

Rose Hill

The music recital by the Primary students of Mrs. H. C. Marshall was creditably given to an appreciative audience Thursday. A special feature was that each pupil appearing was dressed in the native costume of the composer. The numbers given by the toy orchestra at the close of the program created much interest.

Rev. J. H. Barnes attended a pastor's conference in Warsaw Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Early and other members of their family, of Thomasville, were week-end guests of relatives here. Mrs. Early is now employed at the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage and made an interesting talk on the orphanage at the Baptist Sunday School Sunday morning.

William Blanchard, a student at State College, visited his parents during the week-end.

Marsden L. Farrior, who is studying this year at State College, spent the week-end at home.

Miss Sudie Herring, a senior at Flora MacDonald College, was a member of the college glee club group giving a sacred concert at the annual Church Day services at Mt. Zion Presbyterian church Sunday. She is a daughter of Mrs. D. B. Herring.

Miss Elizabeth Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pope, was taken to Duke Hospital for treatment a few days ago.

Mrs. Laura Harness, who has spent the winter in Florida, is visiting her brother, Rev. S. G. Harness, and her mother, Mrs. Grace Harness, at the manse. From here Miss Harness will go to her home in Virginia.

Mrs. Vivian McCoy, of Wilmington, recently visited Mrs. O. H. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Blackman, of Goldsboro, made a short visit to relatives here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Georgia Southerland and her son, Douglas Southerland, of Clinton, were recent guests of Mrs. J. H. Fussell. Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Teachey had as dinner guests Sunday evening the member of Mrs. Teachey's family, including Dr. and Mrs. George Johnson, and George Johnson, Jr., Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sheffield, Warsaw; Dr. Charles Johnson, Concord, and Graham Johnson, Jacksonville.

The annual Sunshine party of the Presbyterian woman's auxiliary was held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. B. Herring, with Mrs. W. B. Herring and Mrs. F. L. Faircloth assisting hostesses. A short Bible study and program were given.

A social period was enjoyed. There were 29 guests present. After refreshments had been served several members exchanged gifts, the name of the donor being enclosed. At the conclusion members drew names for new Sunshine sisters for the coming year.

Both circles of the Methodist missionary society met Wednesday afternoon. The Clara Mal-lard circle met with Mrs. J. W. Blanchard with Mrs. C. T. Fussell presiding. Mrs. E. C. Maness conducted the devotional and Mrs. Charlie Teachey directed the program. At the close Mrs. Maness and Mrs. Fussell served refreshments.

The Cumie Fussell circle met with Mrs. Oscar Fussell and Mrs. Rhodes Young in the home of Mrs. Young. Mrs. T. R. Rouse, chairman, presided. Mrs. Fussell conducted the devotional and Mrs. L. A. Wilson conducted the program. The hostess served sandwiches and coffee.

The Baptist missionary society held a business meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. E. G. Murray, presided, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. W. S. Wells. At the conclusion of business, reports of the recent annual meeting in Winston-Salem, as printed in the Biblical Recorder, were given by Mrs. J. E. Pope, Miss Jimmer Alderman and Bessie F. Johnson.

Marketing Carolina Vegetables

By Guy A. Cardwell
Growers should keep in mind that vegetables grown in the Carolinas meet with severe competition in the larger markets of the country; and that even though the produce is sold for cash by the grower on auction markets at shipping points, or to local assemblers, this does not relieve the grower of the burdens placed upon him by this competition.

It is competition and supply and demand that largely govern in fixing the price that growers receive; therefore, it is up to the grower to do his job to best advantage, in order that he may be able to increase his profit.

There are several ways in which profits on truck crops may be increased.

1. The soil must be warm, well drained, and filled with organic matter—humus. Poor soil will not produce heavy yields of good quality produce.
2. Use good seed of popular varieties.
3. Fertilize heavily, but not wastefully, and cultivate so as to produce both quantity and quality vegetables.
4. Harvest at the proper time when the commodity is in prime condition.
5. Grade closely and size at-

78th birthday March 28. All the children except one was present along with 22 grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren and a host of friends.

At the noon hour dinner was spread on a table in the yard.

Those present from Rose Hill were: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robinson, Adell Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Jackson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Knowles and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Fussell, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fussell and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Avnor Knowles and son, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Knowles and family, Miss Ida Johnson, Mrs. Lee Jones and son, Mrs. Joe Rackley, Mr.

tractively. The local buyer, the merchant in the market, and the housewife, all buy according to the reflex action of the eye.

Field grading may be all right if skillfully done, but it is not usually well done. It is, therefore, in the interest of top prices that the grower is after for most commodities to be graded at the packing shed and washed, if the commodity needs to be washed, and packed in standard containers — in the best looking containers that the grower can afford to use.

Sloopy looking packages sharply lessen the value of good produce, while good looking containers often enhance the price paid for inferior produce. But do not count too heavily on this method to increase profits, for buyers do not have to be fooled many times before they fix the level of prices paid for the produce where it will protect them in buying and selling.

A reputation of quality produce, careful grading, and a good looking package is worth real money to the grower of truck crops. Do not ever forget this and that your produce must meet competition no matter where or how sold.

there; Nor did I see the clouds unfold; But I know he went through there.

Left us memory of his presence, And the smile up his face That he wore so much in living And in passing from this place.

We will keep it, good Grand-daddy, Keep it gladly while we live, Pass it on to other persons, For this, "In Memoriam," now I give.

ANNOUNCE DIVISION OF CONSERVATION PAYMENTS

Soil-conservation payments for 1937 will be divided between North Carolina landlords and tenants according to the following rules, says J. F. Criswell, of State College.

Cotton and peanut diversion payments: 87 1-2 percent to the producer who furnishes the land, 12 1-2 percent to the producer who furnishes workstock and equipment; the other 50 percent to be shared in the same proportion that the crop is divided.

Diversion payments for tobacco and general soil-depleting crops: 15 percent to the producer furnishing the land, 15 percent to the producer furnishing workstock and equipment; the remaining 70 percent to be divided as the crop is divided.

Payments for soil-building practices will be divided among the producers according to the amount of work and expense incurred by each in carrying out these practices.

The soil-building payments will be divided on the same basis used last year, Criswell stated, but a change has been made in the method of dividing the diversion payments. Last year diversion payments were divided thus: 16 2-3 percent to the producer furnishing the land, 16 2-3 percent to the producer furnishing workstock and equipment, and 66 2-3 percent to be divided in the proportion that the producers shared in the soil-depleting crops.

Half the unhappines in the world is due to the failure of plans which were never reasonable and often impossible.

Draw your wisdom from old men, and your enthusiasm from young men.

IN MEMORIAM

For my grandfather, who left this world for another on God's Day, March 21, 1937.

What a day he chose to leave us,
When wind had brushed the storms away,
When day hidden 'neath the clouds,
The moon was well upon his way.

Stars had gathered, lit the path;
One hung still above the gate.
God had called and angels came
To take him softly to that gate.

Death tapped once and let him be,
Rapped once on his window's pane;
Whistled faintly and His helpers
Bore him gently up the lane.

He must have been there just in time
To see the Father and the dawn,
And he saw Christ bend low in secret,
Pantomine Easter on the lawn.

I didn't see the white-clad angels;
Yet I know that they were
