Miss Carolyn A. Ballou Is Wed To Donald L. Harrison Friday

Miss Carolyn Arden Ballou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carroll Ballou, of Morehead City, became the bride of Mr. Donald Lee Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter H. Harrison, of Rockmart, Georgia, in the Franklin Memorial Methodist Church on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Reverend W. D. Caviness officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Vows were spoken before an altar of white which was banked in southern smilax and pine while glowing white tapers in four and five branch candelabra with candles in the windows threw a soft light throughout the church. Floor baskets of white gladioli were also used for decorations. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. William Lewis, organist, played "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Melody of Love," and Mrs. Josiah Bailey, soloist, sang, "Through the Years," "One Alone" and a "Dedication" prayer. During the ceremony "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" was softly played. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin which featured a yoke of imported illusion outlined in a scalloped satin bertha, a fitted bodice shirred at the waistline and fitted sleeves which ended in calla points over the hands. The full skirt of her gown was fashioned with a bertha and ended in a circular train and her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations fastened with satin streamers and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Jane Ballou, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a lime velvet gown with illusion neckline, shirred bertha and three-quarter length sleeves. Her headress was rosebuds of matching velvet and she carried a bouquet of gladioli and carnations tied with coral satin ribbon. Miss Geneva Bruton and Mrs. Roma Styron were bridesmaids. They wore coral velvet gowns fashioned along lines identical to those of the maid of honor's gown and headress of coral velvet. Their bouquets, also identical, were fastened with lime ribbon. Miss Deanna Ballou, sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid. She was gowned in coral velvet and carried a bouquet identical to these of the other attendants. The bridegroom chose his twin brother, David E. Harrison as best man. Ushers were D. B. Willis, Roma Styron, Warren Grant and Salvatore J. Palazzo. Honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. Warren Grant, Misses Janice Lewis, and Marion Lewis, Mrs. Coleen Andre, Mrs. Don Brewer, Mrs. Will Lawrence and Mrs. David Harrison. The bride's mother wore a dress of black crepe with a corsage of red roses. Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home on Bay Street. The home was decorated throughout with smilax and baskets of gladioli. Refreshments were served from a lace covered table with the wedding cake as a centerpiece flanked by three branch candelabra. After the first slice of cake had been cut by the bridal couple Mrs. Iona Ballou served it while Mrs. Warren Grant served punch. For traveling the bride changed to a green gabardine suit with black accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of carnations lifted from her wedding bouquet. After a wedding trip to Atlanta, Ga., the couple will be at home at the Dunn apartments on Arendell Street.

Mrs. Harrison is a graduate of the Morehead City High School and at the time of her marriage was employed by the local theaters.

Mr. Harrison attended Rockmart High School and served two years with the United States Marine Corps. He is employed by Mr. H. H. Sampson at the present time.

On Thursday evening following the rehearsal Mrs. Darcy Willis, grandmother of the bride, entertained at an informal cava cava party for the wedding party at her home on Bridges Street.

Out of town guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mason, of Atlantic and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Taylor, of Sea Level.

Bodies of British Soldiers To Lie In Southeast Asia

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Corners of Southeast Asia will remain "forever England." In them memorial cemeteries are being constructed for British servicemen. Unlike the Americans, who have returned home the bodies of some 30,000 war dead since last October, the British decided to leave their dead in the areas where they fell.

Initial work is accomplished by teams who locate and identify bodies in the isolated tropical jungles of Malaya, Burma, Indo-China and the East Indies. Lt. Colonel L. S. Harrop plans and coordinates efforts to locate the estimated 10,000 men still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia. Recovery of approximately 6,000 bodies to date includes Malays, Chinese and Indians who fought with British soldiers in Singapore and the Federation of Malaya.

Once bodies are gathered together in the military cemetery, Graves Registration hands over its job to "Imperial War Graves" which converts the cemetery into a permanent memorial.

The American species of reindeer are called caribou.
