'Slaves' in First Year Latin Class Serve Banquet

The home economics room of Morehead City high school was the scene of a Roman Banquet Tuesday evening, May 16, given by both Latin classes under the direction of Mrs. John Phillips. Invitations were written in Latin, sealed with wax and requested that the guests wear Roman apparel.

After the invocation by the host, Horace Piner, the first course was served by members of the first year class and consisted of eggs, lettuce, onions, and radishes. Between the first and second courses Mary Lou Norwood and Patricia Willis sang, "Integer Vilas."

The second course of baked ham, string beans, beets, and Roman bread was then served, after which a trumpet solo, "Hail! Fair," was played by David Freshwater and a poem "The Lay of Ancient Rome," was recited by Ira Hardy.

The slaves then served the third course of honey cakes, cheese and apples. Grape juice was served after each course.

Special guests at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. D. Cordova and Mr. Ralph Wade. Members of the second year Latin class are Jane Stroud, Doris Midgett, Frances Brinson, Jean Harbour, Mary Kirkman, Colleen Swanson, Horace Piner, and Bobby Matthews.

Serving as the slaves were members of the first year class, Tommy Ballou, Edward Beard, Ira Hardy, Bessie Edgerton, Shirley Lou Dees, David Freshwater, Charles Kelly, Mary Lou Norwood, Marion O'wall, Patricia Willis and Mack Fair Willis.

A PHYSICIAN TELLS WHY HE'S FOR WILLIS SMITH

Dr. Randolph Doffermyre of Dunn,

Distinguished Physician, State Vice President of the American Academy of General Practitioners, And President - elect at the Fifth Medical District Says: The Selection of a Senator is "A Choice Which Will Profoundly Affect the Course of Our National Affairs for years to come."

"He will best represent the interests, the welfare and the thoughts of the people of North Carolina."

"I know his fundamental convictions, his background and record of service, his forthrightness, his splendid character and ability, his sound business judgment, his broad understanding of our problems and his devotion to the principles of individual liberty."

"He has expressed his strong convictions and opposition to the socialistic trend in the Federal Government."

You can only judge a man's future actions by his past record, and we know how Willis Smith stands because he is not the sort of man who would change his philosophy and principles during the heat of a political campaign.

DR. RANDOLPH DOFFERMYRE

THAT'S THE STAND OF AN OUTSTANDING PHYSICIAN, WHO IS ALSO A PROMINENT MASON, SHRINER, ROTARIAN AND BAPTIST—A MAN WHO IS SINCERELY CONCERNED ABOUT THE SOCIALISTIC TREND OF GOVERNMENT IN AMERICA.
