Beaufort Jaycees Proceed With Plan For Minstrel Show

Grayden Paul to Play Role Of Interlocutor; Dues Raised

Beaufort Jaycees made further plans for the staging of a minstrel show this fall at their bi-weekly supper meeting at the Ann Street Methodist church annex Monday night.

President Claud Wheatly told members that Grayden Paul has consented to be interlocutor and reminded them of the outstanding performance which Mr. Paul gave in that role in the Jaycee-sponsored minstrel two years ago.

Other assignments for the production are as follows: Odell Merrill, in charge of end men; James Wheatley and James Potter, quartet and choir; Cecil Harrell, the "Spoke Jones" orchestra; Harry McGinnis, make-up man; John Butler, stage and scenery director; Ralph Eudy, business manager; and Rufus Sewell, in charge of non-Jaycee participation.

Women have agreed to help on the costumes, Mr. Wheatly said. Mr. Whitley expressed the belief that working up and presenting the minstrel show would greatly stimulate interest of Jaycees in their group's activities.

Charles Hassell reported that he and Robert Stephens appeared before the town board of commissioners and succeeded in having them appoint a town planning board to consider the Jaycee-sponsored projects of zoning and town limits extension.

The Jaycees voted unanimously for a motion presented by J. O. Barbour, Jr., that members have their blood types filled at Morehead City hospital, with duplicate records to be sent to all doctor's offices. Jaycees will also promote this idea among the public.

A motion introduced by Preston Mason was passed requesting the state highway department to investigate the possibility of turning on the lights on the draw bridges between Beaufort and Morehead City.

The getting of "new blood" in the club was the subject of a prolonged discussion on a renewal of membership solicitation. Dues were advanced from $5 to $8 annually, payable monthly.

Morehead High School

Hi Folks!
The Herf-Jones salesman came to school on Tuesday and the Junior class chose their rings. I haven't seen one myself but from all reports they are much prettier than ours. The Seniors, on the same day, chose their personal calling cards, invitations for graduation, and some jewelry with the school name or emblem on it.

On Wednesday the Seniors chose their caps and gowns and this year we've decided on grey. Of course it's a long way off yet but it's certainly a nice thing to think about, isn't it?

Anyone that is interested in taking dancing lessons can do so by seeing Miss Rose at the recreation center on Saturday afternoon. Lessons are $5.00 for six lessons.

I hear that the Teen-Age program last Saturday morning was very good. The new announcer was Lois Simpson, taking over from Judy Perry who served almost a year. The program was as follows: Billie Joyce Watson sang, "Moonlight Becomes You," several girls sang together, "Just Because" and "Dear One Believes"; Bobby Hesse played a piano solo, "It's Magic." If there are any others with as good talent please tell either Lois Webb or Lois Simpson and they will be glad to schedule you on one of the future programs.

The Teen-Age Club officers held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the recreational center and discussed plans for their Halloween masquerade party. It's to be next Friday night and everyone is asked to go in costume. The admission with a costume and a mask on is 25 cents and without a costume will be 50 cents. There'll be door prizes, cake walks, a program, prizes for costumes, fun house, booths, and just loads of fun for everybody. And incidentally, Derryle Gar. See TOPICS Page 6

Teen-Age Canteen Will Locate in Scout Building

Mrs. Blythe Noe, of the Beaufort PTA, announced today that beginning Saturday night, Oct. 23, the Teen-Age canteen will be located in the Scout building on Pollock street.

She stated that the PTA is extremely grateful to the legionnaires for permitting their hut on Turner street to be used for the canteen for the past two years. It is no longer convenient for the youngsters to use that building, she remarked, because of the program planned there this winter by the Legion post.

Group Starts Little Theatre

Initial Meeting Held Monday Night at Civic Center

A little theatre group is a borning in the twin-city area.

Seventeen prospective thespians, set-painters, and costume makers met Monday night at the civic center, Morehead City, and selected Ansil Chapin, Miss Doris Leach, and Earl Lewis as a steering committee to take charge of the group until organization is effected.

The next meeting will be at 8:30 Monday night in the civic center and anyone interested in dramatic productions are requested to attend. Membership fee has been set at $1.

Tentative plans to produce a one-act play and to read and select other longer plays were discussed.

Those present were the following: Ella Margaret Morris, Frank Hatton, Thomas Respass, Lois Webb, Bob Hesse, Mr. and Mrs. Ansil Chapin, D. G. Bell, Thelma Branch, Guy Smith, Jessie Devontch, Mr. Lewis, Miss Leach, Ruth Bailey, Ruth Poelling, Jane Hammersley, Norma Gaskill, and Charles Markey.

Business Club To Sponsor Sale

Members of the Carteret Business and Professional Women's club will sponsor a bake sale Saturday morning, Oct. 23 in front of Merrill's Dress shop, Beaufort.

On sale will be pies, cakes, and homemade candy which will be donated by members of the club. Proceeds from the sale will be used to pay for the air-conditioned oxygen tent the club is purchasing for the hospital.

It was reported that $39.50 was made on the benefit bridge given this month at the civic center. One hundred dollars has been contributed also toward the purchase of the tent by the Carolina Racing association.

Boxes of Christmas cards were distributed to club members at the meeting. Money received from these sales will be put in the oxygen tent fund.

Mrs. Sara Bradbury, of Beaufort, was accepted into the organization. The next meeting will be held in Beaufort Tuesday, Nov. 9. Place will be announced later.

A Story of the Man Everyone Knows

Appearing in Tuesday's issue of THE NEWS-TIMES will be the life story of the best-known man on the North Carolina coast, Aycock Brown.

The famous Tar Heel columnist who has put North Carolina before every reader all over the world is a living example of a man who wanted to be a writer more than anything else and in spite of innumerable reverses achieved his goal.

E. Y. Floyd, who was appointed by the Farm Bureau last April to serve as chairman of a committee to study equalization of railroad freight rates, gave a report of his findings. Mr. Floyd found that freight rates on grain and other products being shipped out of the state was greater than the rates for the same products being shipped in. In conducting this survey Mr. Floyd found that with 70,000 Farm Bureau families backing him that it was easy to get hearings with various railroad officials.

Flake Shaw, executive vice president of the Farm Bureau, gave a report of the recent meeting of National Farm Bureau directors which was held in Chicago.

Near the close of this meeting a report was made from each county represented of the progress of its membership drive.

Beaufort PTA To Serve Dinner At District Meet

The Beaufort PTA, which sponsored the Chamber of Commerce dinner last night in the school cafeteria will also sponsor a dinner Oct. 27 when the district meeting of the PTA is held in Beaufort, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Robert Saffrit and Mrs. James H. Potter, III, co chairmen of the ways and means committee.

The first meeting of the year took place Tuesday evening with the president, Mrs. Ralph Eudy, presiding.

The Rev. T. R. Jenkins, pastor of the Ann Street Methodist church, led the devotionals, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted. The treasurer, Paul Jones, reported $734.84 in the bank.

Reports by the chairmen of standing committees were given. Chairmen are ways and means, Mrs. Saffrit and Mrs. Potter, room representatives, Mrs. Gehrmann Holland, magazine, Mrs. John Haynes, publicity, Mrs. Blythe Noe, program, James Wheatley, membership, Mrs. George Eastman, grounds, Mrs. Warren Allgood, hospitality, Mrs. F. R. Bell, and recreation, Mrs. Grayden Paul.

Mrs. Eudy announced that Mrs. Ernest B. Hunter, state president of the PTA, Mrs. Paul Davenport, district director, Dr. J. D. Messick, president of ECTC, and Charles Phillips, of Greensboro, will be present at the district meeting.

A motion was made and carried that the teen age canteen, which must move from the American Legion hut, move to the Scout building, and that the PTA assist the teen-agers in raising money to keep the canteen going.

The roll call prizes were won by Miss Gaskill's second grade, Mrs. Jenkins' sixth and Miss Hedrick's 11th grades.

James Wheatley introduced the speaker of the evening, John Wilkinson, Washington, D. C., who gave a talk on astronomy.

Following Mr. Wilkinson's talk there was a reception in the home economics room.

CG Rescues Boat Run Aground

The Plaxco, a 250-ton, 115-foot menhaden boat operating out of Southport, was towed off a shoal in Beaufort channel and proceeded to its destination under its own steam Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 after going aground at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter Agassiz performed the operation, assisted by a power boat from Fort Macon Coast Guard station and the Bonner C. Willis, a Beaufort menhaden boat.

A Mr. Gough is master of the pogie boat, which went aground on the east side of Beaufort channel near nun buoy No. 2 while proceeding out of the harbor.

Lt. (jg.) W. H. Burgess, commanding officer of the USCGC Agassiz, attributed the mishap to the vessel. A strong current evidently set the vessel to the left of the channel grounding it.

NLRB Hearing on Alleged Anti-Labor Moves at Madix Will End Today

Final testimony in the National Labor Relations Board hearing, an investigation of alleged violations by Madix Asphalt corporation of federal labor laws, will probably be heard today, according to attorneys for the respondent.

The American Federation of Labor, in its complaint, alleges that four Madix workers were discharged for union activity, that management interfered with the rights of the men to organize, that they threatened to shut down the plant if organization was affected, that they caused certain employees to leave the company, and that the Madix corporation contributed, fostered and dominates Carteret Roofing and Felt Employees' association.

On the basis of these charges, which Madix denies, NLRB is making the present investigation. General counsel for NLRB concluded its presentation of evidence Wednesday afternoon following testimony by C. C. Brewen, president of the Madix corporation.

During the time Mr. Brewen was on the stand, both on Wednesday and yesterday, when he was called by the attorney for the Carteret Roofing and Felt Employees' association, the witness said that he was unaware of any union activity, AFL or otherwise, at his plant until July 29 when four of the Madix employees were dismissed.

Then he said he did not learn that Ed Parker, Madix superintendent, had allegedly made the statement to one of these workmen that the worker was being fired for trying to organize labor.

"Actually," Mr. Brewen continued, "I didn't know that he had made such a statement until the time of this hearing." Mr. Brewen has been present at each session of the hearing since its beginning Oct. 6.

Feuding Women Land In Court

Evangeline Debrix Gets Suspended Six-Month Sentence, Pays Fine

A longstanding feud between two Negro women in Beaufort was aired for the second time in recorder's court Tuesday as Judge Lambert Morris heard the case of Evangeline Debrix charged with an assault with firearms on Alberta Fair.

Evangeline Debrix was sentenced to six months in the state house of corrections for threatening Alberta Fair with a flare pistol, with judgment suspended on good behavior and payment of $10 and costs. The defendant was found guilty in a previous case of assault with a knife on the plaintiff.

Testimony revealed that Alberta Fair was dancing with Martrose Debrix, her uncle and the husband of the defendant, and that Evangeline Debrix was having a beer with Alberta Fair's boy friend at the time that their quarrel began at Club 65 on Craven st., Beaufort, Pick Concealed.

The quarrel was continued outside. Evangeline Debrix testified that Alberta Fair produced an ice pick from her bosom and that she picked up a pop bottle to defend herself.

Alberta Fair had nothing to say about an ice pick or a pop bottle but declared that when they got outside of the building, she saw that the other woman had a flare pistol wrapped in a handkerchief.

She swore that Evangeline Debrix pointed the gun at her, threatened her life, and ran her for some distance. The testimony of other witnesses in the case failed to support or disprove her claim that the defendant had possession of a gun and threatened her with it. Evangeline Debrix denied the charges.

The recorder found her guilty of the assault charge, however, and passed sentence.

Martrose Debrix wanted Beaufort police have a warrant for the arrest of Martrose Debrix, the defendant's husband, in connection with the flare pistol wounding of two other Negroes at

Smyrna Seniors Elect Officers

The senior class of Smyrna chose the following officers recently: president, Marguerite Lewis; vice-president, Catherine Lewis; secretary, Ora Dean Midgett; treasurer, Joyce M. Lewis; reporter, Ion Love Lewis.

During our meeting we discussed the possibilities of publishing a year book, which will be the third edition of the "Whispering Pines." It is the desire of each and every student, so we have already started planning just how we will make money to carry out our plans.

There was no further business so the meeting was adjourned.

This year we are really proud of our school. Why shouldn't we be? We have some of the things that we've been wanting and have needed for years. We have the new heating system, toilet facilities and a school lunchroom which furnishes well-balanced meals. This has been made possible thru the help of our parents and friends. The students of Smyrna appreciate all that has been done and we wish to thank every one who has helped us.

Ora Dean Midgett, Secretary.

Signal Light in Beaufort Moved to Ann and Moore

The signal light which for the past month has been at Ann and Turner street was moved yesterday to Ann and Moore streets, where it was to be hung originally.

A petition signed by the residents on Ann and Moore streets in the vicinity of the intersection was presented to Beaufort commissioners at their October meeting, requesting that a stop light be placed at their corner to prevent motorists from speeding off the bridge into town, endangering lives of their children and other pedestrians.
