

Wage-Hour Law Applies To Some In Wood Industry

The new "forestry or logging" operations exemption under the Federal Wage and Hour Law is an exemption from the law's minimum wage and overtime provisions, but not an exemption from the law's child labor provisions.

This fact was emphasized today in a special statement received from Forrest H. Shuford, North Carolina Commissioner of Labor, who administers the Wage-Hour Law in this State under a special agreement with the Federal Wage and Hour Administration.

"Swift's Blenn," New Process

say tobacco men, "makes more money per acre!"
BLENN, Swift's specialized crop maker, is helping tobacco growers produce that bright, smooth leaf that brings top bid. By actual test, it does help produce much higher dollar returns per acre.
E. G. Flinchum, Greensboro, N. C., fertilized one acre of tobacco with 1,100 lbs. of BLENN. Another acre in the same field got a similar amount of another plant food of the same analysis. The results as reported by Mr. Flinchum were: "242 lbs. more leaf from the BLENN-fed acre" — "Average price almost 2 cents per pound higher from the BLENN acre" — "$164.06 more money from the acre grown with BLENN." "The acre with BLENN under it produced 2018 lbs. of fine leaf."

in interstate commerce are covered. It has been our experience that this law covers the great majority of Sawmill and lumbering operations throughout the State. In cases where the product is sold to another party who, sells it out of the State either directly or after it has then the original sawmill or lumbering establishment also is covered by the Wage and Hour Law."

EXEMPTION
The Labor Commissioner explained that workers in forestry or logging operations in which not more than 12 workers are employed by the same employer are exempt from the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the law, but not from the child labor provisions. The exemption applies only to woods operations, he said, and does not apply to work in sawmills.

CHILD LABOR
"Employers of 12 or less workers engaged in exempt forestry or logging work should remember that the child labor provisions of the Wage and Hour Law remain in effect at all times," Commissioner Shuford pointed out. "This means that employers of forestry or logging crews must continue to observe the Wage-Hour Law provisions which set a minimum age of 18 years for all woods jobs except those which are not declared to be hazardous for young workers."

"The non-hazardous jobs in logging operations — for which the Wage-Hour Law sets a minimum age of 16 years — include timber crusing; transit man, rod man, and chain man in surveying parties; some types of repair or maintenance jobs; work around a cook house; removing of bark from logs, if done away from hazardous work; fire patrolman or look-out; stableman or hostler; and office work." Commissioner Shuford added that employers may protect themselves from unintentional child labor violations by having on hand employment certificates showing that young workers in their employ are above the legal age required for the jobs they hold. These employment certificates may be secured from the local County Superintendent, he said.

Club Meeting Held For Study Of Pattern Use

The Wallace Home Demonstration Club for Negro women met at the home of Mrs. Maria Mathews on Monday afternoon, Feb. 27, with Mrs. Irene D. Powers presiding.

The meeting opened with the song, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." The club collect was repeated, and the club went forward with its business session. Mrs. Edna Wallace read the minutes of the last meeting, then Mrs. Mable Peterson gave a demonstration on patterns. The hostess served potato salad, crackers and ice cream.

The club will meet March 27 at the home of Mrs. Emma Wallace.

The North Carolina Beekeepers Association will hold its annual meeting in the courthouse at Charlotte on March 10.
