Ann Blyth Still Gets First-Day Movie Jitters

Ann Blyth, one of Hollywood's youngest "veterans" in the field of acting, admits that she still gets first day jitters. Starring with Mark Stevens in Universal-International's new comedy release, "Katie Did It," opening Wednesday at the Morehead theatre, Ann says she still gets that sea-sick feeling every time she starts work in a new picture.

Three Star in Outdoor Drama

Burt Lancaster and Robert Walker, as foster brothers, vie for the affections of Joanne Dru in "Vengeance Valley," M-G-M's spectacular Technicolor drama of the early West. Also prominent in the new picture which will play Thursday and Friday at the East Drive-In theatre, are Sally Forrest, John Ireland and Ray Collins.

Ronald Reagan Offers Advice

Ronald Reagan, one of Hollywood's most respected stars and current president of the Screen Actors Guild, has some sage advice that should prove beneficial to film studios now developing new acting talent.

Now starring with Diana Lynn in Universal-International's new laugh hit, "Bedtime for Bonzo," which introduces Bonzo the five-year-old chimp acting sensation and opens Thursday at the Beaufort theatre, Reagan points out that every studio has its dramatic coach, its staff of dance, voice and riding instructors, so why not a social coach?

"A great many kids, without the knowledge of how Hollywood operates, miff their opportunities because they don't know how to conduct themselves.

"These youngsters need instruction in matters of dates, dress, courtesies and deportment because would do an entirely different scene. I was so busy learning my lines and making costume changes that I almost forgot my habitual first-day fright. After we had made the scene he took me aside and told me the switch had been a deliberate attempt to put me at ease."

the spotlight is always on you when your face becomes known to millions.

"Too, many," he concludes "think that nightclubbing and temperament are a substitute for hard work. Consequently they get off on the wrong foot."

"Bedtime for Bonzo" casts Reagan in the role of a young college professor who attempts to raise Bonzo as a child. He is assisted in the gay experiment by lovely Diana Lynn.

Hydrant Flow Swamps Fireman
San Fernando, Calif.— AP — Blaine R. Kensley says he was nearly drowned while fighting a fire. The city fireman was manning a hose at a residential blaze when the hydrant broke. A great gush of water knocked him against a nearby engine and the stream kept beating at him. After coughing out the water, he was treated at an emergency hospital for a fractured collar bone.
