Carteret County Fair Opens

Highway Official Speaks Saturday At Pelletier

One hundred attended the annual barbecue dinner of the Pelletier Boosters club in the community building at Pelletier Saturday.

The principal speaker at the meeting was Guy Hargett of Richlands, highway commissioner for the North Carolina second district. Hargett spoke on the $200 million road program in North Carolina and expressed his appreciation to residents of the Pelletier area for their cooperation on work concerning the road that was paved recently in Pelletier.

Others who spoke briefly were County Agent R. M. Williams, Sheriff C. G. Holland, Register of Deeds Irvin W. Davis and Mrs. Carrie Gillikin, home agent.

The pigs were barbecued in the pit at the rear of the community building. Ladies of the community brought cakes, pies and other delicacies which were served following the barbecue.

The community building at Pelletier was established over a year ago. Originally it was a Unitarian church which was later sold to the Universalist church.

The Universalists gave the building to the community, requiring that a five-man board be set up to administer the building for the community's common good. This was done and approximately a year ago the entire community pitched in and put the building in good shape.

Milton Truckner, president of the Booster club, presided at Saturday's meeting.

Beaufort Couple Buried Yesterday

Double commitment rites were conducted at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eubanks, Beaufort.

The services took place in Tuttle's Grove Methodist church, Beaufort. The Rev. W. L. Martin, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church and the Rev. T. R. Jenkins, pastor of Ann Street Methodist church, officiated.

Mrs. Eubanks, 76, died Saturday morning in Morehead City hospital. She had been seriously ill for two weeks. Mr. Eubanks, 80, died Sunday afternoon at the funeral for his wife. He collapsed as the casket was being carried from the church.

Because of his death, interment of Mrs. Eubanks was delayed until yesterday. Her funeral rites were being conducted in the Tuttle's Grove Methodist church. Both interments took place in the church cemetery.

Mr. Eubanks had been in ill health for a long time.

Surviving the couple are three sons, Floyd L. of McCain, Roy of Beaufort, Manley of Beaufort RFD; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Smith, Bachelor; Mrs. O. B. Israel of McCain; Mrs. L. C. Dickinson and Mrs. David Merrill, both of Beaufort; one sister, Mrs. Dallas Sadler of Harlowe; 14 grand children and eight great-grand children.

Mr. Eubanks is survived by the children and two brothers, Dan of Beaufort RFD; Jack of Morehead City.

Chamber Board Continues To Screen Applicants

Application for the management of the Morehead City chamber of commerce were considered by the chamber's board of directors at their Thursday night meeting in Webb Memorial Civic center.

All applications are being carefully screened. Dr. Darden Eure, chamber president, stated. It is hoped that the successor for the retiring manager, Robert G. Lowe, Jr., will be employed by the first of November, he remarked.

Naval Reserve to Meet

Members of the Naval Reserve, electronics platoon, are urged to attend the meeting at 7 p.m. Monday night, Oct. 23, at the section base, Morehead. This is the regular drill period, but George Taylor, commanding officer, stated that an important announcement will be made also.

The Carteret County fair, with its new spacious exhibit hall, opened yesterday at the American Legion fair grounds located just north of the Lennoxville road, opposite Scarborough-Safrit Lumber co., Beaufort.

T. E. Kelly, Legion fair chairman, expressed confidence that this will be one of the best fairs ever staged by Carteret Post No. 99. Commercial exhibitors were moving displays in over the weekend and Heller's Acme shows and amusements also arrived.

All white children in the county will be admitted to the fair free tomorrow and on Friday all colored children will be admitted free.

Mrs. Billie Smith, Beaufort RFD, who is in charge of the exhibits, will accept entries until 2 p.m. today. Present plans call for judging Thursday morning. Only perishable exhibits, such as cut flower arrangements, will be judged earlier, Mrs. Smith declared.

At present the new exhibit hall, 30 by 100 feet, has only a sawdust floor. By next fair time, a concrete floor will be laid, Mr. Kelly reported.

Exhibitors may remove their displays from the grounds, beginning at 5 p.m. Saturday. All rules and regulations and information regarding the fair appears in the Catalogue and Premium List booklet which may be obtained from C. L. Beam, veterans service officer, at the American Legion hut, Beaufort, or from either the farm or home agent's office.

Three Accidents Occur in County During Weekend

Three automobile accidents occurred in the county over the weekend. One car was demolished and Webb Gaskill of Beaufort was injured and hospitalized.

The 1937 Chevrolet coupe, owned by Bruce Emerson, Beaufort, was damaged beyond repair at 8:55 Saturday night on highway 70 two miles east of Beaufort.

Mechanical Defect

According to Highway Patrolmen J. W. Sykes and W. E. Pickard who investigated, the tie rod end came loose and Emerson, after passing a car, could not pull back into its own lane of traffic. The car came to a stop with its front end in a ditch.

Gaskill suffered a dislocated collarbone and lacerations and Emerson, who was driving, received cuts about the head.

Alvin Robert Mueller of Cherry Point was driving the 1949 Buick sedan which also ended up in a ditch on the left side of the highway at 12:30 Sunday morning three miles east of Newport on highway 70.

Patrolman J. W. Sykes said Mueller claims something went wrong with the steering mechanism. Neither Mueller nor a woman passenger with him was injured. The woman was not identified. Damage to the car is estimated at $100.

Two Cars Collide

Two cars collided at 10:30 Saturday night just west of the Willis sawmill on highway 70, Morehead City. Patrolmen Pickard and Sykes, who investigated, said Thomas F. Williams, Cherry Point, driving a 1950 Plymouth, pulled on to the highway from a parking space in front of a house.

Another car, a 1950 Chevrolet driven by George Washington Hall, Morehead City, was traveling west and ran into the Plymouth. Damage to each was estimated at $150. Williams told patrolmen he didn't think Hall's car was as close as it was.

No charges were preferred in any of the accidents.

PMA Issues 1951 Purchase Orders

Purchase orders for pasture grasses and legumes under the 1951 Production Marketing association program are being issued by the county PMA office, but there is a shortage of lime, PMA Secretary B. J. May announced yesterday.

May said a small amount of lime was being obtained by local dealers for sale to those holding 1950 purchase orders. It is hoped, he remarked, that those holding 1950 purchase orders for lime will be able to obtain it before the Oct. 31 deadline.

Unless the deadline is extended, all unfilled orders will be cancelled after Oct. 31, May declared. However, he said, those who have their orders cancelled may obtain 1951 purchase orders until the limit is reached.

Farmers participating in the PMA programs who have not had their soil analyzed and have not used lime in the past five years are pledged to use lime on their pastures by Dec. 31, the PMA secretary commented.

Any farmer who obtains seed under these conditions and fails to meet the requirements will be charged a penalty amounting to double the government's share of the costs of the materials used, he explained.

District PTA Will Meet Tomorrow

Representatives from nine counties, including Carteret, will attend the district Parent-Teacher association meeting at Swan Quarter tomorrow. Members of the state board of managers will outline plans for the year. About 200 delegates are expected.

Speakers will include Russell Gruman of Chapel Hill, state president, who will talk on "Responsible Citizenship;" Mrs. J. W. Burke of Gibsonville, treasurer and executive secretary of the State Parent-Teacher congress, who will discuss "Office Notes;" and Miss Genevieve Burton of Greensboro, state field secretary.

Mrs. Scott Topping of Pantego, the director of district 10, will preside. The district embraces the counties of Beaufort, Carteret, Hyde, Craven, Jones, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico and Pitt. The state is divided into 10 districts.

In addition to the three main speakers, three state chairmen will attend. They are Mrs. E. C. Walters of Greensboro, state room representative chairman; Dr. Leo Jenkins, dean of East Carolina Teachers college, who is state school education chairman; and Mrs. Paul Davenport of Paeletius, state music chairman.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. The meeting will be adjourned shortly after noon.

Officers Make Arrests On Liqueur Violations

A warrant has been sworn out for Theodore Johnson on a charge of transporting non tax-paid whiskey and Joseph E. Mills, Havelock, and Robert L. Williams, North Harlowe, have been charged with possession of non tax-paid whiskey.

Marshall Ayscue, county ABC officer, and Deputy Sheriff Murray Thomas seized Johnson's 1938 Dodge convertible Friday night near Harlowe. The other two were arrested at 2 a.m. Saturday on highway 101 near Harlowe.

The cases are expected to be tried in the next session of recorder's court, Oct. 24. There will be no recorder's court this morning because superior court is in session.

Webb Gaskill Suffers from Dislocated Collarbone, Is Hospitalized

Eight Carteret county 4-H club boys returned home from Wilmington Friday with $78 in prizes which they won at the Southeastern Junior Dairy Cattle show.

The exhibitors and their parents enjoyed a banquet Thursday night at the Famous club. The program included a performance by Li Shak, a magician; a musical entertainment by Jerry Ball, pianist, and a very timely and interesting address by Dr. Frank Hall, of Wilmington, R. M. Williams, farm agent, reported.

Prior to the show, Dr. R. K. Waugh of State college presented a judging demonstration. Dr. Waugh cited the points to look for in the selection of a good dairy cow.

J. E. L. Wade, Wilmington mayor, and Addison Hewlett, New Hanover county commissioner participated in a hand milking contest.

The International Harvester dealer put on a milking machine demonstration and showed how milking machine equipment should be cleaned.

Of the 84 calves exhibited at the show 28 won blue, 42 red, and 14 white ribbons.

Billy Simmons from Carteret won a blue ribbon; Darrell Piner, Mark Eubanks, Henry Eubanks, Cecil Gillikin, and Leo Watson won second prize, red ribbons; Tommy Ogleby and Herbert Page won third prize white ribbons. The prizes were $12, $10, and $8 respectively.

Parents attending the show from Carteret were Mrs. Elwood Piner, Warren Gillikin, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gillikin, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Eubanks.

Terry Cording of Duplin county won top honors in showmanship and fitting.

State Asks Adams Creek Bid Again

The State Highway commission will start work soon on the Adams Creek road in Carteret county.

The project, a combined one with Craven county, calls for grading and surfacing on 11.28 miles from NC 101 at Harlowe northeast to Adams Creek. The project, previously advertised for inclusion in the Sept. 26 letting, was deferred to Oct. 24. It will be financed under the $200,000,000 program.

If a satisfactory low bid is received at the highway commission's Oct. 24 letting, the project will be let to contract with work probably starting within several weeks after that date.

The commission already has allocated to specific projects about $100,000,000 of the $125,000,000 in road bond funds. Dr. Henry W. Jordan, highway commissioner chairman, has announced that over $50,000,000 of this amount has been spent on secondary road work in all of the state's 100 counties.

At the same time extensive work is under way on the state's primary road system which has received additional highway income because of the availability of the $200,000,000 bond issue for secondary roads.

Baptists Break Ground for Church

M. Leslie Davis, moderator of the Atlantic Baptist association, and one of the long-standing members of the First Baptist church, Beaufort, turned the first spadeful of earth when ground was broken for the new sanctuary Sunday morning following the regular church service.

The congregation left the church and went to the site of the new edifice which was staked off last week. The Rev. Wintrey Davis offered prayer, and after the groundbreaking he pronounced the benediction.

The new building is expected to cost $40,000. Construction will begin as soon as cement is available. The contractors are E. C. Willis and Sons, Morehead City.

When the new sanctuary is occupied, the present church will be converted into Sunday school rooms.

Lions Collect $81.15 In White Cane Sale

A total of $81.15 was collected by Morehead City Lions in their recent White Cane sale, Sale Chairman Harry Van Horn reported at the Thursday night Lions meeting in the Fort Macon hotel.

Van Horn said $56 of the sum collected was for $1 memberships in the North Carolina Association for the Blind. All of that amount will go to state headquarters while one-third, the $25.15 remaining, will be turned over to Lions for use in their blind work.

Fred Lewis commented on the booth Lions will have at the county fair this week in Beaufort. Exhibits will include articles made by the blind and instructional equipment used to assist them.

The Salvation Army committee will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Elks club, Sam Adler, Morehead City, chairman, announced.

Dr. B. Frank Hall, pictured above, pastor of the Pearsall Memorial Presbyterian church of Wilmington, and former pastor of Webb Memorial Presbyterian church, Morehead City, was the principal speaker at a banquet Thursday night honoring exhibitors in the first annual Southeastern North Carolina Junior Dairy Cattle show at Wilmington.

Former Morehead Pastor Accepts Antioch Charge

The Rev. J. C. Griffin, a former pastor of the Free Will Baptist church of Morehead City, has accepted a call to the Antioch Free Will Baptist church. He began his duties there Sunday. Mr. Griffin succeeds the Rev. Clinton Lupton of Bayboro who resigned.

Succeeding Mr. Griffin in the Morehead City pastorate is the Rev. J. A. Harris who came here in 1949.

The Antioch church is located on the old brick road to Vanceboro just beyond the home place of the late J. K. Hartley. At one time it was located near Askin, but was moved to the present site while Mr. Griffin was pastor in 1919. It was a frame building at that time. In recent years the building has been enlarged, class rooms were constructed and the building brick veneered.

Mr. Griffin served the Antioch church while he was pastor of St. Mary's church in New Bern, preaching to the Antioch congregation the first Sunday in the afternoon and on Saturday night before.

The eastern conference of North Carolina is scheduled to hold its 55th annual session at Antioch tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Rev. S. A. Smith of Beaufort is the moderator and Mr. Lupton is the assistant.

Chamber of Commerce Head Commends Retiring Manager

Dr. Darden J. Eure, president of the Morehead City chamber of commerce, has expressed his and the chamber's appreciation for the work of Robert G. Lowe, retiring manager, in an "open letter to the citizens of Morehead City."

This letter follows:

Dear Friends,

You have all heard that our Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Mr. Robert G. Lowe, Jr., has resigned his position; resignation effective October 15, 1950. It is with regret that we accept his resignation.

Few people have applied themselves so unselfishly to their chosen profession as our good secretary; one has only to look about at the growth of Morehead City, the number of tourists who have visited our fair city, to the many conventions held here in increasing number each year, to the many news stories and pictures that go out from his office to publications in nearly every state of this union, to mention only a few of the fruits of his endeavors.

These things just do not happen in Morehead City because we, who live here, feel that it is indeed "God's chosen spot"—no, it is because some organization is selling our town to other people. Your Chamber of Commerce, under the steady guiding hand of Mr. Lowe, has accomplished much for the good of our township.

The members of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce know Mr. Lowe to be a man of good habits, faithful to his vocation, his family and his fellowman. He commands the respect of the entire community at large.

So in accepting his resignation, let us say: we are most grateful to him for his many good works while serving as our Chamber of Commerce Secretary and our very best

Judge Chester Morris, native of Currituck county, charged the grand jury at the opening session of superior court yesterday morning with the gravity of their duty on "a body of grand inquiry for this county."

Court Term Opens With Charge To Grand Jury

Ivey Mason Serves as Foreman; Four Divorces Granted Yesterday

Judge Chester Morris, native of Currituck county, charged the grand jury at the opening session of superior court yesterday morning with the gravity of their duty on "a body of grand inquiry for this county."

He stressed the importance of their proceedings being kept secret. "A person whose character may be white as the driven snow may be investigated and if information to that effect were to be divulged, his reputation would be at stake. Also secret proceedings protect members of the grand jury who otherwise may be afraid to divulge knowledge, if he felt harm would come to him or his family," declared the jurist.

He requested that the jury look into financial matters in the various county offices, that justice of the peace reports be checked, and school buses and the jail inspected.

Purpose of Jury

Judge Morris commented that both he and the grand jurors were in the court room for the same purpose, the administration of justice. "The court cannot operate without your cooperation," he emphasized.

At the close of his charge, Leslie Moore, for business reasons, asked to be excused from grand jury duty. The judge stated that he excuses no juror but the foreman could do so if he wishes. The foreman was warned not to let the grand jury number go below 14.

Divorces Granted

Following dismissal of the grand jury, the following divorces were granted: Hanrahan vs. Hanrahan, Irvin vs. Irvin, Davis vs. Davis, and Riggs vs. Riggs.

The divorce case of Mr. Frank Leonard against Mrs. Frank Leonard was non-suited.

Chosen to serve on the grand jury were the following: Ivey Mason foreman, Burgess Davis, Allen Jones, W. J. Dail, Kenneth McCabe, B. B. Arrington, C. T. Whitehurst, O. S. Clawson, J. D. Lewis, Brady A. Lewis, Elmer H. Lupton, E. L. Piner, Alfred Willis, L. H. Watson, J. C. Mundine, A. H. Chadwick, Leslie Moore and A. W. Fulford. Guard of the grand jury is J. B. Morton, Beaufort.

Booklet Tells Of Concert Service

When workers attend the kickoff banquet for the Community Concerts Membership drive Monday night, Nov. 6, at Beaufort school, they will be given kits which include a pocket-size book on Community Concerts 1950-51.

This book contains pictures of more than a hundred artists sponsored by Community Concert Service, a division of Columbia Artists Management, Inc., New York. It also explains Community Concerts' purpose—to take good music to the people—tells of the service it provides, and the plan of the organization.

A Community Concerts association has been organized here for the first time this year under the name Carteret-Cherry Point Community Concerts association. A one-week campaign, beginning Nov. 6, has been set aside for the selling of memberships.

Mrs. Charles Hassell, Beaufort, president of the association, urges each family to set aside money in their budgets now so that they may purchase tickets in November. An adult membership is $6 and child's $3. Concerts will be given in Beaufort and Morehead City.

Three concerts are planned. Among the artists which may be engaged are vocalists, instrumentalists, choruses, musical novelty teams, and other types of musicians who have been acclaimed unsurpassed in their field.

The theme of the Community Concerts association is "A Carnegie Hall in every town."

Men Comprise First Group Since World War II

The first group of Carteret county men to be drafted since the Korean crisis, will leave Beaufort for Fayetteville Thursday morning. Twenty-seven registrants, listed below, will meet at the bus station at 6:30 a.m.

Mrs. Ruby D. Holland, draft board clerk, stated that there are several others who are delinquent and are being ordered up, but they are not included in the call for 27.

Passed Exams

The following men underwent processing at Fort Bragg last month and passed physical and mental tests:

Leon A. Mann, jr., Walter E. Glancy, RFD 1, Milton R. Gould, Manly G. Smith, RFD 1, William C. Daugherty, RFD 1, Marion D. Smith, RFD 2, John E. Barbour, jr., RFD 1, all of Newport.

James F. Wooten, Leroy Gillikin, RFD 1, William H. Walton, William C. Garner, Charles T. Hamilton, Frank R. Hester, jr., and Isaac N. Parker, jr., all of Beaufort.

Joseph Smith, Chauncey E. Cojenda, J. B. Edgerton, Willie H. Pickett, William L. Lewis, Francis B. Davis, Elijah L. Nelson, and Larry M. Cannon, all of Morehead City.

Ikke W. Willis, Harkers Island; Mervin Fulcher, Stacy; William S. Taylor, Sea Level; Roderick A. Hill, Atlantic; and Guy Lewis, Salter Path.

Registration Required

Mrs. Holland emphasized again yesterday that all males born after Aug. 30, 1922 must register with the selective service board. If registration was not made in this county or at any other board in 1948—or since that time, the prospective serviceman should present himself to the local board for immediate registration or be liable to prosecution under the Selective Service Act of 1948, Mrs. Holland explained.

All males reaching the age of 18 must register within five days after their 18th birthday.

The Carteret county draft office is located on the second floor of the court house annex, Beaufort, and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Rotarians Hear Of Youth Work

An account of the trip made to Germany this past summer by 10 North Carolina Methodist youths was given Morehead City Rotarians at their Thursday night meeting in First Baptist Sunday school rooms. David Cozart, New Bern insurance man who was adult counselor to the youths, described their trip.

Cozart said the trip was made as a part of a national Methodist youth caravan to assist in reconstruction of German churches and buildings. The group, at its own expense, spent two months in Germany.

Members of the caravan worked closely with German boys and girls their own age. Cozart stated, and a strong bond of friendship was welded by the time the journey ended. He said many hours of recreation were spent with youth from each nation.

German laborers assisted in reconstruction work, the speaker explained, but not for money. The value of currency fluctuated so rapidly that they could not be certain of enough to buy a meal so they worked in return for hot meals.

Camera slides of the various projects and undertakings of the caravan were shown Rotarians, also. Guests were Manly and Neal O. Wade of Charlottesville, Va.

Rotarians Hear Of Youth Work

An account of the trip made to Germany this past summer by 10 North Carolina Methodist youths was given Morehead City Rotarians at their Thursday night meeting in First Baptist Sunday school rooms. David Cozart, New Bern insurance man who was adult counselor to the youths, described their trip.

Cozart said the trip was made as a part of a national Methodist youth caravan to assist in reconstruction of German churches and buildings. The group, at its own expense, spent two months in Germany.

Members of the caravan worked closely with German boys and girls their own age. Cozart stated, and a strong bond of friendship was welded by the time the journey ended. He said many hours of recreation were spent with youth from each nation.

German laborers assisted in reconstruction work, the speaker explained, but not for money. The value of currency fluctuated so rapidly that they could not be certain of enough to buy a meal so they worked in return for hot meals.

Camera slides of the various projects and undertakings of the caravan were shown Rotarians, also. Guests were Manly and Neal O. Wade of Charlottesville, Va.

Booklet Tells Of Concert Service

When workers attend the kickoff banquet for the Community Concerts Membership drive Monday night, Nov. 6, at Beaufort school, they will be given kits which include a pocket-size book on Community Concerts 1950-51.

This book contains pictures of more than a hundred artists sponsored by Community Concert Service, a division of Columbia Artists Management, Inc., New York. It also explains Community Concerts' purpose—to take good music to the people—tells of the service it provides, and the plan of the organization.

A Community Concerts association has been organized here for the first time this year under the name Carteret-Cherry Point Community Concerts association. A one-week campaign, beginning Nov. 6, has been set aside for the selling of memberships.

Mrs. Charles Hassell, Beaufort, president of the association, urges each family to set aside money in their budgets now so that they may purchase tickets in November. An adult membership is $6 and child's $3. Concerts will be given in Beaufort and Morehead City.

Three concerts are planned. Among the artists which may be engaged are vocalists, instrumentalists, choruses, musical novelty teams, and other types of musicians who have been acclaimed unsurpassed in their field.

The theme of the Community Concerts association is "A Carnegie Hall in every town."

Chamber of Commerce Head Commends Retiring Manager

Dr. Darden J. Eure, president of the Morehead City chamber of commerce, has expressed his and the chamber's appreciation for the work of Robert G. Lowe, retiring manager, in an "open letter to the citizens of Morehead City."

This letter follows:

Dear Friends,

You have all heard that our Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Mr. Robert G. Lowe, Jr., has resigned his position; resignation effective October 15, 1950. It is with regret that we accept his resignation.

Few people have applied themselves so unselfishly to their chosen profession as our good secretary; one has only to look about at the growth of Morehead City, the number of tourists who have visited our fair city, to the many conventions held here in increasing number each year, to the many news stories and pictures that go out from his office to publications in nearly every state of this union, to mention only a few of the fruits of his endeavors.

These things just do not happen in Morehead City because we, who live here, feel that it is indeed "God's chosen spot"—no, it is because some organization is selling our town to other people. Your Chamber of
