Authorities Accuse Leslie Feagle, 18, of Hold-Up Saturday Night

Leslie Feagle, 18, senior at Morehead City high school, has been bound over to the January term of superior court in Craven county on charges of attempted rob-bery and assault with a deadly weapon.

The lad's bond, set at $2,500, was posted by Andrew J. Purifoy, New

According to testimony presented in New Bern city court Mon-day morning, young Feagle entered the R. J. Flowers Oil company and service station, New Bern, shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night when Roscoe J. Flowers, operator of the place, was seated at a desk in the rear of the main part of the sta-

Made Gum Purchase

Flowers said that a boy, whom he later identified as Feagle, walked into the station and asked to buy a pack of gum. After making the sale and opening the cash register drawer to ring it up, the station operator said the boy wheeled around facing him with a pistol in his hand.

Flowers reported that he closed the cash register and pretended to be upset by the event in an effort to stall off the intruder. He said that after about three minutes the boy became frightened by outside traffic and backed to the door, ran across the drive leading to the station and got into an old model coupe car which had no license plates or rear tail light.

Operator Alone

The station operator said there, was no one else in the station when the boy, who he described as being well dressed and nice look-ing, entered. He also said that the boy never took anything from the station.

Police Captain P. C. Robinson told the court that he and police officer Morris Parker were parked in a patrol car at Five Points when they received a call concerning the "stickup" and that just as they started to pull away from the curb to go to investigate they saw a car filling the description going toward Five Points from up Queen street in the direction of Pollock

The Beaufort band campaign fell $600 short of its thousand dollar goal, Mrs. George East-

More money is absolutely necessary if the band is to function this year, she declared. She urged that persons who have not paid a band membership fee do so at once. Any contribution, large or small, will be appreciated.

It should be mailed to Mrs. George Eastman, Beaufort. She emphasizes that the band is not only a school organization but a civic organization which the entire town should support.
