Floyd May, Marine, Arrested on Charge of Assault, Attempt to Rape

Purvis Bryant, colored, near Newport, was arrested at 2 a. m. yesterday morning at his home, charged with rape on a colored girl.

The victim of the attack, which was made March 15, was Thelma Tootle, according to Constable Charles Krouse who made the arrest.

The warrant for Bryant's arrest was sworn out Sunday night at 10:30 p. m. This delay occurred, the constable stated, because the Tootle girl told an aunt of the attack but asked her not to say anything about it. However, desire for legal action finally caused revelation of the incident, the of ficer explained.
