L. W. Williams, local nurse, gave a demonstration on first aid and bed-making. After the demonstration the scouts divided into groups and practiced the points made.

ings as a groundwork for her composition. What she considers her best composition came into being after she saw the Atlantic Ocean last Fall for the first time. Visualization of ocean waves pounding upon a beach during a storm brought forth a musical impression, she said.

Original compositions from throughout North Carolina were submitted in the federation's contest.

Livestock Judging Contest Held At Experiment Farm

The runner-up was T. Smith, of the B. F. Grady school, Duplin county, who will serve as an alternate in the event any member of the team cannot attend the state event.

The two top scorers in the state-wide judging will be given free trips to the National Livestock Judging contest at Kansas City.

Robert Blackmore, Warsaw, was declared the winner in the public speaking feature.

In commenting upon the judging Dr. Dearing stated that some of the contestants graded high in certain classes, but fell down on others. The successful candidates, he said, were uniformly good on all classes. As a trophy of the occasion Dr. Dearing presented each contestant with a quart of unfermented Muscadine grape juice produced at the Experiment Farm.

agent, introduced the district agent.

The crowning of the king and queen of health was one of the featured attractions in an impressive ceremony. Winners were Lacy Brinson, Beulaville, and Norwood Padgett, Chinquapin. Little Misses Mary Elizabeth Southerland and Mary Sue Burch scattered flowers before the regal 4-H members. McLendon officiated.

The junior Chinquapin club added a special attraction in a pantomime of salient points in 4-H work. The Pierce twins, Herschell and Huston, both of Chinquapin, entertained with musical numbers at both morning and afternoon programs.

Winner of the song contest was the Kenansville club, while second and third places went to B. F. Grady and Wallace, respectively. In the dress review, featuring garments made by members, Violet Kornegay took first place. Winifred Pierce was awarded second prize, while third and fourth prizes went to Libby Futreal and Evelyn Forlow. For stunts during the afternoon session the Chinquapin club won first place, being followed by Kenansville and Beulaville, respectively.

The Kenansville club won the 4-H banner for the highest number of points amassed during the year's work.

A doll dress contest on display was the cause of much attention. The exhibits were furnished by junior club members, with prizes being awarded by Miss Martin to winners in each club and to the best individual exhibit. Doris Goodson, of B. F. Grady, won the county-wide award, while individual awards went to Frances Wells, Wallace; Helen Marie Jones, Kenansville; Lillian Jackson, Faison; Nellie Grey Woodward, Calypso; Doris Goodson, B. F. Grady; Laura Baker, Beulaville; Ruby Lee Maready, Chinquapin.

Two distinctive prizes for proficiency in vocational agriculture and 4-H work were donated by two nitrate of soda firms. For making the best corn yield, and keeping adequate records, Frederick Grady, of B. F. Grady, was given a wrist watch. Prior announcement stated his record would be included in a state-wide judging. For being the best all-around club boy, Robert Jones, Kenansville, will have a free trip to the state Short Course in Raleigh this summer. County agent Reynolds announced the awards.

A plate lunch was served at noon under the supervision of Mesdames R. C. Wells and Faison McGowan.
