

Pfc. Warren C. Day, Lola, Reported Missing in Action

Pfc. Warren (Tiny) C. Day, 19, is reported missing in action in Korea since Dec. 12, according to a telegram from the war department received Saturday night by his mother, Mrs. Olivia Day of Lola.

Day enlisted in the Army Jan. 25, 1948, and received his basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He was home on furlough last July and told his mother at that time that he would be sent to Japan.

Landed at Inchon

Day was among those who made the landing at Inchon. He was attached to the 31st Infantry Regiment of the 7th Division.

His cousin, Master Sergeant Leo Lupton, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lupton, reside in New Bern, wrote in a letter home, received about ten days ago, that "Tiny's outfit was destroyed."

"Tiny" Day, so known throughout his youth and at Atlantic where he attended school, was Tiny in name only. His Cedar Island friends like to recount how he "knocked the eyeballs out of two Marines at once in a fight near Beaufort."

Father Drowned

His father, Herbert Day, was lost at Drumm inlet on Dec. 9, 1933, when he tried to pole a skiff to the Core Banks Coast Guard station to ask for help in starting the engine of his big boat. Tiny's grandfather and others who stayed with the larger boat searched for him when he had failed to return some hours later. No trace of his body was ever found.

The missing soldier's family consists of his mother; one sister, Vera, at home; two brothers, Alvin, at home, and Virgil who is employed by the FBI in Washington, D. C. Virgil was a bomber radioman in World War II and engaged in many bombing missions over Europe.

Townfolk Make Survey to Find Living Quarters

Beaufort Committee Seeks Space for Military Men, Families

Fifty members of the Beaufort Armed Services Hospitality committee this week are canvassing the town and collecting data on the number of rooms, apartments, or homes that are or could be made available to military personnel.

This survey, expected to be complete by Friday, is being sponsored by the chamber of commerce and the Junior Woman's club, with cooperation of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans Service organization, the Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal churches, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, the Women's club, Jaycees, Rotary club, Carteret Business and Professional Women's club, Teenage canteen, PTA, Eastern Star, Masonic lodge, Odd Fellows lodge and Rebecca lodge.

Representatives from each of these organizations, who in turn form the BASH committee, met at the town hall Thursday night to receive their instructions. Each person was assigned a territory to cover. They will ask a homeowner questions regarding living space that he could provide. These questionnaires will be returned to the chamber of commerce.

The chamber is also requesting that now and any time in the future, anyone knowing of living space available should call the chamber, 2-8241 and anyone knowing of newcomers to town should do likewise.

The newcomers will receive a letter of welcome from the chamber and the Beaufort Welcoming committee will call on them.

Citizens are being requested, in line with patriotic duty, to "make room for our service men. Help your town. Your neighbors are cooperating. Won't You?"

REA Officials Attend Meeting

Attending a Rural Electrification administration meeting in New Bern last week were Directors Gordon Laughton, George Brockway, Earl C. Day, Roger S. Jones and Manager W. C. Carlton of the Carteret-Craven Electric Membership corporation.

At the session on executive development directors discussed the various responsibilities that were theirs in the job of policy-making for locally owned, and locally controlled electric cooperatives.

"The leader in the session was William H. Grove, regional head of the management division of REA. He cited examples where the success or failure of businesses, such as local co-ops, have depended on the executive decisions made by the directors and management.

So interesting and informative were the many points developed that the directors and managers present voted unanimously to plan quarterly meeting of this type. Manager Carlton reported. The next meeting to be held in New Bern again and attended by managers and directors from co-ops in eastern part of the State will feature a discussion on "Employee Relations."

March of Dimes Begins In Carteret County

The 1951 March of Dimes is underway in Carteret county and throughout the United States as a massive attack against the only epidemic disease known to man that is still on the increase — a disease that in the last three years has stricken more than 100,000 people and cost the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis an unprecedented $58,000,000 for patient care alone.

A. H. James county director of the campaign, said today every phase of community life is represented among the volunteers who expect to raise $7,200 by the end of this month.

"The need confronting us," James said, "is the greatest in the history of our 13-year-old battle against polio. The costs of the last three tragic polio years have left the National Foundation epidemic aid funds exhausted."

Town Complies With Housing Authority Request

Morehead City has agreed to turn over to the East Carolina Regional Housing authority any property it owns to facilitate construction of the low-cost housing projects.

The federal government has allocated Morehead City 50 homes, 25 for white families and 25 for colored.

The white project will be located between 22 and 23rd streets and Avery and Bay, the colored between 13th and 14th streets, Bay street and Calico creek.

George McNeill, at a special meeting of the town board Friday night in the town hall, told the commissioners that the East Carolina Regional housing authority requested a certain amount of property believed by the authority to be owned by the town and also asked the town fathers to close certain alleys and streets in the approved sites.

The board agreed to do so, providing the housing project is carried through as planned. McNeill told the board that Emmett Powell, executive director of the East Carolina Regional Housing authority, informed him that the only holdup on actual building of the homes was the action he requested of the town board and which was taken Friday night.

According to McNeill, five houses will have to be removed from the colored site and five from the white before construction can start.

37 Men Drawn For Jury Service

Thirty-seven men were selected for jury service during the special term of superior court, for trial of civil cases, beginning Monday, Feb. 12.

The county board chose the jurors at their January meeting. The ones selected in November for the civil term in December could not serve because, according to law, the names drawn must be specified for the court in which the jurors are to serve and cannot be transferred.

The December term of court was not held because of lack of a judge.

Jurors are as follows: George B. Taylor, J. L. Sharpe, Clinton S. Garner, C. C. Jones, R. Guy Garner, all of Newport; Willie F. Lewis, George R. Lewis, Thomas B. Lewis, A. E. Cannon, Julius A. Nelson, W. J. Laughton, all of Morehead City.

Alex. Truitt, J. D. Biggs, M. M. Dudley, D. F. Merrill, Will Arrington, Wilson Golden, J. L. Congleton, all of Beaufort; George M. Rose, W. O. Guthrie, Dan Yeomans, James Moore, Roosevelt Davis, Fernie Yeomans, all of Harkers Island.

Morehead Buys Earth Shovel

Morehead City commissioners, in session Friday night, at the municipal building, authorized purchase of a hydraulic earth shoveler at a cost of $5,500.

The board considered two offers, one from the Carolina Tractor and Equipment co., Raleigh, and the other from the North Carolina Equipment co., Raleigh. The latter company, in the commissioners' opinion, presented the most attractive offer.

Delivery of the machine was promised in about three weeks. Two other pieces of machinery owned by the town were also purchased from the North Carolina Equipment co., the motor grader and the fire truck which has not yet been delivered.

Commissioners also earmarked $6,500 of unbudgeted funds for operation of the street department up to September 1951. Purchase of a new police car, to replace the present patrol wagon, was discussed.

The earth shoveler, a reconditioned machine with a 90-day guarantee, will be paid for over a period of 24 months, $2,000 down and the remainder at spaced intervals with 6 per cent simple interest.

The new piece of machinery will be used to build up low cemetery lots, to push trash at the dump into the water, and will be rented out.

U, V, W, X, Y, Z Renewals Due

Raleigh — Persons whose surnames begin with U, V, W, X, Y, and Z should now apply for renewals of driver's license, the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles reported today. Motorists who obtained renewal of their driver's licenses in 1947 under the re-issuance program and whose birthdays fall early this year should also apply.

Motorists who are uncertain about the expiration date of their licenses should refer to the lower right hand corner of their present license cards. These motorists will be permitted to seek second renewal 30 days in advance of the expiration date, which falls on their birth date. The majority will have surnames beginning with A or B, but a few will fall in other alphabetical groups.

Approximately 180,000 North Carolinians are included in the U, V, W, X, Y, and Z group. Persons seeking second renewals are estimated at 85,000 or 90,000.

To avoid the last minute rush of the U, V, W, X, Y, and Z group, which expires June 30, the department suggests that motorists come early.

Two Marines Escape Injury When Car Upsets Saturday

Two Marines miraculously escaped injury at 11:15 Saturday night when their car turned over at Hardesty's corner six miles east of Beaufort.

Keith W. Conner, a Marine of Cherry Point, was driving the car, a 1949 Ford and was headed west on highway 70. With him was Conley Owens, a Marine stationed at Camp Lejeune.

Conner told investigating highway patrolmen that he turned to talk with his friend and just as he did so, he came upon the sharp turn. The car skidded across the road, hit the ditch and flipped over. Damage to the car has been estimated at $600.

Patrolmen J. W. Sykes and W. E. Pickard investigated.

Recruiting of Beaufort Civil Defense Workers Begins Today

Assemblyman From Carteret Introduces Bill

House Speaker Assigns George W. Dill to 11 Committees

Recruiting of personnel in Beaufort's civil defense program will begin today.

Persons wishing to enlist in the corps of civil defense workers may register between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the town hall, Beaufort. Accepting enlistments is Mrs. W. H. Taylor, jr., co-chairman of the public education committee for civil defense.

Workers are needed in the following classifications: air raid wardens, minutemen, communications, fire department, auxiliary police, secretaries, Red Cross, engineers, messengers, motor pool, first aid, first aid station personnel, and nurses' aides.

Enlistees may express their preference for the type of work they would like to do. If the enlistee has no preference, the civil defense committee will place him as they see fit.

At a meeting of the civil defense committee Thursday night in the Merrill building, Grayden Paul, deputy defense director, stressed the necessity of having people to carry out the program and urged recruiting of citizens as soon as possible.

Glenn Adair, communications chairman, made an extensive report on communications and Neal Willis, also assisting in communications, stated that all radio operators are awaiting an assignment of a national frequency from FCC for civil defense communication work.

Fire Chief Charles B. Hartell reported that the firemen are fully in favor of the program and presented a list of the items required by the fire department to carry out their phase of the program.

Gene Smith, defense director, is compiling all plans of individual chairmen, and a list of their needs for carrying out the program. These will be sent to the state civil defense office.

Negotiations are going forward now for films on methods of protection for civilians during bombing. These films, to be made available through Cherry Point, will be shown in Beaufort.

Safety Patrol Boy Issues Citation

J. A. Whitehurst, Beaufort, was warned by Mayor W. L. Derrickson in mayor's court yesterday afternoon to heed the stop and go signals operated by safety patrol boys at Morehead City school.

Whitehurst was ordered to appear in court on charge of violating directions issued by Nathan Taylor, safety patrolman, Young Taylor, who testified before the mayor, said that Whitehurst saw the stop signal but failed to stop.

Whitehurst contended that the boy was in the process of putting the sign up as he entered the intersection. The mayor warned him that it was important that the patrol's directions be obeyed and no sentence was issued.

Bonnie Rice, Morehead City, was ordered to pay costs of court on a charge of speeding on Bridges street. The case against E. A. Hesse, Morehead City, who was charged with blocking a street was dismissed.

Officer Richard McLean testified that Hesse, driver of a bread truck, backs his truck into the warehouse between Arendell and Bridges on 12th and while his truck is parked there, no traffic can pass.

McLean said the defendant had been warned, prior to issuance of the citation, not to block the street.

TB Seal Sale Nets $1,610.55

Mrs. Martha Loftin, executive secretary of the Carteret County Tuberculosis association, announced today that $1,610.55 was collected in the 1950 Christmas seal campaign.

Reminders to persons who have not made contributions or who have not returned the seals will be sent out this week, she said. If anyone has made a contribution and receives a reminder they are requested to let Mrs. Loftin know in order that a check up can be made and credit given where it is due.

Under the supervision of Sudie Fennell seals were sold at the W. S. King school, Morehead City, and $55.85 was turned in. In charge of sales at Queen Street school, Beaufort, was Eva Wilson. The final figure on sales there has not been obtained.

The goal for the 1950 drive was $3,000. Contributions are still acceptable, Mrs. Loftin stated.

Firemen Answer Call To Queen Street School

Beaufort firemen rushed to the Queen Street school at 7:55 Saturday night but there was no fire.

A welder's acetylene tank blew up, caused a flash of flame that alarmed a child nearby who turned in the alarm. The welder was repairing a crack in the boiler at the school. H. L. Joslyn, superintendent of schools, reported.

Firemen reported that it was so dark around the school that had it been necessary to fight a fire, lack of lights would have been a great hindrance.

State Paves 39.1 Miles of Roads

Thirty-nine and one tenth miles of road were graded and paved in Carteret county during 1950, according to a report released today by the State Highway and Public Works commission.

Miles graded and stabilized with traffic bound macadam totaled 34.3, miles graded were 31 and miles now being graded total 25. This work was made possible under the $200,000,000 secondary road program.

Roads paved within communities were a total of 1.5 miles long. This work was done at Marshallberg and Atlantic. Miles stabilized in the county were 4.3.

Henry W. Jordan, chairman of the highway commission, stated: "The highway commission more than tripled its pace of road-building during 1950, largely because of the availability of special bond money, ideal weather conditions and excellent cooperation from the roadbuilding industry. More work was finished both on the primary and the secondary road systems than ever before in history."
