

Jaycee Delegates Report on Meeting

Members Meet Monday at Morehead City Technical Institute

Morehead City Jaycees spent most of their Monday night meeting at the Morehead City Technical Institute...

Delegates reported that the main item of discussion was over whether the state organization should retain its franchise to stage the Miss North Carolina contest each year.

Finally after much argument at the Winston-Salem meeting, it was reported, the state organization agreed to sponsor the contest one more year and then come to a decision about sponsoring it permanently.

As soon as this decision was reached Morehead City delegates entered a bid for the contest to be held here again next year, but it was voted to have the pageant at Wilmington.

Delegates to the meeting from Morehead City were H. S. Gibbs, Jr., Walter Morris, Kenneth Wagner, J. R. Sanders, Bob Lowe and Ethan Davis, Jr.

Jimmy Wallace announced that casting had been completed on the Jaycee show, "Then, Later, and Now" to be staged Dec. 2, and announced dates for rehearsal.

Jaycees continued their discussion of what part they should play in decorating downtown Morehead City for Christmas. No decision was reached.

The men were guests at the Institute at the invitation of director James I. Mason. Following dinner they were taken on a tour of the Institute's shops and classrooms and were told of the work being carried on there.

One new member, Cpl. Bill Clagen of the State Highway patrol, was welcomed into the club.

Hart Orchestra To Play Nov. 24 At Surf Club

Ronnie Hart and his orchestra will play for the dance Thanksgiving night, Nov. 24, at the Surf Club, Atlantic Beach.

Dancing will be from 9 until 1 and advance sale of tickets is in process now at Beaufort stores. The dance is being sponsored by the Beaufort Parent-Teacher association.

At intermission there will be a floor show staged and directed by Mrs. Grayden Paul. Tickets purchased at the door will be slightly higher in price than those available now at Beaufort stores, the dance committee states.

Ronnie Hart has been featured with the Bunny Berigan and Del Casino bands. Came the war and he discontinued his musical work temporarily and volunteered for the infantry. In the first campaign of the Pacific, he was wounded on the island of Buna and was sent to the Army hospital at Tuscaloosa, Ala. While recuperating, he was asked to appear with the famous 387th Service Forces band, which was composed of the top name musicians of the nation. They played the country's foremost theaters including the Capitol Theater, New York City, and Radio City Music Hall.

Upon release from the service, Ronnie became front man and featured entertainer with the well known Dave Townsend orchestra playing top spots in the mid-west. He developed a large following, then formed his own outfit and continued to please the dancing public in that territory until his recent introduction to the South.

PMA Committeemen Will Be Elected December 15

County and community Production Marketing administration committeemen will be elected Dec. 15, B. J. May, county PMA administrator, announced today.

At that time 15 regular and 10 alternate community committeemen will be elected and also five delegates to the county conventions. The following day these five delegates will elect three regular and two alternate county committeemen. None of the delegates will be eligible to become a county committeeman.

Nominating meetings will be held in each community to select committeemen and delegates. Ballots will be furnished each community.

Time and place of the elections and pollholders will be announced later, May declared.

Havin' Fun in a Cabaret

Beaufort's rival of the French Follies Bergere, "Cabaret de Beaufort," opens tonight in a blaze of glory with the cast of over 50 male chorus girls and celebrities set to deliver a masterful performance, sparked by the inimitable piano renditions of Al Hazel Scott Dewey. Tickets for the show have sold like wildfire, it is reported, but a few choice seats are still left. Tickets will not be sold beyond auditorium capacity, but the audience has been urged to arrive early for the show.

Newly-Formed 4-H Club Council Will Meet Tomorrow

The first official meeting of the Carteret county 4-H club council will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the home agent's office, Beaufort court house annex, assistant county agent Al. W. Stinson announced today.

At that time discussions of parliamentary procedure, programs for the coming months, ways of raising money, the 4-H bond sale, CROP collections, and election of officers will take place.

The county council is the official policy-making body for clubs in the county and is of great help to 4-H agents in planning the club program, Mr. Stinson said.

The council is composed of the four elective officers of each of the nine clubs in the county.

Names of officers of each club in order of president, vice-president, secretary and reporter follow. Atlantic junior club: Veda Mae Styron, Carlton Willis, Mildred Hamilton and Christopher Salter. Atlantic senior club: Lillian Marie Morris, James Gillikin, Rebecca Salter and Calvin Lupton.

Smyrna junior club: Ruth Wade, Tommy Willis, Barbara Hancock and Royce Pake. Smyrna senior club: Ava Lee Alligood, James Arthur, Ruth Ester Wooten and Jimmy Piner. Newport junior club: Etta Mazingo, Ronnie Garner, Lavonne Mann and Jerry Smith. Newport senior club: Ann Mazingo, Donald Schoppaul, Jackie Edwards and James Millis.

Camp Glenn junior club: Norma Sally Swinson, Jerry Garner, Iona Salter and Eugene Lockhart. Morehead City: Marlene Kittrell, Bobby Oglesby, Judy Perry and Harold Deibert. Beaufort: Mary Olive Martin, Clifton Cox, Shirley Taylor and Cedric Beacham.

State College Alumni to Meet

W. H. Taylor, executive director of the State College Alumni association, and Dr. Roy Lovvorn, pasture research specialist, will be guest speakers at a meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the court house. R. M. Williams, secretary of the County Alumni club, invites all Carteret county farmers, business men, and State college alumni to attend this meeting.

Dr. Lovvorn will talk on pastures and show a series of color slides which he made while doing pasture research work in Holland during the past summer. Dr. Lovvorn is a capable and interesting speaker in his chosen field of work, declared Mr. Williams. In order to promote a better balanced agricultural program here in Carteret county, we are endeavoring to increase the acreage of good quality pastures just as rapidly as possible, he added.

Around seven hundred acres of permanent pastures have been seeded in Carteret county this fall. "Before the county livestock program can properly balance itself with that of cash crops, we must first produce an ample supply of home grown feed. Permanent pastures and other supplementary grazing crops will furnish the cheapest source of livestock feed," commented the farm agent.

County, State Officers Raid Edgewater Hotel

Thirteen county and state officers raided the Edgewater hotel, Morehead City, Saturday night, acting on the belief, it was reported that the place was a bootlegging headquarters.

The search from top to bottom of the hotel, located on N. 11th st., yielded nothing, police said.

Lost Items Pile Up With Police

Morehead City police found themselves cast in the role of a lost and found department this week with various objects tossed on their doorsteps by the owner to claim.

Robert E. Smith, Crab Point youth, nominated himself for the Hall of Fame when he turned over a woman's pocketbook containing $9.01 to police after finding it in White's Dairy Sunday.

Inside the pocketbook was the name of Mrs. Paul D. Cooke, Durham. Police attempted to contact her but still had not heard from her yesterday.

A Thurston Motor Lines truck passed through town last week, leaving in its wake two boxes lying on the street.

Larger of the two boxes contained a tricycle which was turned over to its intended owner, Gibbie Sanderson. The other box contained cans of french fried potatoes which were later claimed by their owner, Tharon O. Peacock of Morehead City.

Also turned over to police was a Merchant Mariner's Registration document issued by the Coast Guard to Eugene Barber of Apalachicola, Fla. Serial number of the document is Z-775885.

Owners of the lost articles may claim them by identifying them at the police station, police say.

Mayor G. W. Dill Sends Three Cases to Recorder

Probable cause was found in three cases before Mayor George W. Dill, Jr., in Morehead City mayor's court Monday and all three defendants were bound over to recorder's court in Beaufort.

Charge against Henry Jones was assault with a deadly weapon, a bottle, on Willard Bryant. Willie Moore was charged with driving without a license and driving with improper brakes.

Lawrence Spook, Cherry Point Marine, was charged with hit and run.

The bond of Frank Raymond charged with public drunkenness, was forfeited when he failed to appear.

Five acres of merchantable timber near Smyrna, owned by W. L. Smith burned Tuesday afternoon. E. M. Foreman, county fire warden said he was notified of the fire at 3 p.m. and estimated that it started at about 2. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Mr. Foreman and his crew used fire swatters to extinguish the flames.

Deep Creek Co. Lets Contract For Drain Ditch

The Sherrill Construction company, Jackson, N. C., received the contract for digging of the Deep Creek drainage canal in the vicinity of Newport.

The $100,000 contract was awarded to the contractor on Tuesday, according to John B. Kelly, president of the Deep Creek Canal company. Construction is expected to start within 10 days. The contractor will use two draglines, a bull dozer and local labor for cutting the ditch of way. The work is expected to be completed within three months.

R. E. Dailey, Goldsboro, soil conservation drainage engineer, has been placed in charge of the work, Mr. Kelly reported.

Members of the Deep Creek Canal company, whose land will be drained indirectly benefited by the ditch are the following:

J. S. Garner, D. W. Garner, C. L. Lockey, James Kelly, John B. Kelly, G. L. Lockey, Leo Gardner, W. D. West, Mrs. Sally Garner, W. R. Mann, Mrs. W. B. Garner, C. S. Garner, S. D. Edwards, C. E. Millis, Clarence Millis, F. G. Oglesby, J. R. Garner, Dan W. Garner, Samuel Pollard, D. F. Garner, Ellie Elliott, George Franks, H. E. Mann, R. J. Mann.

Lyda Garner, Lena Roberts, Maggie Lee Garner, Annie Mann, C. E. Simmons, D. C. Garner, G. L. Mann, Harry D. Lockey, C. S. Long, W. E. Roberts, C. H. Lockey, Robert Oakley, M. C. Howard, and G. L. McCain.

Mr. McCain is secretary-treasurer of the company.

Medical Society Makes Formal Protest on Nurses Bill 1543

The Carteret County medical society went on record at its Monday night meeting at the Morehead City hospital as opposing United States Senate bill 1543 which the group was told would be the next step toward socialization of medicine.

Mrs. Alton Clapp of Greenville, president of the 8th district, North Carolina Nurses association appeared before the group and outlined the bill which was recently approved by the Senate.

She said the bill, which is designed to regulate nurse training, was not in the best interest of the public or the nursing profession and emphasized that if the federal government got control of the nursing profession its next step would be the socialization of medicine.

Mrs. Clapp stated that if this bill were adopted there would be no more registered nurses as the public knows them today but two groups of nurses, one supervisory and the other practical nurses.

Supervisory nurses would be required to have a college degree before entering training and would do only supervisory work rather than nursing as it is known today. Practical nurses would do other mental tasks, the speaker declared.

Only hospitals with a daily enrollment of over 200 nurses would

Alleged Liquor Law Violators Put Under Arrest

Authorities of both Carteret and Craven counties made arrests early this week charging persons with violation of the liquor law.

Calvin Godette, Jr., colored, North Harlowe was apprehended at 10:30 Monday night in Beaufort and charged with possessing a small quantity of non tax-paid liquor.

Leslie D. Norriq, Beaufort route 1, and Mrs. Helen Lane Fulford, Morehead City, were apprehended at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon on route 101 near the Core Creek bridge by ABC Officer Marshall Ayseue and Deputy Sheriff Murray Thomas.

Norriq was charged with transporting non tax-paid liquor and Mrs. Fulford with aiding and abetting.

Visiting the North Harlowe section of Craven county Monday afternoon, Craven county officers found 42 1/2 gallons of non-tax-paid liquor in the home of two colored residents. Thirty-one gallons were found in the home of Carl Brimmage, and 11 1/2 gallons in the home of Harry Sparrow. The two men were permitted to give bond for a hearing in Craven county recorder's court on Dec. 3.

Officers taking part in the raid on the two homes were N. B. Lee and J. K. Clay, Craven county alcohol beverage control officers, and E. A. Bennett, federal alcohol tax unit officer.

District Governor Visits Rotarians

H. A. "Ham" Marks of Wilmington governor of Rotary district 279, addressed Beaufort Rotarians at their meeting Tuesday night in the Inlet Inn dining room.

Marks made a plea that the club live up to the high ethics of Rotary in the members' business life. He said club members should try to practice the Rotary motto of "Service Above Self" throughout their daily lives.

Following the regular meeting, a club review session was held in which matters of general administration including attendance, membership, classification, community service and finances were discussed. Committee chairman also reported on work being done by their committees.

Visitors were Gardner Greer of Wilmington, C. Z. Chappell, Gerald Hill, Ray Ransom, Rev. and Mrs. W. Y. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Grayden Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Paul also furnished music for the meeting.

Mr. Marks did not make his scheduled appearance at the Morehead City Rotary club last week. He met with them last night.

A plea to "treat the railroad, one of Morehead City's best friends, right" was heard by Morehead City commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night in the municipal building.

E. R. Buchan, president of the Atlantic and East Carolina railroad, appeared to say that he had heard that the town board was protesting the A&EC's request to the State Utilities commission that the railroad be allowed to discontinue passenger service between Goldsboro and Morehead City, the railroad's only line.

"No Profit" Buchan quoted various figures to show that his line was not making money on its passenger service. He concluded by asking the town not to do anything to hurt the railroad.

After Mayor George W. Dill, Jr., and members of the board questioned the railroad president he departed.

Following his departure, commissioners discussed his talk. He told them that with one exception, at La Grange, there had been no other objections. The town board decided to check with authorities in Kingston, New Bern and Goldsboro on their reaction to the line's discontinuance of passenger service.

General opinion of the group seemed to be that once the railroad discontinued any of its services the town would have a difficult time having them restored, regardless of the circumstances. An example was cited where it was claimed that the railroad had acted to the detriment of the town in order to keep trucking business out of Morehead City.

K. W. Prest appears before the board to request its approval of a street plan drawn up for the George Huntley property on Crab Point. This property was recently annexed to the town. He said he would like the board to request Tide Water Power company to install a fire hydrant there.

Mr. Prest said 98 lots had been laid out with room left for future development. Present plans call for building five houses there, he revealed.

The group agreed to accept the plan and request installation of a hydrant. It suggested that a more detailed blueprint be submitted with probable locations of water mains and sidewalk locations.

Statutes Investigated Mayor Dill stated that after town attorney George McNeill had investigated existing statutes, he had found "the town's laws governing taxicab operation to be hazy. He said Mr. McNeill was drafting a taxi law which would come up for discussion and possible adoption later.

Commissioner D. G. Bell explained that under state law the town See A&EC, Page 7

PTA Members See Skit Monday Night

In observance of National Book Week, in its 31st year, Mrs. J. W. Lollis, librarian, directed a skit, "Give The Book A Chance," at the Morehead City PTA meeting Monday night.

Taking part in the skit were Doris Grandtham as Miss Hill, Clifton Steed as Jack, Billy McClain as Tom, Douglas King as Homer Price, Mary Eaton as Mrs. Price, Suzanne Land as Mattie, Joanne Wickizer as Ruth, Perry Gorham as Ronald, Elbert Pittman as Gordon, Toby Guthrie as Stacy, and Tommy Wetherington as the radio announcer.

Mrs. Delfido Cordova reported that there are still needy children for whom some person or organization may provide lunch money. Principal G. T. Windell announced that there would be no school Thursday and Friday of next week because of Thanksgiving. School will close Dec. 20 at noon for the Christmas holiday. He also reported that the giant stride for the playground, and the bicycle rack, ordered early in the school year, were here and being used.

Two classes reported 100 per cent parent membership in the PTA. Mrs. Ethel Holloway's third grade, and Mrs. Charles B. Wade's fourth and fifth grades.

Banners for the largest percentage of parents attending the PTA went to Mrs. James I. Mason's first grade, Mrs. C. B. Wade's fourth and fifth grades and Mrs. Lollis' eleventh grade.

Mrs. George McNeill, vice-president, coopered in the absence of A. B. Cooper, president.

Veterans Got Bonus New York state voters last week approved the amendment to the state constitution authorizing bonus payments to New York veterans outside New York state.

Newport Man Honored

M. G. Mann of Raleigh, a native of Newport, and general manager of Farmers Cooperative Exchange and the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative, was honored at the recent meeting of the North Carolina Agriculture Foundation Inc., at State college.

A professorship, known as the "Manly G. Mann Professorship in Agriculture Economics," was established at the college in honor of Mann by the FCX board of directors, and was made possible by a $25,000 contribution by the FCX to the foundation, and the fellowship is to be financed by a $30,000 fund in the foundation which the Grange is now raising.

New State Boat Docks Monday

The newest unit of the state fleet arrived at Morehead City at 7 o'clock Monday night. The 110-foot government-built submarine chaser, which will be overhauled and outfitted to replace the Hatteras, was towed to the commercial fisheries dock, Camp Glenn, from New Orleans.

The vessel, named the "Ensign Herstan," was purchased by the state for $17,000 and towed here by the Diesel Corporation at a cost of $2,500.

A name for the new possession has not yet been selected, neither has the crew, stated Capt. John Neilson, commercial fisheries commissioner.

The state fleet now operating consists of the Hatteras, Cape Fear, Croatan, Albemarle, Ocracoke, and Neuse.

Captain of the Hatteras is Capt. Louis Ed Willis, Smyrna, Engineer is Dave Moore, Marshallberg, and George Thomas, Beaufort RFD, is cook.

Skipper of the Cape Fear is Capt. Roy Brown, Marshallberg, with Stanley Golden, Marshallberg, as cook. Both the Hatteras and Cape Fear are based at Morehead City.

Aboard the Croatan are Capt. Tom Basknight who is assistant fisheries commissioner and Bill Etheridge, cook. The Croatan is stationed at Manteo. Both crew members live at Manteo.

Skipper of the Albemarle, based at Edenton, is Capt. C. W. Hayman Edenton, and William Shaw, cook, Edenton.

Captain of the Ocracoke, berthed at Swanquarter, is Claud Sawyer of Swanquarter, and Merle Jones, cook, who lives at Swanquarter. Skipper of the Neuse, at New Bern, is Ernest Poston, New Bern.

They were taken on a tour of a farm where they observed good management practices and were entertained at dinner. Men attending from this county were Neal Campen, R. M. Williams, B. J. May, James Davis, I. E. Pittman, Floyd Garner, Roy Garner, C. S. Long, James Murdoch, and Ennon O. Mann.

Counties represented were Carteret, Craven, Duplin, Jones, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico, Sampson, and Wayne.

Sailor Drifts Five Days at Sea

Three Fishermen Rescue Archibald Yow at Mason's Inlet

Archibald Yow, 23-year-old Henderson sailor who drifted five days off the Atlantic coast before being rescued by three fishermen at Mason's Inlet early Monday, rested at Wilmington this week as he contemplated continuing his voyage southward.

Yow, staying at the Cape Fear Yacht Basin on Middle Sound, said he suffered no ill effects from his experience in battling high seas in his 24-foot homemade sailboat, The Elysia.

Craft Damaged The small craft sustained some damage from the pounding seas and high winds, however. Towed to the yacht basin, preliminary examination showed she was leaking badly and the mast may be weakened from excessive strain.

Yow, a student at the University of North Carolina who is on vacation between terms, said he intended sailing The Elysia down the Inland Waterway to Southport. There he may take her out of the water, make permanent repairs and continue southward.

Yow set out from Morehead City last Wednesday with sufficient food and water aboard for a short sail toward Swansboro. (A story on the red-haired sailor and his boat appeared several weeks ago in THE NEWS-TIMES). He had no watch, compass or charts aboard. There was little wind when darkness fell and he went to sleep. Later he was awakened by the sound of a pounding surf and he headed back to sea.

When he awoke again, he was out of sight of land. Not knowing what time it was or where he was, he waited for night to sail by the stars. However, a strong north-west wind drove him across the Gulf Stream.

Wind Hinders He tried to make the coast again but the wind drove him back. For the next two days he was becalmed in the Gulf Stream. Once he sighted a freighter but his efforts to attract attention failed.

"Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, I saw a faint ripple on the water which, in a few hours, grew into a heavy gale. I knew this was my chance. I set a westerly course and sailed about the fastest I've ever gone in The Elysia. At about 10 p.m. I saw a glow of a city in the west and headed towards it. Waves were washing over the boat and I was afraid she would sink anytime."

Sees Fishermen Nearing shore north of Wrightsville Beach early Monday morning, Yow sought to attract the attention of the three fishermen—Buddy Benson, Johnny Vollers and A. C. Smith, of Wilmington—but they did not see him. Taking to a seven-foot dinghy, he rowed into the surf and capsized near the beach. The fishermen then noticed him in the water, rushed to his aid and brought him to land.

Later, a motor boat put out from Wrightsville Sound and towed The Elysia to the Cape Fear Yacht Basin.

The skiff was also recovered. Yow estimates that he drifted and sailed approximately 250 miles during the five days.

New Public Health Nurse To Take Six-Week Course

Mrs. Leonard Lewis, public health nurse newly-employed by the Carteret county health department, will leave Monday for a six-weeks orientation course with the Durham county health department, Durham. Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, county health officer, reported today.

Dr. Ennett stated that the State Board of Health requires all nurses without public health training to take this six-weeks public health orientation course.

He concluded that at least six weeks public health training was required of any nurse before she could be employed permanently.
