Marines Present Three Plaques To Governor, Two Women's Clubs

Cherry Point.—Officers and men of the Marine Corps Air station at Cherry point presented Governor Kerr Scott with a plaque containing an aerial photograph of historical old Fort Macon in a ceremony in the Governor's office last week. The presentation was made by Colonel F. D. Weir, chief of staff of the Second Marine Air Wing, and other Marine officials. Two other plaques were presented, one to the North Carolina Federation of Women's clubs and another to the Society for the Preservation of Antiquities. Mrs. K. B. Johnson accepted the plaque for the clubwomen, while Mrs. J. Melville Broughton, wife of the late Governor Broughton, received the presentation for the society. "I am very proud and grateful to receive this splendid plaque on behalf of the people of North Carolina," Governor Scott said. "Such a fine gesture on the part of the Marine Corps does much to further the already excellent relations between your great service and ourselves," he added. Other members of Colonel Weir's party included Captain John P. Kelly, and Captain John McCabe, from Cherry Point, Lieutenant Robert G. Parrish and Captain Branden, Marine recruiting officers from Raleigh.
