

Windell Releases Names of New Faculty Members

Five new teachers have signed contracts to teach in the Morehead City graded school when it opens Sept. 1, and it is hoped that a sixth will be placed under contract within the next few days, according to an announcement from G. T. Windell, principal of the Morehead City school.

Two of the new teachers will instruct in the high school. Mr. Jessie Stacion, of Morehead City, will teach pure science, while the teaching assignment of Mr. William Kirby Watson has not been determined to date.

New elementary teachers are Mrs. Treasure Thomas Malone, sixth grade, Miss Annie Mae Gibbs, third grade, and Mrs. Evelyn Davis Lewis, of Beaufort, fourth grade. The existing vacancy is in the fifth grade.

Mr. Windell reminded parents that pupils entering school for the first time must be six by October 1, and that parents must bring birth certificates when they enroll their children.

The principal also stressed the importance of parents having their children in school on the opening days of the session.

Persons who plan to enroll in the post-graduate commercial course offered by the Morehead City school, Mr. Windell stated should contact him immediately, as the enrollment in the class is limited.

The complete roster of teachers for grades one through eight is as follows: first grade, Mrs. Lucille Arthur Smith, Mrs. Sara Willis, Mrs. J. I. Mason; second grade, Mrs. G. T. Windell, Mrs. John H. Bunn; third grade, Mrs. Sam Holloway, Miss Annie Mae Gibbs; fourth grade, Miss Edith Lewis, Mrs. Evelyn Lewis; fifth grade, Miss Betty Harker, and one vacancy; fourth-fifth combination, Mrs. Bessie Wade; sixth grade, Miss Flora Davis, Mrs. Treasure Taylor; seventh grade, Miss Charlotte Guthrie, Mrs. Robert Taylor; eighth grade, Mrs. John Nelson and Mrs. Alice Williams, and public school music and band, Mr. Ralph Wade.

The complete high school faculty is as follows: Miss Pearl Brinson, English; Mr. Gannon Talbert, mathematics, physical education, and coach; Mrs. Helen A. Bailey, French and mathematics; Mrs. John Phillips, social science and Latin; Mr. Jessie Stacion, pure science; Mr. D. Cordova, industrial science; Mrs. D. Cordova, home economics; Mrs. Gladys Lollis, trial arts; Miss Helen Martin, library and mathematics; and Mr. William Kirby Watson.

Morehead City's first Load-Packer garbage truck, pride of GMC's functional vehicular products, went into operation almost a week ago and since then has showed it can do in one day what it took two of Morehead's antiquated open-dump trucks almost five days to do. Besides that, the Load-Packer utilizes three men per day as against six men per day for the obsolete open-dump trucks.

And while you are figuring that one, cast your eyes above and watch H. Earle Mobley, president of Mobley Buick Co., present the keys of the spanking new "Keep Our City Clean" Load-Packer to D. G. Bell, city commissioner, and to W. L. Derrickson, Mayor Pro Tem.

And while you are pondering over the virtues of left to right, D. G. Bell, W. L. Derrickson and Earle Mobley, gulp in the accomplished fact that, today, Morehead City received a heavy duty road motor grader from North Carolina Equipment Co. This monstrous apparatus will be used to put Morehead's secondary streets into A-1 condition.

Just because the Load-Packer is now on the job, Morehead City has not dispensed with the services of any of its six street department employees. Three will work on one of the open-dump trucks which has already been assigned to clean streets, remove broken tree branches, and other debris too cumbersome to fit into the Load-Packer.

Bryant Swindell is boss of both the Load-Packer and the dump truck assigned to the garbage division. J. V. "Hootie" Waters will be boss of the road motor grader as well as the remaining open-dump truck.

Durham Man Wins Miss N. C. Photo Contest Prize

Charles H. Cooper, photographer for the Herald-Sun papers, Durham, reaped most of the benefits from the Miss North Carolina photography contest winning $125 out of the $200 prize money, it was announced today.

Cooper won the first prize of $100 and also captured one of the two honorable mention prizes of $25. Second place and a $50 prize went to Hugh Morton of Wilmington and the other honorable mention to C. W. Martin of Greensboro.

Wednesday night Robert G. Lowe, general manager of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce, and Walter Morris, chairman of the recently-held Miss North Carolina pageant, journeyed to Rocky Mount to present the pictures in the contest to Nancy Yelverton, Miss North Carolina of 1949, for her judging.

Contest rules stated that the pictures must have been published in a North Carolina newspaper, and that Miss North Carolina was to be the only judge.

After a long period of scrutiny and much hesitation "because they're all so good," Miss Yelverton decided on the picture by Cooper as winner. The winning photograph shows the beauty queen perched on the singing sands of Atlantic Beach with her crown brightly gleaming from her head and with the "Miss North Carolina" sash clearly visible.

State JOUAM Will Hold Meeting Here

The state convention of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, will be held in Morehead City August 22-24, the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce announced today.

Convention headquarters will be at the Ocean King Hotel, where many of the group's activities will take place. State and national officers will be present as will North Carolina council delegates, committees, and trustees of the children's home at Lexington.

L. T. McColl of South Carolina, national organizer and field man, will be working in this vicinity for the next 10 days securing members for a class to be taught the lessons of Virtue, Liberty, and Patriotism, Monday night, August 22.

The August 22 meeting will be a supper meeting with either Benson or Raleigh council officers assisting in the work. M. D. Collins, Atlanta, Georgia State Superintendent of Public Instruction and James L. Wilmeth, National Secretary from Philadelphia, will also attend the meeting.

The local councils of Harker's Island, Beaufort and Morehead City are hosts to the convention and the following members are on committees to assist in making the convention one of the most successful in the history of the order.

Morehead City Lodge No. 252: Alvah L. Hamilton, chairman, W. C. Matthews, Dave W. Freshwater and M. T. Mills. Beaufort Lodge No. 248: C. Chappell, chairman, William L. Hatsell, Clarence Guthrie and J. H. Neal. Brotherhood Council No. 338, Harker's Island: M. L. Yeomans, Chairman, Telford Willis and Irvin Willis.

Distinguished guests will include Gurney P. Hood, State Banking Commissioner from Raleigh and state treasurer of the J. O. U. A. M.; W. C. Purcell, state controller, Durham; Forrest G. Shearin, state secretary, Scotland Neck; W. E. Crissman, past state controller, High Point; and A. Z. Goforth, state vice-controller, Statesville. North Carolina's Secretary of State Thad Eure will also make an address during the meeting.

Beer Thief Gets Suspended Term

Two years on the roads was the sentence handed out to Elton Smith in Recorder's Court in Beaufort Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to larceny of three fishing reels valued at $30.

Sentence was suspended by Judge Lambert Morris on condition that Smith remain sober and on good behavior for five years, and pay a $25 fine and costs. The defendant also pleaded guilty to larceny of five cases of beer worth $30 and paid the costs in that case.

Witnesses testified that Smith stole the reels from Randolph Willis, Jr.'s sporting goods shop in Morehead City and sold them to a resident of the Beaufort-Morehead City causeway for $8. The resident reported his purchase to the police, who traced the theft to Smith.

Testimony was also presented that Smith stole the beer from a downtown Morehead City pool-room and carried it to nearby filling station. When he reached the station he called a cab to haul his booty away. Upon the cab's arrival, he requested the filling station attendant to help him put the beer in the cab. The attendant became suspicious and called the police, who arrested Smith.

M. L. Kilpatrick, charged with being drunk and disorderly, resisting arrest, assaulting an officer, and indecent exposure, failed to appear in court and his bond was forfeited.

A verdict of malicious prosecution was delivered in the case of Elijah Springle, charged with assaulting his wife with a deadly weapon, and the prosecuting witness was taxed with the costs.

The charge of driving drunk against Charles W. Roberts was amended to reckless driving. The defendant pleaded guilty to the amended charge and paid the costs and $100. Jesse Lee Cate pleaded guilty to drunken driving and paid the same penalty.

Robert Willis and George Newkirk pleaded guilty to the possession of a quantity of non-tax-paid whiskey and paid the costs and $10 each.

Dyer Jones pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly and paid the costs and $25, and William A. Robinson and Raymond J. Collera pleaded guilty to public drunkenness and paid the costs.

A verdict of guilty was reached in the case of Thomas L. Bucci, charged with speeding and he paid the costs and $10, as did Melvin J. McElwaine who was found guilty of the same charge. Andrew E. Benjack pleaded guilty to speeding and paid the costs.

John T. Wilson pleaded guilty to reckless and careless driving. He paid the costs and $10. Both Lloyd W. Davis and Purvis L. Bryant Jr. pleaded guilty to driving with improper brakes and paid the costs. Walter A. Calhoun pleaded guilty to operating a

Driver Escapes Unhurt As Car Is Destroyed by Fire

An automobile driven by Robert E. Shepherd of Havelock plunged down an embankment into Slocombs Creek along Highway 70 Tuesday night and was completely destroyed by fire.

Shepherd escaped from the burning vehicle unharmed and went to get help.

When he returned and hour and a half later he found Cherry Point firemen searching frantically for him in the belief that he had perhaps been burned to death.

Wickizer To Be Installed As Lions Club President

Lions zone chairman Victor Wickizer of Morehead City will be installed in impressive ceremonies at the Lions meeting tonight at 7 o'clock. Deputy district governor Sid Gordon will be present to make the installation and to address the Lions. In addition, Lions will hold their regular meeting and discuss plans for a Ladies night.

Jaycees Hear Report on C. G. Celebration

Morehead City Jaycees were told Monday night that the 159th Coast Guard anniversary celebration held here last week was a complete success. Bob Lowe reported on the celebration at the meeting in the Fort Macon Hotel dining room.

Lowe stated that the celebration "will prove highly profitable to this community in the long run. That is all that I can say at the present time but as time passes the import of what I have said will be apparent."

H. S. Gibbs, Jr., reported that the petitions being circulated requesting that one side parking be required on Evans Street were meeting with favorable public opinion thus far. He said that slightly less than half of the residents on the street had been contacted and most of them were in favor of the scheme, with some protesting it.

Several Jaycees indicated their intention of attending the state meeting in High Point August 20 and 21. It was suggested that the local club assist in the expenses of those attending in order that more could be present to talk up Morehead City's gaining the Miss North Carolina franchise again next year.

The board of directors was empowered to set up a budget to send delegates to the various Jaycee quarterly board meetings.

As a follow-up on the Miss North Carolina pageant, it was disclosed that a scrapbook containing photographs of Nancy Yelverton, Miss North Carolina of 1949, had been compiled and would be sent at one time or another to all the Jaycee clubs in the state. It is hoped that the scrapbook will stimulate interest in the contest, and perhaps attract other contestants for next year.

Law Enforcement Officers Convene at Atlantic Beach

Story Hour Series Attains Success

The greatest success achieved in three summers of work was attained in this summer's series of Story Hours at the Webb Memorial Civic Center in Morehead City, Mrs. E. A. Council, librarian, reported today.

A Story Hour was held each of the five Friday mornings in July at 10 a.m. with Mrs. Council in charge and assisted by members of the Library committee. The final program, held two weeks ago today, was climaxed with games and a special party for the children.

Children taking part in the programs were: Frank Sanderson, Susan, Beck, Emmy Lou Chalk, Dottie Chalk, Emmy Brinson, Ann Sanderson, Arnold Sanderson, Robert Dennis, Catherine Chalk, Skinner Chalk, III, Lloyd Coleburn, Drew Coleburn, Bonny Willis, Ted Garner, Joe Bailey, Jr., and Ruth Bailey.

Also Francis Willis, Kate Willis, Fancella Cooper, Garth Cooper, Annette Cooper, Clyde Jones, Roma Wade, Dan Wade, Dave Webb Nelson, Tommy Webb, Winfield Webb, III, Connie Jorgensen, Phyllis Smith, Norman Canfield, Barbara Willis, Bobby McCracken, Bernard Leary, Jr.

Beaufort Jaycees Discuss Minstrel

Badges and pistols were in order yesterday when almost 200 North Carolina law enforcement officers got into the real business of the annual convention of the North Carolina Police Executives association.

Registration for the convention was held Wednesday afternoon with 190 names being recorded. Following registration, the officers and their families were taken on a water tour of local points of interest.

Yesterday morning the group really got down to business, with sessions informing them of all the latest police techniques being held every half hour throughout the day. They were also guests at a luncheon given jointly by the Morehead City and Beaufort police departments.

Last night Judge Luther Hamilton addressed the group at their annual banquet. His speech was preceded by the installation of officers who were elected late yesterday afternoon.

During the afternoon some of the officers traveled to the pistol range for practice firing. This morning, firing for the record will be held at 10 o'clock with prizes and trophies being awarded to the winners in each classification.

Beaufort Rotary Hears Raz Autry

"One thing Beaufort children have learned this summer and learned well is the importance of teamwork," Raz Autry, director of Beaufort's summer recreation program, told Beaufort Rotarians at their Tuesday night meeting in the Inlet Inn.

Mr. Autry reported on the accomplishments of the summer program which is drawing to a close this week. The program has been sponsored by the Rotary club and Rotarians expressed supreme satisfaction with its results. Thanks were extended to the recreation director for his fine work.

Dr. Thomas Ennett, Rotary president, stated that the membership campaign was proceeding most satisfactorily. He said new names would be announced as soon as the Rotary International regulations for accepting new members could be complied with.

Several committee appointments were announced. David Jones and John Steed were appointed to the Club Service committee; Numa Eure and Halsey Paul to the Community Service committee; and Dr. W. L. Woodard and Ben Copeland to the Classification Committee.

Rev. W. L. Stewart was appointed sergeant-at-arms and he appointed B. J. May his assistant.

Beaufort Recreation Program Draws Favorable Comments

Beaufort's recreation program draws to a successful conclusion today with parents, children and onlookers agreeing that the program has been one of the most worthwhile undertakings tried in Beaufort in recent years.

Below you will find a cross section of comments by prominent Beaufort citizens and following there are the results of yesterday morning's girl's field day.

Gehrman Holland, Sheriff, parent.

I think it was a fine thing and an afraid a great many parents don't realize what was done for the youth of the county.

B. J. May, president of Rotary, and under whose presidency the program was inaugurated.

I think it was one of the nicest things Beaufort has ever had for young people. I am heartily in favor of directed activities for young people and think such things help them immensely.

T. R. Jenkins-Minister, Retarian, parent.

I think it was very nice. Glad we had it and hope we can repeat it next year. Raz Autry is a fine boy and did a good job with the children.

President of P. T. A. Parent, Mrs. Ralph Eudy.

It has been a fine thing for the children and something the P. T. A. should encourage next year. We've been fortunate in having Raz Autry. It has been an outstanding program for boys and girls and has kept them interested for the summer.

Jean Chappell - President Junior Women's Club.

I think it's the best thing for the children that ever happened. It is one of the most progressive things the town has ever done, and all the civic organizations can be proud of themselves for backing such a wonderful program.

Mr. George Brooks-parent.

I think it was grand and very good for the children. It gave them a place to go, provided entertainment and kept them out of mischief.

Dr. Moore - parent, member of the Board of Education.

I think it was fine for the children and the town.

Dr. W. L. Woodard-Rotarian-parent.

I think it is a good thing. It's worth its value to the town and the children. It should be expanded next year so the children will get more of what they like and it may reach more children.

Miss Lena Duncan-President of Book Club and member of Beaufort High School faculty.

It was most helpful to the children. They all have enjoyed it and they have had supervised play under favorable conditions; and the mothers have thoroughly appreciated it.

Dan Walker-Secretary of Chamber of Commerce.

The Beaufort Recreation Program ran true to form in that it took the combined efforts of several organizations and many individuals to make it the success it has been. To R. M. Williams, chairman of the committee and his associates Rev. T. R. Jenkins and the Rev. W. L. Martin, and the program director, Raz Autry See RECREATION Page Three

Sailing Club Instruction Program Pays Dividends

An old sailing investment paid dividends this week in Morehead City.

About 15 years ago D. G. Bell and Gib Arthur, both of Morehead City, decided that if local and out-of-town youngsters were ever going to learn sailing it would be up to them to teach them.

Accordingly, they formed a junior sailing branch of the Morehead City Boating Club. The chief aim of the junior arm was to train youngsters in the proper use of most small sailboats.

Tuesday's News-Times carried a brief announcement stating: "Beginning this afternoon, the Morehead City Sailing Club will offer elementary sailing instruction to interested youngsters. Instructors and pupils will assemble at 2:30 at the club dock at the end of Eighth street."

Tuesday afternoon found a mob of children 10 years old and up thronged at the sailing club dock. After a preliminary weeding out, 11 pupils and five instructors were left. All five instructors were from out-of-town, and all five were products of the program, begun 15 years ago, to teach youngsters how to sail.

After seeing the group, Commodore Bell of the Morehead City Sailing Club stated that a long term investment had finally paid off, in returns outweighing dollars and cents.

The five instructors were Don Robinson, Booker Cunningham, Toddy Parker, Sandy McClamroch, and Phil Moore. Two or three of the pupils were assigned to each of the five boats at the dock, and they were off with the breeze.

The fleet cruised up and down the sound for an hour and a half, with the instructors demonstrating the fundamentals of sailing and naming the various parts of rigging and equipment. Each of the pupils was given an opportunity to steer and manage his boat.

All present, both teachers and learners, expressed satisfaction with the afternoon. It is planned for the instruction to be a regular Tuesday afternoon affair with the program continuing through this month and until early September. New students are welcome any Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Odd Fellows Sponsor Dance

The annual Odd Fellow and Rebekah Dance will be given at the Channel Club Saturday evening of this week, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The Harold Wilton and Lily brothers string trio will furnish the music for the occasion.

Mrs. Earl Noe has been in charge of the ticket selling for the Miriam Rebekah Lodge and Leslie Springle has been in charge for Concordia Lodge. Most of the 250 tickets have already been sold and a record crowd is expected to attend this annual dance.
