Beaufort Splits

The last three Swansboro runs came in the sixth session. Stanley singled and went to second when Lisk walked. Both moved up a base when Hardisty sacrificed and both scored on Roe's base knock into centerfield. Roe raced to third on Diem's one baser, and when Holt forced Diem at second, Roe came in to count.

Beaufort then got back into the ball game with two tallies in the last of the sixth. Ben Hayes got a life when Kinsir erred and reached the keystone sack on an infield out. Gray Hassell then pumped a single into centerfield, scoring Hayes, and when centerfielder Charlie Odum bobbled the ball, Hassell reached second. A single by Gillikin, scoring Hassell, accounted for the other run.

A freak play in the eighth brought Beaufort to within two runs of Swansboro. With two out, Gray Hassell walked, Gillikin, next man up, sent a pop fly down the right field line which neither the first baseman, second baseman, nor right fielder could reach.

Rightfielder Neal Hatchell, thinking the ball foul, leisurely fielded the ball in foul ground, where the ball had rolled. Seeing the base runners moving, Hatchell held on to the ball, refusing to acknowledge that the ball had fallen into fair territory.

In the meantime, the runners circled the basespaths to make it 8-6 and to give Gillikin credit for a home run.

Morehead Loses

(Continued From Page 7) run, only four hits, and had retired the last 15 men in succession. If it weren't for an error, that string would have stretched even further.

So when the Morehead City lads came up for their licks in the last half of the ninth frame, the stage was elaborately set for another one of those last minute uprisings that they have been staging for the last umpty-ump games. And the fans, who read the papers, knew it, for a one stirred from his seat when the home team came up to bat.

Francis Stoy, Morehead second baseman and first man up in the last half of the ninth, realized that the fans expected something sensational, so he did the best he could by blasting a long line drive double into left centerfield, as if he didn't know that Pate had been pitching brilliant ball.

Manager Jack Gardner popped up to the second baseman, but Piggie Smith came through with a ground ball single between third and short. On Smith's hit, Stoy had to wait until he was sure no one could get to it before he could leave second, so by the time he got a green light he could get no further than third, putting men on first and third with one man out.

With two strikes on the batter, manager Jack Gardner then took a terrific gamble and ordered Malpass to bunt. The play paid dividends as Malpass laid down a perfect bunt between the pitcher and the first baseman to squeeze in Stoy, who had been running on the pitch and who crossed the plate before anyone could field the ball.

This made it a tied-up game, but the score didn't stay knotted for long. After fanning the first two men to face him in the top of the tenth to give him 12 strikeouts for the afternoon, Webb then issued a free pass to his opposing moundman, Pate. Roy McKamey single Pate to second, from where he scored on another safety by Lucas.

Things should have ended there, but shortstop George Stillway, who had been playing good steady ball up until then, erred on a grass-cutter from the bat of pinch-hitter Lester Babbitt, scoring another tally for Marshallberg.

Pate then found the range again and retired the side in order in the last half of the tenth on a bouncer to the first baseman, a grounder back to the mound, and a popup to the pitcher.

Standings

The above standings of the Tidewater League have been confirmed by the league as official although there is apparently a discrepancy. The number of wins for the eight teams total 64 while the number of losses total 62, which is in reality an impossibility since there should be a game lost for every victory recorded. The News-Times believes the error is in the Marshallberg standings and that Marshallberg, to our knowledge has a won 9, lost 7 record rather than 10-and-6.

List Players For Donkey Circus

The names of the players who will constitute the roster of the Tigers, slugging opponents of the Morehead City Lions Club in the forthcoming donkey baseball circus, have been announced. The game will take place 8:30 p.m. Thursday night, July 1, underneath the lights at Wade Brothers Park.

The list contains so many former major league stars that just the mention of some of these sluggers strikes fear into the hearts of would-be opponents.

On the Tigers' squad will be Dr. Darden (Sluggo) Eure, Dr. John (Joltin' Johnny) Morris, Dr. M. B. (Home Run) Morey, Ray (Clipper) Cummins, Tony (Seamsplitter) Seamon, Harold (Grand Slam) Webb, Johnny (Big Poison) Locke, Warren (Little Poison) Beck, Vincent (Just Plain Poison) Lawrence, Karo (Killer) Guthrie, and Jake (Bambino) Miller, and Lockwood Phillips.

Playing for and managing the Tigers will be Mayor George W. (Dizzy) Dill, recently imported from the Tigers' class Z farm club in the Turnip League.

Grover "I Call 'Em As I See 'Em" Munden will be the chief umpire for the battle of the ages (pun).

A spokesman for the Tigers has informed the News-Times that the appearance of three doctors in the Tigers' lineup has no significance whatever.

The speed of some of the players is such that they will be hindered (or assisted) by the use of donkeys, from whence the name of the affair receives its name.

The proceeds of the game, like all other Lions Club profits, will go toward sight conservation and aid to the blind.

Eight Children, 22 Grandchildren Pay Respects to the Jacob Wades

By F. C. Salisbury

Seldom is it allotted to a married couple to journey down the pathway of life together, reaching the half-century mark of their married life, surrounded by a loyal family and a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wade of this city, on Wednesday, June 16, reached the 50th anniversary of their marriage, which occasion was observed by a homecoming of most of the children and their families.

In order that eight of the children and their families could gather at the home on Fisher street to observe the celebration of this occasion in the lives of their parents, open house was held from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the family home.

The day was properly observed by the attendance of the parents and children at the First Baptist church, for both the Sunday School hour and the morning church service. During the Sunday School service recognition was shown Mr. and Mrs. Wade for their years of loyalty and service to the church and Sunday School. Both have been members of the church since childhood.

Mrs. Wade was born in this city, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Styron. Mr. Wade was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Wade was born at Smyrna, moving to this city at the age of six years. The marriage of this worthy couple took place on June 16, 1898, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. John Lewis, pastor of the Baptist church of this city at that time.

Down through the years of their marriage life they have resided here, raising a family of eleven children which all grew to manhood and womanhood. The first break in the family circle came a few years ago with the passing of a daughter, Mrs. John T. Wade.

Combined with the loving care given the raising of their children, both parents found time to be of neighborly service, sincere and faithful in their church life, setting an example of righteous living before their children and friends.

A host of friends called at the home on Sunday afternoon to extend their felicitations as well as presenting some token of their regards. Gifts from the children to their parents were a beautiful yellow gold wrist watch to their mother and a gold watch chain to their father.

Appropriate decorations of yellow in flowers and table arrangement were carried out. A beautiful four layer wedding cake graced the serving table from which the guests were served with punch, dainty cookies, nuts, candy wafers and generous servings of the delicious wedding cake.

Out of town children and their families included Winfield Wade, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Brian Poe, Southern Pines, N. C.; Mrs. G. J. Moore, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Robert McCrady, Portsmouth, Va., and Mrs. L. A. Whitford, Raleigh, N. C. Mrs. Robert Haggart, Mrs. George Mizesko and Rupert Wade make their home in this city. Two sons, Jacob, Jr., and Ben who are associated with national ball teams were unable to be present. Grandchildren to the number of twenty-two were present.

Davie County Boy Raises Pig Litter of Unusual Size

COLLEGE STATION, Raleigh—Leonard Seats, a 13-year-old Davie County 4-H Club boy, recently raised a litter of nine pigs that weighed 31.7 pounds per head at 56 days of age, according to J. P. Bowles, assistant county agent for the State College Extension Service.

Leonard received his registered Poland China gilt in June, 1947, through the county pig chain, Mr. Bowles stated, with the understanding that he should return $20 to the chain when the first litter of pigs was sold. This money will be used to buy other pigs for new chain members.

There are now 8 gilts in the chain which have been placed with 4-H Club boys throughout the county, the assistant agent said. To the boy who raises the heaviest litter of pigs at 56 days of age, P. R. Clinard of Harmony, Route 1, a breeder of registered Poland China hogs, is offering a registered gilt. Young Seats is hoping that his litter will win the prize.

Leonard has been a member of the Junior Farmington Club for two years and has completed projects in corn and swine. His swine project this year netted him $132 in addition to the price of the sow. He plans to sell his present litter of nine pigs with the exception of one which he will keep to kill this winter. He will keep one of the gilts from his fall litter for his next brood sow.

Two Build Home-Made Tractor From Junk Pile

DES MOINES — (AP) — Two Manchester farmers have a tractor they built themselves after a visit to junk yards and used car dealers. Carl Antons and his brother-in-law, Lester Childs, needed a light, speedy tractor for hay baling. Unable to find anything to suit their needs, they built their own machine for about $600.

Features of their tractor include two speeds in reverse instead of the usual one, and a five-speed transmission, which, combined with a two-speed rear axle, gives the tractor 10 speeds forward, from one to 35 miles per hour.
