

BEAUFORT TEAM MEETS RICHLANDS TONIGHT

Beaufort high school will make history tonight as it fields a football team for the first time since pre-war days. At 8 o'clock Richlands high and the local pigskin eleven will lock horns on the gridiron, Wade Brothers Park, Morehead City.

The Beaufort team has more than four weeks of hard practice behind it and is in fine shape to meet its first opponent. Operating from a spit-T formation, the Sea Dogs have shown most of their power to be on the ground and use their aerial play sparingly.

Austin Calls Plays

Julian Austin, offensive quarterback, calls plays on offense while Bill Sammons calls them on defense. Bud Fodrie's strong toe is expected to provide plenty of insurance to get the team out of tight spots. His booting has been exceptional thus far, Coach T. H. McQuaid remarked.

The Sea Dogs' defense will offer Richlands plenty of difficulty. A complete defensive team, with the exception of Bill Sammons who plays fullback on both offense and defense, stands ready to hold the line.

Morehead City Receives $33,500 From Dog Track

Proceeds Used To Buy Motor Grader, Garbage Load Packer

Morehead City's share of profits from the dog track amounted to $33,500, for the 1949 season, Mayor George W. Dill, Jr., announced today.

Most of the town's share has already been appropriated or spent, the mayor observed. A motor grader has been purchased with some of the money as has a load packer garbage truck.

Other sources receiving the money have been the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce and the Carteret Recreational Center. Some of it has also been spent on improving dirt streets.

The town has also purchased a plot of land to be used as a recreation area in conjunction with the new Negro school to be built in Morehead City. What has not been spent will probably be used to complete improvements on unpaved streets, the mayor concluded.

Here comes the parade!

Under the sponsorship of American Legion Post 46, Morehead City, today's Armistice Day parade in Morehead City at 10:30 this morning will feature Marines; school bands, and floats entered by the town's civic groups. The day's activities will be climaxed with a dance, free to everyone, at 9 o'clock.

Marching units and floats will assemble between 11th and 14th streets on the south side of Arendell in the following order: state highway patrol, color guard, detachment of Marines from Cherry Point, Morehead City school band, school children, National Guard, Beaufort colored band, ministers' float, colored Legion post and colors, Boy Scout float, Red Cross, Morehead City colored band, Ladies Auxiliary float, Jaycee float, Girl Scout, Cub Scouts, and Legion float.

The parade route will be east on Arendell street to 5th, west on the north side of Arendell to 8th, then south on 8th to the two monuments in front of the city hall where Chaplain W. D. Caviness will give a brief talk in memory of departed servicemen.

Services in front of the monuments will complete the Armistice Day observance. Business establishments have been requested to display flags and bunting in honor of the occasion. Parade chairman is Duffy Guthrie.

Stores in Morehead City will close from 10:45 a.m. to 11:15.

Firemen were summoned at 3:30 p.m. to find the interior of Mrs. Pearl Davis's five-room home aflame from stem to stern. Four of the five rooms were on fire with dense smoke filling the house and pouring from its windows.

Only one room escaped the fire and when firemen broke its windows they found Davis stretched out on his bed, suffocated from the smoke. Firemen reported that See FIRE BURNS Page 6

What Will They Leave Him Next?

"You never can tell what they're going to leave next!" George Buer at the newsstand on Front street, Beaufort, is now scratching his head over his latest possession — acquired not by any desire on his part. "Some lady left it," he explains. A little brown bag containing a handkerchief and a jar of arid.

"A couple of years ago a lady left a dress here. She never came back for it and after a long time I gave it to our colored maid, and it just fit her!"

Mr. Buer's stories about forgotten customers are endless. "They forget to take their magazines, their newspapers and other things they have already paid for — but in most cases I catch them before they get too far away."

"Sometimes I get busy with another customer and don't notice that they leave packages. One-time a woman left a whole bag of shelled butter beans. In a couple of days they turned black. Here a winter or so ago, a man left seven or eight pounds of meat."

Another time a lady left two skeins of new yarn.

There's one thing Mr. Buer's customers don't forget though. And that's to pick up their change.

Jaycees Enter Two Floats In Parade Today

Morehead City Jaycees will enter two floats in the Armistice parade today, it was announced at the Monday night Jaycee meeting in the Fort Macon hotel dining room.

Chairman Warren Beck of the float committee explained that the Jaycee-sponsored Boy Scouts would have a float entered, and also the Jaycees would enter a float publicizing the Jaycee theatrical "Then, Later and Now" to be put on Dec. 2.

School Lunches

It was disclosed that Elks have taken care of paying for the school lunches of three Morehead City children that Jaycees had previously been financing. Rotarians also are paying for another child Jaycees had been sponsoring on a temporary basis the Junior Chamber is now paying for the lunch of one child.

An appeal was made to the group to pay for the lunch of school children at Camp Glenn. It was revealed that 20 youngsters cannot afford to eat at school. The recommendation was taken under advisement. Action was withheld until next week.

Bruce Goodwin observed that little interest had been shown in the proposed community band and disclosed that a band meeting would be held next Wednesday. All those interested were urged to attend.

Committee Appointed

Warren Beck, Bob Lowe and Jimmy Wallace were appointed to work with merchants on Christmas decorations. Decision on what part Jaycees should take in decorating was withheld until the next board of directors meeting.

Following the business meeting Dr. L. A. Taylor, executive secretary of the Wilmington Presbytery of the Presbyterian church, spoke on spiritual revitalization among men and nations.

Jaycees will meet Monday at the Morehead City Technical Institute to inspect institute facilities. Guests for Monday's meeting were Mac McKinney, Charles Lee Price and Cpl. Bill Clagen of the State Highway Patrol. Jack Styron's name was drawn for the $5 jackpot but since he was not present the money was retained until the next drawing.

Shades of Columbus! The Santa Maria Makes Port

Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Klipstein, aboard the Santa Maria, left Morehead City Tuesday morning, bound for Florida in their vessel, a half-size duplicate of the original Santa Maria, one of the three ships which carried Columbus to America.

The unusual vessel, sails painted with the Maltese cross, and carved dragon heads adorning the woodwork, attracted a great deal of attention as it sailed along the Morehead City waterfront late Monday afternoon and tied up at Capt. Bill Styron's Gulf dock.

The Klipsteins said that they seldom have any privacy because curious spectators always want to be shown the ship, or stare wonderingly at them regardless whether they are eating, working about the boat, or getting ready for bed.

The gross weight of their Santa Maria is 34 tons. Columbus's vessel was 60. The replica was built in 1942 by a man by the name of Cuthbertson, a friend of the Klipsteins. Cuthbertson intended to sail her to Spain but the war interfered.

The present owners acquired the boat and on Columbus Day of last year began their experience of living aboard. Their home is in Detroit where one son is in school. Their two daughters are now attending school in Florida.

At one port where the Santa Maria docked, school children flocked to see the boat and brought all sorts of donations, canned goods and money. There were so many cans of food that they weighed the boat down and the Klipsteins simply had to get rid of it. So they sent the canned goods and cash contributions to help the needy in Europe.

$31,000 Spent In County by PMA

Almost $31,000 was spent in Carteret county this year by the Production Marketing Administration, PMA administrator B. J. May, disclosed today in a partial report of his office's work for the year.

Government assistance consisted of $16,952 in the form of purchase orders for 11 approved practices, $5,000 for 50,000 additional cubic yards of drainage ditches and $9,000 additional to farmers for practices carried out on their own, the report stated.

Major achievement this year was the creation of over 600 acres of permanent pastures in the county, May declared. "This year has been one of the most successful Carteret county agriculture has ever witnessed," he concluded.

The report covers all of 1949 and part of 1950's program since almost all of the money allotted for 1950 has already been committed.

County's Seniors From Six Schools Visit Lejeune

Seniors from Atlantic, Smyrna, Harkers Island, Beaufort, Morehead City, and Newport schools returned from Camp Lejeune Tuesday night filled with excitement and almost overpowering wonder at what they had seen that day at the largest and most complete amphibious training center in the world.

These seniors from Carteret county schools, with seniors from 39 other schools within a 50-mile radius of Camp Lejeune were entertained and "educated" by the Marines in observance of National Education Week.

Boys and girls from this county made the trip in private cars, leaving here about 9 o'clock in the morning and returning about 5:30.

Parade Begins Day
The day began with a parade and review. Ten thousand Marines, afoot, in tanks, and in jeeps maneuvered on the parade grounds to the accompaniment of the Lejeune band.

The seniors hungrily stuffed themselves with roast beef, gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered green beans, french fried squash, lettuce-french-salad, ice cream, cake, and coffee at lunch in two large mess halls. Then they were taken to the camp theater at Hadnot Point where they heard Brig-Gen. John T. Seiden, Lejeune's chief of staff, Lt. Col. W. W. Buchanan, base operations officer and president of the Lejeune PTA, Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, commander of the camp and of the Second Marine division, and Rep. Graham A. Barden of the Third Congressional district.

Students See Chapel
During the guided tour which followed, the students passed through the Protestant chapel to see the famous stained glass memorial windows, installed at a cost of $130,000. Twelve other windows are in the Catholic chapel, and cost $120,000. Every cent for these windows was contributed by the Marines themselves in memory of their own who have fallen since 1775.

Following the visit to the chapel, the Sixth Marines, reinforced, staged a mock attack which the students viewed, awe-struck, from the long line of Marine buses.

A visit to the camp school and refreshments concluded the big day.
