

UNION LOSES ELECTION AT GARMENT COMPANY

State Public Welfare Commissioner Will Speak Here at 1 P.M. Today

Local Appointees To Meet With Air Base Zoning Board

S. A. Chalk, Morehead City, and Aaron Craig, Newport, will attend a meeting of the Cherry Point Zoning commission at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the public works administration building at the air base.

Mr. Chalk and Mr. Craig were appointed to serve on this commission by Carteret county commissioners at their September meeting. The commission is comprised of two representatives from this county, two representatives from Craven county, and one from the air station.

Purpose of the commission is to zone the area from the base along highway 70 to Newport, a measure designed to prevent the construction of unsightly or undesirable buildings.

The commission was created by an act of the 1949 general assembly following approval by the county boards of Craven and Carteret. According to the bill, these boards will act as boards of adjustment should difficulty arise over the zoning ordinance when it is put into effect.

The meeting this afternoon, called by Commander A. C. Ablanap, the Cherry Point representative on the commission will be the first to be held.

Mr. Chalk is former chairman of the Morehead City hospital board of trustees and prominent businessman. Mr. Craig is mayor of Newport and a former member of the state highway patrol.

Dr. Ellen Winston, state commissioner of public welfare, will speak at a luncheon at 1 o'clock today at the Jefferson restaurant, Morehead City.

Dr. Winston will speak informally on the public welfare program to county officials and others invited to the meeting by the county welfare department.

In addition to the county and welfare boards, the mayors of Beaufort and Morehead City, managers of the two Chambers of Commerce the county auditor, clerk of court, and register of deeds have been invited.

Dr. Winston is a native North Carolinian. She received her doctorate from the University of Chicago and since that time has held various research positions with a number of federal agencies, the National Economics and Planning association, and the Carnegie corporation of New York.

As a result of these activities, she has written extensively in the fields of social and economic problems. She spent four years as head of the department of sociology and economics at Meredith college and came from that position to the office of North Carolina Commissioner of Public Welfare on June 1, 1944.

As state commissioner she serves as a member of the board of directors of the American Public Welfare association, a member of their policy committee, and she has just completed two years of service as chairman of the committee on services to children of the American Public Welfare association.

Dr. Winston is first vice-chairman of the National Commission on Children and Youth and president of the North Carolina Conference for Social Service.

In 1948 she was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of humanities by the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina.

Town Board to Meet
Morehead City commissioners will meet in regular session at 7:30 tonight at the municipal building.

County Officials Make Plans For Rural Sanitation Program

Fishermen Make Record Catches Of Food Fish

The word from commercial fishermen this week is "Too many fish."

Proof of this fact was a report from Clayton Fulcher, Jr., at Atlantic — Lionel Mason, long-hauling last Wednesday, took 300,000 pounds at Harbor Island. The last of them were being packed at Fulcher's fish house only yesterday. Other boats were ordered to tie up for the weekend.

Mr. Fulcher declared it was the biggest catch he can recollect. It was estimated that a million pounds could have been taken. The next biggest haul ever brought in, to Mr. Fulcher's knowledge, was 145,000 pounds.

The U. S. fishing industry faces sharp competition in the markets this fall, the Fish and Wildlife Service says.

The agency's quarterly outlook report says supplies of fish will remain plentiful during the rest of this year although fishing activity in most areas will decline.

"Holdings of frozen fishery products are near record levels for this time of year, and stocks of canned fishery products are in fair to good supply," the report adds.

"In foreign trade, fishery exports from the United States have been small and imports large. The devaluation of foreign currencies may tend to increase this imbalance."

Another factor pointing to sharp competition this winter: "Ample quantities of other foods, particularly meats, on the market."

Basic plans for a county-wide sanitation program were made at a meeting Friday morning attended by R. M. Williams, county agent, Al Stinson, assistant county agent, Mrs. Carrie Gillikin, home agent, A. D. Fulford, sanitarian, and Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, health officer.

The meeting was called by the health officer to further the sanitation program in the county. Work has already been underway for some time in Beaufort and Morehead City.

Purpose of the program is to have rural families, wherever possible, install septic tanks, and where this is not feasible, construct sanitary outside toilets.

Small areas of the county will be covered at a time, the health officer reported, with the sanitarian visiting premises and making recommendations. Community meetings where pictures on sanitation will be shown, are also planned.

The first section to be surveyed will be the area between Beaufort and the Merrimon road.

Where possible, the sanitarian or the health officer, will attend home demonstration club meetings or meetings called by the county agent, to explain the purpose and necessity of the sanitation program.

Five Demonstration Clubs To Meet During This Week
Five home demonstration club meetings will be held during the coming week.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Core Creek-Harlowe club will meet with Mrs. Richard Fodrie. This meeting was postponed from Oct. 6. The Crab Point club will meet at 2:30 Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Batsan and the North River club will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with Mrs. R. P. Gooding. This meeting was postponed from Oct. 13.

Mrs. Lydia Lupton will be hostess at 1 o'clock next Monday afternoon to the Cedar Island club and Mrs. Bennie Gillikin will be hostess at 3 o'clock that afternoon to the Atlantic club.

Mrs. Carrie Gillikin, home agent, will speak on "The Care of Rugs."

Naval Transport Ties Up At Terminal, Tanker Sails

In port now and scheduled to be here approximately one week is the USS Alshain, naval transport.

The tanker, Neco Providence, sailed at 8:30 Sunday morning. She brought to Morehead City bunker fuel oil and asphalt from Aruba.

Radio-Telephone Committeemen Will Meet Oct. 31

Group Will Confer With Officials of Two Telephone Companies

Hope for a marine radio-telephone station for this area moved one step closer to fulfillment today with the announcement that a meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 31, between the radio-telephone committeemen representing Beaufort, Morehead City, and New Bern and representatives of Southern Bell and Carolina Telephone and Telegraph companies.

George Eastman, Beaufort, chairman of the local committee, received yesterday a letter from W. C. Darrow, commercial manager of the CT&T, stating that he had just returned from a meeting in Atlanta with representatives of Southern Bell. He said that a day and a half was spent in discussing ship-to-shore radio service as affects this area and that following the discussion it was agreed that another meeting should be held.

Exploding Stove On Boat Burns Atlantic Youth

Lawrence A. Paul, Atlantic, is recovering today in Morehead City hospital from severe burns he received early last week at Atlantic when the kerosene stove on a boat blew up in his face.

Paul, who was born at Aurora, but was working on the boat Betty E, a shrimp buy boat, attributed cause of the explosion to gas fumes from a tank aboard the boat drifting to the vicinity of the stove. The accident occurred at 7:30 Monday morning, Oct. 10.

His clothes afire, Paul staggered up on deck and jumped overboard, then swam about 30 yards to a skiff where he was pulled out of the water by Guy Mason. He was immediately put in a car and driven by Clayton Fulcher, Jr., and Neal Hill, to Morehead City hospital in 26 minutes. He was alone on the Betty E. at the time of the explosion.

His arms was so severely burned that when Mason reached from the skiff to take him aboard, the skin slithered off. Paul says he can't remember much about the explosion, but at no time did he lose consciousness due to his injuries.

The Betty E. is owned by Clayton Fulcher, Atlantic.

B. J. May Urges Farmers to Apply For Crop Aid

Carteret county farmers were urged today to make immediate application for PMA purchase orders for winter cover crops and permanent pastures if they wish government assistance in conservation practices, PMA officer B. J. May announced.

Mr. May said that unless applications are made within the next few days farmers will be unable to receive purchase orders on the two programs until next spring. He added that no more purchase orders for 2-12-12 fertilizer will be issued until spring unless immediate application is filed.

However, the PMA officer continued, his office will continue to issue purchase orders for lime, drainage ditches, and 0-14-14 fertilizer for top dressing pastures and cover crops. He said the season has almost passed for establishing permanent pastures and seeding winter cover crops, therefore the government is reluctant to assist in the work.

Over 50 per cent of the money allotted to Carteret county for 1950 ACP practices has been obligated already, Mr. May said. He added that the handbook of approved practices for Carteret county for 1950 has been printed and will be mailed to farmers this week.

The county ACP office is busy this week processing applications to be submitted for payment for practices carried out in the 1949 ACP program. Approximately 350 farmers participated in the 1949 program and 122 farmers have requested assistance under the 1950 program.

Hoyle L. Greene Accepts Position At Hospital

Hoyle L. Greene, a native of Alabam, has accepted the position of administrator at Morehead City hospital.

Mr. Greene, who has just completed two year's training as an administrative interne at Charlotte Memorial hospital, came here several weeks ago and was offered the position permanently by the board of trustees of the hospital at their meeting Thursday night.

The new administrator is a graduate of Appalachian State Teachers college where he majored in mathematics and history. He served four years in the Army Air Corps and then undertook hospital administrative training at Charlotte.

Mr. Greene commented that his first impressions of Morehead City are very favorable and as soon as he locates a home, his wife, the former Evelyn Sherill of Mt. Holly will join him here.

Thief Enters Colored Cafe

Another breakin occurred in Beaufort early Sunday morning when a business establishment on Cedar street, owned by Clyde Dese, Negro, was broken into and money, cigarettes, cigars, chewing gum, and other miscellaneous items stolen.

Time of the breakin was placed between 2:30 a.m., the time the cafe closed, and daybreak. The thief entered by prying a back window open and climbing through it.

Police stated that the thief apparently knew his business thoroughly. He neatly opened the money container of the juke box and removed an undisclosed amount of money without doing much damage to the juke box.

In addition to stealing the money he stole cigarettes, cigars, and various other small items.

Police expressed the belief that the thief was the same one who broke into the '65' Club in Beaufort earlier this summer and stole money from the juke box there several times.

Folks at Stella Capture Alligator in Bear Trap

An 8-foot alligator was recently captured in a bear trap along the White Oak river near Stella by John Walker Williams, Charles Barker, and Mr. Williams' sister, Miss Annabelle Williams, all of Stella.

Mr. Williams says that he plans to show the alligator, and 30 little alligators hatched from eggs found along the river, at the state fair this week. He said the little alligators were hatched by two hens. Only 30 emerged from 48 eggs.

The big alligator lost part of its right front leg when it was caught in the trap, otherwise it was unharmed.

Judge Reminds Grand Jury Of Protective Power

Jurist Specifically Outlines Duties of Jurors In Charge Yesterday

"No person in this county is too weak or poor to deserve your protection and no one is too rich or powerful to be indicted," declared Judge R. Hunt Parker in charging the grand jury of the October term of superior court which opened yesterday morning.

He ordered the men to carry out their duties with impartiality, and in the case of presentments, the jurors should "protect citizens from unfair and outrageous persecution as well as find guilt."

The judge pointed out that during the time from Jan. 1, 1949 to Oct. 16 more persons were killed and injured on North Carolina highways than during the entire year of 1948.

"The motor vehicle law is for the protection of all those lawfully using the thoroughfares of this state. . . unlawful operation of motor vehicles jeopardizes the life of everyone," he declared.

Judge Parker instructed the grand jury to request that the county superintendent of public instruction show them a written authorization for every school bus driver; determine whether every bus is equipped with governor; and if all the curves on school bus roads are unobscured as much as possible by weeds or other obstacles to visibility.

He also told the jurors to request an investigation of the buses by members of the state highway patrol.

The judge reminded the jury that at every term of superior court justices of the peace of the county must report to the clerk of superior court all the cases tried before them since the last term and that fines, forfeited bonds or other moneys collected in the course of their duty should go to the auditor for inclusion in the public school fund.

He also added that any funds collected by a JP should be forwarded within a week or 10 days after collection to the clerk of superior court.

Judge Parker instructed the grand jury to read the reports made by grand juries during the past two years and to inquire whether the recommendations made by those bodies were carried out.

Members of this committee are James Robert Saunders, Clyde Jones and Bob Lowe. These men were appointed by George W. Dill, Jr., president.

In addition to the three Spanish copies of the Rotary magazine which the club has sent to South America, the group voted to renew those subscriptions and send two more as part of their international service program.

Bob Lowe, representative to the waterways meeting recently at Philadelphia, gave a report on that session. There was only one visiting Rotarian at the meeting, Watts Carr of Durham.

CIO Representatives Say They Will Appeal to NLRB

The union, Amalgamated Clothing, CIO, lost the election yesterday morning at the Morehead City garment company.

One hundred eleven employees voted against the union and 87 voted for it. Thirty-one voters were challenged as to their right to cast a ballot. Thirty of these challenges were made by the union and one by management.

Representatives of the CIO said today that they would file charges with the National Labor relations board alleging three discharges at the plant for union activity and would also appeal to the board to set aside this election and hold a new one on grounds of management's coercion and intimidation of employees.

Officials at the garment company declared that none of the employees were coerced or intimidated at the polls and that observers for the union at the election, Amanda Toler and Dallas Gillikin, signed statements following the closing of the polls that the election was conducted in a fair manner. Miss Toler and Mr. Gillikin are employees at the garment company.

Following announcement of the outcome of the election, garment company workers, the majority of them, "seemed extraordinarily happy about it," it was reported.

Reed Johnston, director of the fifth regional district, Baltimore, with sub-office at Winston-Salem, and his three assistants conducted the election, which was held between the hours of 6 and 8 at the Matthis Radio company, Bridges street.

The election climaxes several months of pro-union and anti-union activity among shirt factory employees. The NLRB ordered Sept. 30 that an election be held at the plant to determine whether the workers wanted the CIO as their bargaining agent.

Workers voting for and against the union in yesterday's shirt factory election had many reasons for their choice on the ballot but one worker of long standing provided the most unique reason.

"How did you vote?" she was asked.

"For the union," was her reply.

"Why," her friend said, "I thought you said you were against unions."

"I am," she replied, "but I had my reasons. You see I heard that if the union was voted in, the shirt factory would have to close down."

"Well, it's this way," she continued. "I've been working here almost since the shirt factory opened. My husband hasn't done a lick of work since I got my job. My two boys are grown now and they won't hit a lick either."

"The way I figure it is that if the union is voted in, the shirt factory will have to close. If the shirt factory closes, I'll lose my job. If I lose my job, those lazy good-for-nothings will have to go to work and that's what they deserve."

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Howell 'Take Club to Guatemala'

Beautiful shawls, cloth, and tapestries woven by Guatemalans, and pictures of Guatemala were shown by Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Howell, Chapel Hill, to members of the Beaufort Book Club Friday night at the Inlet Inn.

Dr. Howell, professor of English at the University of North Carolina, recently taught for two years at the University of San Carlos as exchange professor under the department of state's Good Neighbor policy.

Although he lectured in both English and Spanish, he set a precedent at the university, in that it was the first time teaching of English had been made a part of the curriculum.

Sixty per cent of Guatemala's population is pure Mayan Indian, the professor stated, with each village wearing its own unique costume. Although these Indians had not learned to use the wheel or metal, they had mathematical and astronomical systems far surpassing that of the eastern hemisphere when the Spaniards arrived in the New World.

Guatemala, termed by Dr. Howell "the photographer's paradise" has four main products for export: coffee, bananas, sugar, and chicle.

Mrs. Howell displayed the native Guatemalan handwork they brought back with them to

Four Cars Wreck In Morehead City

Driver of '41 Buick Says Shrubbery at Intersection Obscured Vision

Four automobiles were damaged to the extent of more than $1,200 Friday noon in an accident at Arendell and 23rd streets, Morehead City.

Dick Swindell, Morehead City, was driving east on Arendell street in a 1941 Oldsmobile when a 1941 Buick driven by Mrs. Annabel Hastings, Beaufort, turned into Arendell street from 23rd street on his left.

Swindell swerved his car to the right to avoid an accident but the left front of his car struck the right front of Mrs. Hastings' car. The Buick stopped where it was hit but the Oldsmobile traveled on to the right curb where it struck a parked 1946 Ford coupe which in turn struck a parked 1946 Ford sedan in front of it.

Mrs. Hastings received no injuries, Swindell a bruised arm, and George Henley, Negro occupant of Swindell's car received a cut under his left eye when his head struck the windshield.

Damage to all four cars was extensive. The Buick's right front received damages estimated at $200. The Oldsmobile's front end was smashed in and it was estimated that it would cost $500 to repair it, the Ford coupe had both its rear and front ends crushed inward, approximately $500 damage, and the Ford sedan had its trunk lid bent.

Mrs. Hastings stated that she could not see Swindell's car until it was too late to avoid an accident. She said shrubbery at the intersection obscured her vision.

No charges were preferred as the parties involved agreed to settle the matter among themselves. The Ford Coupe was owned by Capt. Thomas Tulipant and the Ford sedan by Capt. Rex Wilson.

Officers Edmond Willis and Herbert Griffin investigated.
