Car Overtakes on Curve West of Morehead City

Edmund (Tom) Smith, Beaufort, has been arrested on a charge of drunken driving as the result of an accident at the Blue Ribbon club Sunday night on highway 70.

Patrolman W. E. Pickard said Smith, driving a '49 Kaiser, failed to make the curve. He was proceeding toward Newport and even though the car turned over, the driver escaped without injury. No one was riding with him.

Damage to the car is estimated at $300. The accident occurred shortly after midnight. Assisting Patrolman Pickard in the investigation was Patrolman J. W. Sykes.

sandwich and tried to get her husband to eat it.

He wouldn't do it, so she put it on a table by his bed and he went to sleep. When the officers went into the house with the dog, according to defense testimony, the bloodhound went to one room and secondly to Barrett's where he leaped across the bed and gobbled up the bologna sandwich, which Mr. Smith's colored witnesses claimed was a "poke chop sandwich."

Efforts of officers to prove that a footprint outside the Wetherington window was that of Barrett's collapsed under defense witness testimony by John Dill, Beaufort, owner and manager of a men's wear store, and Thomas Hamilton, shoe salesman at Felton's, who said the size of the print was a very common one and that imprints on the sole were on innumerable types of shoes.

Members of the jury who heard the case were Arendell Golden, Claude Day, James Daniels, Charles Mason, W. B. Guthrie, Allen Taylor, Kenneth Moore, Alfred Willis, Thomas H. Nelson, G. M. Paul, Joe Buttry, and Clarence Davis.

A true bill on the Barrett case was returned by the grand jury. Witnesses who presented evidence to the grand jurors at the beginning of the week were Mrs. Herman Wetherington, Constable C. M. Krouse, W. M. Jenkins and S. G. Gibbs.

Sentence Imposed

Judge Walter J. Bone ordered that Fred Jones serve the three to five-year suspended sentence imposed on him in the March 1949 term of superior court. Jones violated the conditions of the suspended sentence by drinking alcoholic beverages, conducting himself in a disorderly manner and carrying a concealed weapon.

It was ordered that the following cases, all the outgrowth of an accident in Craven county, be tried in that county: J. C. Smith vs. R. J. C. Barber; Richard Travis Smith vs. R. J. C. Barber; George D. Lewis and Rosalie S. Lewis vs. R. J. C. Barber; and Valeria Mae Lawrence vs. R. J. C. Barber. Certain plaintiffs are residents of Carteret county.

One case, charging trespass, against John Jones of Harkers Island, was remanded to recorder's court and another charging Jones with forcible trespass was nolle prossed.

The case of Walter Whitley and wife, Ethel, vs. Hogan H. Hurst and wife, Lilly Mae Hurst, was replaced on the docket because a non-suit had "inadvertently been entered."

The following cases were continued: Glenn Wade, charged with driving drunk; William Fulford, jr., appeal from recorder's court on a larceny charge; Carolina and Nellie Jones, charged with breaking the peace; John and Horace Jones, charged with removing a roll of fencing; and Daniel Webster Russell, charged with reckless and careless driving.

American Cancer society, said she hoped all counties would reach their quotas by the middle of April.

Mrs. Marshall assisted in conducting the morning meeting, as did Mrs. Donald E. Kent, education director, North Carolina division, and editor of the quarterly magazine, North Carolina Cancer News.

The principal speaker, following luncheon at 1 o'clock at the Trent Pines club, was Mrs. Fred M. Alexander, Virginia State Commander of the American Cancer society. Dr. Flemming Fuller, Kinston, who replaces Dr. Thomas Leslie Lee as chairman of the state executive committee, was introduced by Mrs. Mark Dunn, commander of Craven county.

The meeting ended with an informal discussion on possibility of channeling more funds to take care of indigent cancer patients. Mrs. Marshall commented that it is the policy of the cancer society to educate and inform so that early cancers can be cured rather than spending funds on cases advanced beyond the stage where help can cure them.

At their Thursday night Jaycee meeting at the Rose Motor company President Jim Godwin reported that the New Bern office of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company had been contacted concerning telephone service, and the lack of it in Havelock.

Upon the motion of Mr. Rose, he was voted to contact the telephone company's main office in Tarboro to see if any remedy is possible. Charles Cobb suggested that the State Utilities commission be contacted for a statement on why the Havelock area could not be served with telephones immediately.

Teen-Agers

help of boys and girls and their parents.' Mrs. Bill Ippock made cookies to celebrate the occasion. Thanks Dorothy, you always think of us.

DAN WALKER - We were honored by the presence of Dan Walker, Beaufort Chamber of Commerce manager. You should drop in more often to see us Dan. Who knows, you may even learn to Bee-Bop. He was actually amazed at the congeniality and fun, and thinks every parent in Beaufort should drop in and see what a wonderful time we have.

HISTORY - I hardly know how to say what I am about to say. We, three hundred teen-agers are hurt more than you grown ups, the public could ever know. One or two clubs have refused to give the Teen-Agers any more aid, because of a rumor that some one started. The rumor goes like this: "The Teen-Agers are taking over the Community building and running the Scouts out". The Scouts are teen-agers, and future teen-agers. Everything that we work for and put in the community building is for the public to use. We ask that one night a week be set aside for us, Saturday nights. We pay one dollar and fifty cents each night for the use of the room. We do not use the Scout rooms and the Scouts do not meet on Saturday nights.

So that the public may be better informed, I have compiled a history of the Teen-Age club from the records kept by our chairman.

The Teen-Age club is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. A new chairman is appointed each year by the PTA.

On Friday night, September 13, 1946, at the American Legion hut, the Teen-Age club met for the first time. Mrs. Robert Safrin, jr., and Mrs. Hilton Hill were chairmen for that school year. I believe I am safe in saying that these two mothers should be given much credit in organizing our first club. During the summer of '47, that school year and the summer of '48, credit goes to Mrs. Julian Hamilton, chairman for her enduring efforts to keep us happy and well-chaperoned. Then came the school year of '48 with Mrs. Grayden Paul chairman and Mrs. Virginia Hassell, co-chairman. Everything was going fine. A well-planned program for the year was in order, when suddenly, the last of September, we were informed that we could not use the Legion Hut any more. It was then that we began using the Scout building.

When we first walked in the Scout building on Pollock street October of 1948, we found a bare hall, or almost bare. There were venetian blinds and a piano, some long tables and benches used for oyster roasts. The floor was cement. The committee mothers were discouraged and who wouldn't be? We met and tried to dance, but would soon be tired struggling with that cement, so we'd go on the sideline and sit on the hard benches for awhile, with our backs breaking against the concrete wall. The mothers would put heads together, wonder why we didn't dance more. We were plain tired. By the end of the 1949 school year, we had a stove to keep us warm, donated by Mrs. Bonnie Davant and the oil tank by Mr. Tom Potter. Six folding chairs, Dr. Prytherg; one chair, Mrs. Haynes; lamp, Mrs. Robert Safrin, jr.; use of waxing machine, City Appliance co.; labor on wiring, Mr. George Cottigam; 10 per cent discount on materials from Huntley's; printing 200 membership tickets, M. P. Skarren; $12.60 on Coca-Cola box, Jaycee's; $25, Junior Woman's club; and $12 Mrs. Roland Bell. A balance in the bank of $77.86 of which $75 bought settees and chairs which Mr. George Eastman reduced and sold to us tax free.

Along comes September and school. Our Chairman, Mrs. Martha Loftin, co-chairman, Mrs. Lena Lipman, and their committee of eight mothers met and mapped out their plans for each month, with one important goal in mind: an asphalt tile floor for the boys and girls to dance on. We've waited long months for that floor, $300 is a lot of money. The floor is cemented to the building, we're happy that we have been successful in getting it.

Also this year we had Raymon Paul's craft shop to make us a beautiful desk and two coffee tables. Donations have been: one floor lamp and two table lamps, donator asks that his name be withheld, but he would like to say that if there had been such a club when he was growing up this would have been a better town to live in; one card table, Mrs. Robert Safrin, jr.; three card tables, three table lamps and one floor lamp, Mrs. George Eastman; piano stool, games, Mrs. Martha Loftin; chair to match furniture, Mrs. Bonnie Davant; games, waste basket and ash trays, Mrs. George Brooks; waste basket, ash trays, $10 cash, Mrs. Bill Ippock; $25, Mr. Bill Ippock; cards, Mrs. Harry Saunders; repair to venetian blind, James White; membership cards, M. P. Skarren.

Mr. Cavalier Visits Carteret County Thursday

Tall, handsome and dressed in a costume representing one of the most romantic periods in history, Mr. Cavalier arrived in Carteret county Thursday. He headed a friendly force of several automobiles bearing banners heralding R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company's new, kid-size Cavalier cigarettes for which extreme mildness is claimed.

Following the parade, Mr. Cavalier dismounted from his unique musical car and mixed with those in shopping districts. He dispensed complimentary Cavalier cigarettes to the curious, among whom were many members of the fair sex who frankly admired the young gentleman. The new cigarettes have been placed on sale throughout the county.

In addition to iron ore, China's Hainan Island has considerable copper, some gold, silver, tin, lead and zinc.

and Massotti, $10; W. R. Cox and the Junior Woman's club sold $33 in memberships.

The building is in great demand for parties, meetings, etc. All because the teen-agers have beautified it. The grounds have been weeded and kept clean by the teen-agers and Scouts. Mr. Benjie Copeland is presenting us with shrubbery as soon as we get our committee together to do the planting.

This building can be a credit to our community if we all work together for it and not against it.

Israeli Government Tries New System With Tourists

TEL AVIV, Israel—(AP)—The Israeli government is trying something new to make things easier for tourists. Customs officials are being dispatched to various ports abroad to board all big liners bound for Israeli ports with hundreds of tourists.

They check over the passports of tourists who may be spending a few days or longer in Israel during a Mediterranean cruise. They tell passengers just what they can bring into the country, assess any necessary customs duties and hand over Israeli pounds in exchange for American or other foreign currency. The Israelis have found this system of making part of the voyage aboard the destroyer tender USS Sierra.
