Chamber Manager Walker Returns in Sackcloth and Ashes

Beaufort's Chamber of Commerce manager, Dan Walker, arrived in Beaufort Sunday minus most of a night's sleep, the price of a week's stay in Chapel Hill, and, most important, a carload of clothing and personal belongings that was stolen Saturday night in New Bern.

Mr. Walker's story runs like this: Saturday night he left Raleigh at midnight following a week's study at the Southeastern Institute, a training course for Chamber of Commerce executives, in Chapel Hill. As he approached New Bern about 3 o'clock in the morning, he became so sleepy that his automobile ran off the highway several times.

In desperation, Mr. Walker decided to spend the night in New Bern rather than proceed to Beaufort under the risk of wrecking his car. All the hotels were filled so he obtained a room in a rooming house and hit the hay.

Bright and early Sunday morning, 7:30 to be exact, he checked out of the rooming house enroute to his car and Beaufort. When he reached his car, which had been

Double-Headed Tobacco Plant Grown Near Newport

A once-in-a-million freak of nature was on display in County Agent R. M. Williams' office yesterday. The freak (Mr. Williams said he had never before seen another one), was a tobacco stalk with two perfectly normal heads, or tops, growing from it. The county agent said the phenomena occurred about as often as two heads on a human being.

The two-headed stalk was discovered on the farm of Carlyle Garner, four miles west of Newport on the Nine-Mile road, when Mr. Garner was tending his plants. Mr. Garner made a special trip to town to show off his Barnum-like acquisition.

Teen-Age Club To Sponsor Summer Visitors' Party

Dance, Special Program Will Begin Saturday Night At 7:30

The first annual summer visitor's party and dance will be held at the recreation center, Morehead City, Saturday night, July 2.

The dance will be sponsored by the Carteret County Teen-Age club and will feature special music, a jitterbug contest, door prizes, a cakewalk, contests and entertainment of all sorts.

Mrs. Harold Sampson, director of the center, and advisor to the Teen-Age club, reminded summer residents and teen-age visitors to the coast that the recreation center is located in the former $60,000 USO building and is supported and maintained for and by the Teen-Age club.

Campers at Camp Morehead have been invited to Saturday night's party, as well as students at Duke Marine summer school and Morehead City Technical Institute. The party will begin at 7:30 and continue until 11.

Admission will be 25 cents per person.

Rotarians to Hear Thomas H. Carrow

Thomas H. Carrow, author of "Memories of Beaufort," which ran in serial form in THE NEWS-TIMES and frequent contributor to THE NEWS-TIMES, will speak at the meeting of Beaufort Rotarians Tuesday, July 12.

Mr. Carrow, whose home is in Philadelphia, will be paying his annual visit to Beaufort, his home town, at that time.

Instead of meeting tonight at the Inlet inn, Rotarians will attend the area regional conference in Beaufort school auditorium.

At next Tuesday night's program, Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, rotary president for 1949-50, will outline his program for the year.

An organizational meeting for the Jumping Run Golf club will be held at 7:30 Thursday night in the civic center, Morehead City. Complete plans for the club will be presented at that time.

Constable Charlie Krouse Captures Escpee From Raleigh State Prison Sunday Night

Coast Guard to Observe Celebration Here

An escaped convict who has been at large for over two years was apprehended Sunday night on the Beaufort-Morehead City causeway by Constable Charlie Krouse, Morehead City.

The convict, Berlyn Jernigan of Raleigh, escaped from State prison in Raleigh over two years ago. At that time he was serving a one-year term for conviction on a whiskey charge in connection with a restaurant he operated.

Constable Krouse said he received a tip Sunday that Jernigan was in this area. Sunday night he went to Bunch's fishing camp on the causeway and recognized Jernigan from a description he had.

Jernigan was asked to go into town to talk to the constable. When he got into Constable Krouse's car he immediately stated, "I'm the man you're looking for. I'm wanted for escaping prison."

The prisoner was then taken to the county jail in Beaufort where he remained until state prison officials took him back to Raleigh Monday morning.

Constable Krouse said that Mr. and Mrs. Burch, operators of the fishing camp, admitting knowing Jernigan's true identity but said they were afraid to turn him over to police for fear of violence from the escapee.

Stat highway patrolman and other state law enforcement officers are reported to have searched for Jernigan in this area before but with no lead as to his whereabouts until the Sunday night arrest. He was in hiding in Norfolk, Tampa, Fla., and Wilmington before coming here.

Children Continue To Show Interest In Play Program

Response to Beaufort's summer recreation program has been exceptionally good thus far. Recreation Director Raz Autry reported today, with indications of an even larger turnout soon when all vacation Bible schools end.

Mr. Autry stated that boys who take part are interested mostly in baseball and swimming and the girls in swimming, baseball, and social dancing. A baseball team has been formed and games are being arranged with various surrounding communities and organizations.

The baseball team will play a team from Davis's Shore today at 2 o'clock in Beaufort ball park; a New Bern recreation team tomorrow at 2 in Beaufort and one with the Camp Morehead team Thursday at 2. The public is invited free of charge to all games.

The recreation schedule for each week follows: Swimming at Piver's Island every morning of the week, Monday through Saturday, from 9 to 11 o'clock, tide permitting.

Afternoons: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday: 1:30, girls' volleyball; 2:30, girls' softball; 3:30, smaller boys' (8-12) softball and volleyball; 4:30 to 5:30, large boys, baseball practice.

Tuesday and Thursday: 1:30, girls' tennis; 2:30, boys' tennis; 3:30, smaller boys' baseball and girls' softball; 4:30 to 5:30, baseball.

Tuesday and Thursday nights: Social dancing lessons from 7 to 9 p.m.

On days when the weather is too damp to play outside, basketball practice is held all day inside the school gymnasium. All activities, except for swimming, take place on the grounds surrounding the school or inside the gymnasium.

Morehead City Scouts Return from Camp Charles

Seventeen Morehead City boy scouts returned Sunday from a week's camping trip to Camp Charles, near Wilson. Transportation to and from the camp was provided by Clyde Jones, Morehead City.

Scouts who went to Camp Charles were Jerry Willis, Robert Willis, Hugh Mason, Robert Garner, Gordon Willis, Charles Canfield, Billy Loughton, Alvin Wade, Earl Freeman, Jerry Connor, Bill Marshall, J. L. Seamon, Jr., Terrell Smith, Ebby Gates, Joe Dixon, Hilliard Eure, and Thomas H. Willis.

To Speak Tonight

William J. Bird, national affairs director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who will be the principal speaker at the area conference on national affairs for residents of Beaufort, Morehead City, and New Bern to be held in Beaufort school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

Assistant Farm Agent to Assume Duties Friday

Al Worth Stinson, 1949 State College Graduate Has Notable Record

Al Worth Stinson, 1949 State college graduate in animal industry, will report for work assistant county agent Friday, County Agent R. M. Williams announced today.

Mr. Williams stated that the new assistant agent's record through high school and college speaks for his ability to fulfill capably the assistant agent's position.

Mr. Stinson was raised on a farm in Union county and has had considerable agricultural experience. He is a purebred breeder of Hampshire swine and was a member of the Future Farmers of America while in high school. At college he worked with the dairy research unit of the State college experiment station for two summers.

While a student at State, Mr. Stinson was a member of the Ag Club and the Animal Industry Club. He was also vice president of the Westminster Fellowship, president of the college YMCA, member of the publications board, and editor of the North Carolina State College handbook. He was graduated from Indian Trail high school in Union county, and has also been a summer school student at the University of Chicago.

Though only 23 years of age, the new assistant agent is an elder in the Presbyterian church. The county agent reported that the major part of the assistant agent's time will be spent on 4-H. See FARM AGENT Page Three

Garbage Truck Due Next Month

Morehead City Also Purchases Metal Receptacles for Downtown Trash

Morehead City residents who have complained of the city's slowness in picking up garbage and trash soon will have little reason for complaint, Mayor George W. Dill, Jr., said today. The mayor added that the delivery of a new-type garbage truck next month should do a great deal to relieve the collection bottleneck.

The new truck was purchased last month for $5,450 delivered in Morehead City. Its garbage unit is of the load packer type made by the Garwood company and will be mounted on GMC truck which will be furnished by Mobley Buick company, the lowest bidder on the contract for supplying the complete unit of truck and load packer.

Mayor Dill said that in a demonstration, the new truck did in one day the work that two other trucks had done in two days. He explained that the city intended to sell one of its two present dump body trucks and retain the other with its crew to pick up large limbs and brush that the load packer could not hold and to do a daily job of sweeping sand and trash from gutters.

In addition to the new truck, the city has recently purchased 12 sidewalk trash receptacles which have been placed on the streets in downtown Morehead City. It is hoped that citizens and visitors will use the receptacles instead of the sidewalk as trash containers, the mayor concluded.

Anthony Dudley Pays Fine, Costs

The results of a quick follow-up by Morehead City police on an order from town commissioners to see that the town's anti-noise ordinance was enforced was seen in yesterday's session of Morehead City mayor's court.

Anthony Dudley, Negro, operator of a Morehead City nightspot on Fisher street, appeared in court on three warrants of violating the city ordinance that forbids objectionable noise from a radio, juke box, or other noise maker from 11 o'clock at night until 7 o'clock in the morning.

A complaint was filed by Frank Bryan, Negro, with the commissioners at their meeting a week ago charging Dudley with violating the ordinance.

Police Officer Carl Blomberg, who filed the warrants, testified that Dudley was given a warning before the first warrant was issued Wednesday night. Nevertheless, he said, two more warrants were issued Friday and Saturday night when he continued to violate the ordinance.

Officer Blomberg stated that Dudley told him that since he was going to be tried for violating the ordinance, he might as well continue to violate it until the matter was settled in court. The defendant corroborated the officer's statement.

Defense Attorney Harvey Hamilton, Jr., said that his client would promise to move the location of his juke box so that it would not disturb any residents of the surrounding neighborhood. He said the officer's testimony showed that noise from the juke box could not be heard more than 50 feet away from Dudley's place.

The Honorable Cap'n John

Although there has been no official announcement from Raleigh, it has been learned through authoritative sources here that Capt. John Nelson, of Gloucester, pictured above, who is state fisheries commissioner, will complete his term of office which runs until 1951. It was generally believed that Captain John would be asked to resign in order that an appointee of Gov. W. Kerr Scott could take the position. Captain John, in years of service to the state in high office, has a unique record.

Taylor's Creek Water Found To Contain Typhoid Germs

Water samples from Taylor's creek, Beaufort, have been found to contain colon bacillus which means that the water is a potential source for typhoid fever, Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, health officer, announced following a conference with the county sanitarian, A. D. Fulford, and town officials yesterday morning.

Dr. Ennett stated that Mayor Lawrence Hassell and Wiley Taylor, Jr., sanitation commissioner, agreed that signs should be placed along Beaufort bathing beaches warning swimmers of the danger.

The health officer advised all persons who have been bathing there within the past three weeks and who expect to bath there this summer should be vaccinated against typhoid fever.

Samples of water were taken from the creek at various tides last week and sent to the state laboratory, Raleigh.

Children participating in the summer recreation program swim under the director's supervision at Piver's Island where sewage from Beaufort is not dumped directly into the water as it is in Taylor's creek.

Samples taken of water there have been found to be free of colon bacillus.

After a conference with Mayor George W. Dill, Morehead City, it was decided that water along Morehead City beaches should be tested also.

Meteor Crater just west of Winslow, Ariz., is big enough to provide playing space for 20 football games at one time, while 2,000,000 watch from the sloping sides.

B. Mace Assists in Production Of Movie 'Lost Boundaries'

Golf Chairman Speaks to Rotary

A detailed talk on the proposed golf course for Morehead City and Carteret county was delivered to Morehead City Rotarians at their meeting Thursday night at the Carteret Recreation Center.

Dr. John Morris, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce golf course committee, was the speaker. He began by giving the background of work toward obtaining the course.

"For several years," the speaker said, "a good many of our summer visitors have lamented the lack of a golf course in this area and have expressed the desire to see one located here. Consequently, last year the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce began work to see if such a course was feasible."

Dr. Morris went on to say that this spring a committee was formed under Chamber auspices to investigate angles concerned with establishing a golf course and also to look into the availability of desirable property.

Since the committee went to work, he said, an option has been obtained on approximately 140 acres of the Lou Grove property located between highway 24 and Bogue Sound seven miles west of Morehead City. Committee members and others who have seen the property say that it is the most desirable section of land in the county for a course.

Three golf course designers have been contacted and one of the three has already submitted plans. All three declared that they had never seen any spot with
