BONEY RE-UNION—68 descendants of James Wells Boney gathered at the American Legion Building in Wallace Sunday for the third annual re-union. Following a luncheon in the building a business session with talk by Dr. DeWitt Boney, principal of an East Orange, New Jersey elementary school was given, and reports heard of moving of a family cemetery and coat of arms. Members of the clan from as far away as Lake Worth, Florida were in attendance. The group agreed to meet again the fourth Sunday in August next year "regardless of the hurricanes."

Wallace Baptists Have Successful Ground-Breaking Service Sunday

The members and friends of the Wallace Baptist Church formally started the new church building on Sunday afternoon, August 28, when they broke ground at their new location. The old Strawberry Exchange in Wallace will be the location of the new Wallace Baptist Church.

Rev. Grady P. McKeithan, new pastor at the Teachey and Corinth Baptist Churches read the scripture and brought the challenge. He also turned the first shovel of soil. Rev. W. M. Caviness, pastor of the Wallace Methodist Church, led in the Prayer of Thanksgiving and turned the second shovel full of soil. The following people then turned a shovel full of soil: Mr. Robert Frank Boone, chairman of the Building Committee; Mr. W. N. McLain, Mrs. Deane Hundley, Mrs. A. H. Carter, all members of the Building Committee; Mr. Arthur Dempsey and Mr. Bob Sheffield, both representing the Charter members; Mr. T. J. Baker, chairman of the Deacons, Mr. D. D.

Blanchard, chairman of the Building Fund Committee; Mrs. A. B. Bordeaux, president of the W. M. U., representing the women of the church; Mr. Bob Blanchard, representing the young people of the church, and the Pastor, Dr. Eugene Poston, representing the entire church. After these representatives of the church had finished a great host of the people took the shovel to turn some soil. Mr. Clute Rivenbark, the fifth member of the Building Committee, was not present.

After the ground-breaking a picnic lunch was spread and the people enjoyed an hour of Christian Fellowship.

The contract for the new Wallace Baptist Church has been let to Mr. A. G. Carter. Mr. Carter is formerly of Wallace. He will arrive in Wallace during the next ten days to begin construction of the building. Holloway and Reeves, architects of Raleigh, drew the plans in conjunction with the architectural department of the Southern Baptist Convention.

$48.82 Average Leaf Market Reported Local

The Wallace Tobacco Market sold 880,492 pounds of the golden leaf for $429,811.29, or an average of $48.82 during the first two days as sales got underway Thursday and Friday.

All three warehouse firms, Sheffield's, Blanchard and Farror and Hussey's reported full sales both days and anticipated block sales today and tomorrow. Farmers are urged to call either of three warehouses collect for space before moving their tobacco around in the current wet weather.

Morton Fields, Sales Supervisor, said that all Wallace warehousemen are going all out in rendering their best efforts to get the highest prices for farmers who patronize the local market and that growers appeared satisfied at the efforts being made in their behalf.

"We have three large warehouse firms with competent and well qualified tobacco men at the helms of each to assure growers who sell here of the highest prices paid anywhere," he said, in urging farmers to make plans to sell on the Wallace market.

At the same time he issued a word of caution. "Grade your tobacco very slowly and very carefully. Throw out all the green tobacco. Then watch it carefully and don't let it get damaged. Wallace warehousemen guarantee you the highest prices to be found anywhere. The same good prices grade-for-grade will prevail if not get even better as the season progresses so don't rush. Take your time and be assured of the highest prices."

Drunk Negroes Toss Body Of Willard Boy Into Yard Abandoned Home After Running Into Him

Two drunk Negroes are in jail awaiting Superior Court trial, possibly this week, after committing one of the most inhuman crimes heard of in these parts in a long time.

After running into the rear of a newspaper carrier boy on a scooter they picked him up, carried him over eight miles, dumped his apparently lifeless body in the yard of an old burn house on a country road after taking his money and left him.

Deputy Norwood Boone accidentally happened to run across the car before the body was even found. He gives the following account of the affair:

About 7:30 o'clock Leon Rawls, 16-year-old son of Marvin Rawls of Willard, News and Observer paper carrier, was returning from Rose Hill on his motor scooter. About 200 yards north of Teachey he was struck from behind by a 1940 or 1941 Plymouth operated by Haywood Sykes, Negro of near Charly. Sykes had a passenger in the car, identified as Johnny Moore. The latter alleges he was picked up by Sykes hitchhiking in Magnolia. He lives four miles northwest of Magnolia. Both were intoxicated.

The white boy was knocked off on the highway's shoulder when struck. Moore said they picked him up, pulled the motor scooter from the center line over to the shoulder and left.

The white boy was knocked off on the highway's shoulder when struck. Moore said they picked him up, pulled the motor scooter from the center line over to the shoulder and left.

The officers found no trace of the car and turned around and were coming back down N. C. 11 when they spotted the car, the imprint of the scooter was on the grill and wet blood on the rear seat. It now contained Sykes and four other Negroes. He steadfastly denied any knowledge for about fifteen minutes.

Finally he broke down and confessed and led them to where the boy lay in the yard.

Boone picked up the boy from the hot Saturday morning sun at 11 o'clock, radioed ahead on his police radio to Kenansville where preparations were made for the youth's arrival at the hospital. He drove the eight miles in slightly less than five minutes, reaching speeds of 110.

Sykes was jailed and Moore eventually picked up and jailed also.

They may be tried at the term of Superior Court commencing this morning but will probably be held for trial at the next session in October.

A whole host of charges have been placed, including kidnapping, highway robbery, drunken driving, careless and reckless driving and hit and run, as well as others.

Some are felony offenses but none are capital offenses. Deputy Boone said that he has secured a previous conviction for Sykes on highway robbery charges.

Rawls condition upon arrival at Duplin General Hospital was reportedly serious but not critical.

He was removed to Duke University Hospital about midnight Saturday night where he today is reported to be still in serious condition.

Another few minutes without medical attention may have caused his death, it is thought, due to the extensive head injuries he sustained and the hot pre-moon sun.

68 Attend Boney Reunion Held Here Sunday

Sixty-eight people were in attendance yesterday as the Boney family held its third annual reunion at the American Legion Building here.

The descendants of James Wells Boney began assembling at the building before 10 o'clock for the all-day session. President John B. Boney presided over the business session following a bountiful covered dish dinner.

Dr. DeWitt Boney of East Orange, New Jersey, spoke briefly on the fellowship aspects of the gathering and reminiscing about the old days in Duplin.

The clan heard a report and voted to proceed with accumulating data for plans for the moving of the family cemetery from its present location adjoining an open field east of Wallace to Rockfish Cemetery west of town.

The group passed the hat to pay for expenses in connection with holding of the reunion and after collecting more than needed voted to spend part of the money for sending flowers to a kinsmen, Mrs. Melissa Sykes, who is in very serious condition in a Wilmington hospital.

Mrs. Eloise Boney Baird reported on the coat-of-arms project. It was decided to explore further whether the name Boney is an offspring of the name Bonney."

Coming the furthest to attend the re-union were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tate Boney of Lake Worth, Florida. The oldest descendant present was Mrs. Pearl Williams of Wallace. The youngest descendant present was Thomas E. Boney, Jr. also of Wallace. The furthest, oldest and youngest were the same as last year.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the same place and the time was fixed as the fourth Sunday in August next year.

Many out-of-town and out-of-state guests were in attendance. The function began to disband about five o'clock.
