The X-ray trailer will be in Morehead City Monday and Tuesday and in Beaufort Thursday and Friday, Dr. N. T. Ennett, health officer, stated today. X-rays will be taken on those days from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

In Morehead City the trailer will be near the City theatre and in Beaufort in front of the Joe House drug store. Dr. Ennett reminded the public that X-rays will be taken of the following persons only: "mass X-ray patients" who need follow-up X-ray; patients referred by physicians; persons exposed, at some time, to tuberculosis in the home; persons who, at some time, have had tuberculosis; persons with loss of weight or strength, or any other symptom of early tuberculosis.

Films will be developed at the Morehead City hospital.

The health officer said it is not known when another visit by the X-ray trailer will be possible and therefore urges that all persons in the groups mentioned above take advantage of the service being offered, free, next week.

In connection with the X-ray program, Dr. Ennett released the following statistics: in 1946 there were nine new cases in the county; in 1947, seven new cases; in 1948, eight new cases; in 1949, 12 new cases (year of mass X-ray); 1950, seven new cases; 1951, 12 new cases (nine-month report).

In evaluating these statistics the health officer commented on the fact that the county has had more X-ray trailer service in the past year than it has ever had before, in other words, more persons have been X-rayed, and therefore, more tuberculosis cases have been found.

Statistics on tuberculosis deaths in the county follow: 1946, four; 1947, two; 1948, four; 1949, five; 1950, six; and 1951, three (eight months' report).

In connection with the deaths, Dr. Ennett stated that the lack of free beds at the state sanatorium was, in his opinion, responsible for a number of these deaths. He stated that the waiting list is from 3 to 11 months long. He said that the one bright spot in the tuberculosis problem is that when the present sanatorium building program is completed (which should be within the next 18 months) there will be enough beds available so that a patient may enter the sanatorium the very day the diagnosis of tuberculosis is made.

First Community Concert Will Be Presented at 8:15 Monday

The first Community Concert of the season will be presented by the Apollo Boys' choir at 8:15 Monday night in the Beaufort school auditorium.

Persons will be admitted only with Community Concert membership cards.

Since the Apollo Boys' choir, under the direction of Coleman Cooper, was introduced to the American public at New York in 1940, it has taken a permanent place among the major musical organizations of America.

Members of the choir range in age from 9 to 14 years and come from many states. The choir is non-denominational and open to any boy whose musical and academic ability can meet the requirements. Since the director uses only unchanged voices, he is always seeking new talent and extends an invitation to interested boys, parents, and teachers to contact the Apollo Choir school at Palm Beach, Fla., for auditions.

During the past 10 years the choir has filled over 1,000 engagements. It has appeared with many of the nation's leading symphony orchestras and over all major radio networks including the artist series sponsored by the Bell Telephone Co.

Persons unable to use their membership cards Monday night should contact Mrs. W. L. Woodard, Morehead, or Mrs. George Dill, Jr., Beaufort, or Mrs. Dill, jr., Beaufort.

If possible, Mrs. Woodard or Mrs. Dill will sell that membership card for $2.50 for Monday's performance only and the $2.50 will in turn be paid to the person owning the ticket. Anyone wishing to go to the concert should also contact Mrs. Woodard or Mrs. Dill, if they are not a member of the Community Concert association.

Accompanying the choir Monday night will be Bert Hallock.

This Thanksgiving Made History

Here is an historical portrayal of the first Thanksgiving feast, a meal few Americans would have enjoyed, for tastes have changed along with ways of life. And it would be a faint-hearted pilgrim who would hesitate (were he to appear at a football game) to take a shot at that oval "bird" flying through the air.

Morehead City Will Move Police Headquarters to Municipal Building

The Morehead City town commissioners voted at their Tuesday night meeting to move the police station from its present quarters on 8th street near Arendell into the office in the municipal building now used by the Rent Control office.

Clerk of Court Will Swear In Court Officers

The officers of Morehead City's new recorder's court will be officially sworn in Saturday morning, Dec. 1, by the clerk of the superior court, A. H. James, the town commissioners decided Tuesday night.

The new officers are George H. McNeill, judge, Herbert A. Phillips, solicitor, and John E. Lashley, clerk. They were appointed Nov. 1 in a special session of the town board.

At a special meeting two weeks ago the board set the monthly salaries of the judge and the solicitor at $200 and $100 respectively.

The board voted Tuesday night to pay the clerk of the recorder's court $50 a month. The commissioners considered two other figures, $45 and $40. They chose the highest, after Mayor George W. Dill explained that the clerk of court must issue all the warrants plus do numerous other jobs. "He will more than earn his $50 a month," said Dill.

D. G. Bell, commissioner, made the motion and Dr. John W. Morris followed with the second.

Bell also moved that Mrs. Blanda McLohan, town treasurer, be the assistant clerk, a non-salaried position. Morris made the second and the commissioners approved.

Commissioner S. C. Holloway moved that $1,000 be taken from the general fund for the operation of the recorder's court for the first month, the court to pay back the money from its earnings. Bell seconded and the board accepted.

Police Chief E. J. Willis was appointed court officer. The job draws no salary.

Port Official of Thailand Visits Port at Morehead City

The Port Authority Commissioner of Thailand, a tiny bronze-faced nobleman, came to Morehead City Tuesday with Col. G. W. Gillette, executive director of the North Carolina Ports authority, to inspect the Morehead City Port terminal.

He is Phya Komarakul Montary, who landed by plane Nov. 1 in this country. This is his first visit to America in almost 30 years, he said.

"I am especially interested," he told THE NEWS-TIMES, "in the operation of your port terminal here, because it is state operated."

"All the ports in Thailand," Montary continued, "are run by the government."

The Siamese commissioner said he was in this country for one purpose only—to learn all he could about American port operations. He refused to discuss internal conditions in his native land.

Montary was educated at London university in Britain. The first word in his name, Phya, is a noble title which he said was untranslatable into English.

Colonel Gillette is host to the distinguished visitor while he visits here and the port of Wilmington. They left Morehead City Tuesday.

Montary first went to Washington, D. C., next to Norfolk, Va., then to Wilmington. Other ports he will visit before returning to Thailand are Houston, Tex., Los Angeles, San Francisco, and New York.

Town Board Acts On Street Matters

The town board of Morehead City voted Tuesday night to pave one block of 11th street next to the graded school and the commissioners also passed a resolution giving the state highway commission right-of-way on 24th st. for the construction of an approach to the new bridge.

Dr. John W. Morris, commissioner, suggested that large signs, in the shape of policemen, be placed two or more blocks from the approaches of the Morehead City graded school in order to give motorists a longer period of time to slow down. The board concurred.

Mayor George W. Dill added that the stationing of a patrolman in the middle of Bridges in front of the school would be advisable so that the children could cross in the middle of Bridges instead of at 11th and 12th streets. No action was taken.

The board left to the discretion of the mayor and the town clerk, John E. Lashley, the selling of several 35-foot ladders used by the fire department for several years.

James Macagna pleaded guilty to driving with improper lights. He paid court costs.

Riley Lee Felton pleaded guilty to driving with improper equipment, a bad muffler. He paid court costs.

Leonard Thomas Smith pleaded guilty to careless and reckless driving. Judge Morris suspended a 60-day jail term on the roads on payment of $10 plus costs.

Eddie B. Walton pleaded guilty to driving after his license had expired. He paid court costs.

William Stanley Lockhart pleaded guilty to driving with improper equipment, a bad muffler. He paid court costs.

Bands Perform Colorful Maneuvers at Half

The Mullet bucket, anxiously awaiting the results of last night's game, received a communique early this morning from a contingent of joyous Beaufortites—probably Jaycees—that the Sea Dogs jarr'd the Eagles to a 6-0 defeat.

The Beaufort victory was its second of the season over Morehead City and is the deciding factor in the residing spot of the Mullet bucket for the coming year. So MB is preparing to make a winter of it in the county seat.

Crash Victim Will Be Buried Sunday

Funeral services for Robert F. Willis, 21, son of Winfield (Wink) Willis, Morehead City, will be conducted Sunday. The exact time had not been set by presstime today.

Willis was killed Wednesday near Lancaster, S. C., when bales of cotton toppled from a truck on to the top of the car in which he was riding. The car was passing the truck on a bridge across the Catawba river when, according to State Highway Patrolman W. S. Sanders, the truck scraped the bridge railing, causing several bales of cotton to fall off on the opposite side.

The falling cotton struck the automobile and crushed the top, pinning Willis underneath, the patrolman added.

Two other men in the automobile, Jacob Klutz and his brother, Hayes, both of Carolina Beach, N. C., were not hurt. The three men, all mechanics, were returning to Carolina Beach after working on a truck in Chester.

Sanders said the driver of the truck, identified as Harvey McClain of Lumberton, N. C., is being held on an open charge. A coroner's jury recommended that he be held for grand jury action.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home of Ambrose Willis, Fisher st. The body will arrive in Morehead City at noon today. In addition to his father, Willis is survived by several brothers and sisters, including Billie Willis of Oxford orphanage.

Police Investigate Three Accidents

Morehead City police investigated three accidents this week. Although damage in an accident Monday was extensive, no one was hurt in that mishap or those occurring on Wednesday and Thursday.

Officers Buck Newsome and Herbert Griffin estimated that damage to the car owned by Mrs. A. R. Paulsen, Newport route 1, amounted to $400 to $500. The car, driven by Miss Mariou Paulsen, was damaged when Miss Paulsen suffered dizzy spells, police said, and ran into two cars parked on .9th street Monday afternoon. The accident occurred at 1:25 p.m.

Officer Newsome stated that after the police arrived on the scene Miss Paulsen fainted several times. She had been proceeding north on 9th street toward Bridges when she lost control of the car. It struck a 1941 model car owned by Charles Messenger, 106 N. 9th, and a 1950 model car owned by Lela Webb Lee. Both cars were parked on the east side of 9th street. No estimate was given on damage to the parked cars.

At 11:45 a.m. Wednesday a 1950 model car driven by Lytle Connel Smith, USCG, Elizabeth city, was involved in an accident with a truck driven by Dennis Bryan Turner of Newport route 1.

Officer Griffin, who investigated, said that the truck was proceeding south on 17th street and collided with Smith who was proceeding east on Evans. Turner said the sun was in his eyes and he did not see the approaching car. No charges were preferred.

A jeep, owned by the Morehead City Yacht basin, and driven by James Arthur Hester, 508 N. 11th st., Morehead City, ran into the rear of a tandem truck delivering steel to the yacht basin. This mishap occurred at 2:10 Thursday afternoon while the truck driver, Prentiss G. Shifflette, had stopped on Bridges st. to ask directions to his destination.

When it was learned that the jeep was owned by the company to which the steel was being delivered, the truck towed the smaller vehicle home.

Officers Newsome and Griffin investigated.
