

Morehead City Jaycees Will Be Host to '53 State Pageant

Morehead City Jaycees again this year entered a bid for the 1953 Miss North Carolina Beauty Pageant — and won. The first time the pageant was held in Morehead City was in 1949. Walter Morris, now president of the Morehead City Jaycees, was chairman of the event.

North Carolina Jaycees voted on Morehead City at their weekend annual convention at Charlotte. The religious activities committee of the Morehead City Jaycees also won third prize for their work this year. The committee was headed by J. C. Harvell.

Bob Rouse, Jr., of Farmville, was elected 8th district vice-president. Beaufort and Morehead City Jaycees are members of the eighth district.

Brame Wins

By 14 votes J. B. Brame of Durham won out over Dave Harris of Charlotte as president of the North Carolina Jaycees.

Vice-presidents, in addition to Rouse, are the following: Dwight Beatty of Waynesville, District 1; D. J. Nick Mando of Mocksville, 2; J. L. Wilkie of Shelby, 3; Bob Cust of Lexington, 4; M. J. Weeks of Fayetteville, 5; Charles Phillips of Chapel Hill, 6; and Elmo Lamm of Spring Hope, 7.

Mike Harper of Sanford, Gene Ochenreiter of Asheville and Ed Hicklin of Burlington were named as members of the national board of directors.

The installation of new officers, an address by Micou Brown, treasurer of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the award of trophies featured the closing banquet.

Trophies Awarded

The Giessen Memorial trophy, presented annually to the outstanding all-around group, went this year to Rocky Mount. The Browne trophy, given to the year's outstanding vice-president, was awarded to Bill Snow of Asheville. Earlier, the organization honored Lester Turnage of Greenville as the "Jaycees' Young Man of the Year."

The delegates also voted to hold their next annual convention in Asheville.

Attending the convention from Morehead City were President Morris, Marion Mills, Luther Lewis, Jimmy Meeks, and Jack Morgan.

Tomorrow Will Be Poppy Day

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in Morehead City, Beaufort and throughout the United States. Millions of Americans will observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the nation's war dead and by making contributions for the welfare of war's living victims, the disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

Women and girls of the two American Legion auxiliaries will be on the streets from early morning through the day with baskets of crepe paper poppies made by disabled veterans, offering everyone an opportunity to pay individual tribute to the war dead by wearing one of the little red memorial flowers.

No price will be asked for the poppies but contributions to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the auxiliary will be received.

All of the poppy workers will be unpaid volunteers, giving their services for the dual purpose of honoring the dead and aiding the disabled. Among them will be members of three generations, wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of men who have served America in the three wars of this century.

The poppies to be distributed are crepe paper replicas of the famous poppies of Flanders Fields which took root and bloomed in the raw earth of the battle graves in Europe, providing nature's floral tribute to the heroic dead. Ever since world war I they have been worn annually throughout the English-speaking world as a symbol of remembrance, and to raise funds for the aid of disabled veterans and children of veterans.

Town Tears Down Pavilion, Puts Up One-Way Sign

The town of Morehead City this week tore down a useless pavilion-type structure on Arendell street west of 5th and put up a large one-way sign in front of the Morehead City Yacht basin where highway 70 divides and becomes Arendell street east of 4th.

The structure which was torn down was the vestige of a filling station.

The black and white one-way sign was ordered six months ago according to Commissioner D. G. Bell, but wasn't painted until just recently. It is hoped this sign will prevent strangers from continuing westward on Arendell street in front of the Jefferson hotel where there is traffic only one way, east.

Clerk Suggests Two-Town Deal

Dan Walker, Beaufort town clerk, at the special session of the Morehead City town board yesterday morning proposed the formation of a joint committee, comprised of Beaufort and Morehead City town officials, to act on purchase of major pieces of town equipment.

Walker suggested that such cooperation on purchases would make it unnecessary for each town to undertake major expenditures for identical types of equipment. He proposed that the towns then rent the equipment, if and when needed, to each other.

The Beaufort official also proposed a county-wide radio-telephone unit in which the county, Beaufort, and Morehead City would cooperate on purchase and operation. The clerk suggested that such a proposal be made to the county commissioners at their meeting in June.

Theo Lawrence Posts $200 Bond

Cases Against Lawrence, Sadie May Lewis, Continued Tuesday

Continued in county recorder's court, Beaufort, Tuesday, were cases against Theodore Lawrence, repeated offender of motor vehicle laws, and Mrs. Sadie Mae Lewis, charged with assault with an automobile.

Lawrence was charged with driving drunk and failure to comply with a previous order of the court directing that he not operate a vehicle on the public highways of North Carolina. He was put under $200 bond for his appearance in court next week.

Mrs. Lewis, Broad Creek, has been charged with attempting to run down with an automobile Nellie Jones of Harkers Island. The incident is reported to have occurred Monday on Harkers Island.

A three-month sentence against Reuben Franklin Bell, who pleaded guilty to careless and reckless driving, was suspended on payment of $25 and costs.

George Brinson Moore, charged with driving under the influence of narcotics, pleaded guilty to reckless driving and paid $25 and costs. Johnnie Garner pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and paid $10 and costs.

Court costs were levied against the following charged with violation of the motor vehicle law: John Gottee Roe, Amanda Congleton Chadwick, both charged with driving with an expired operator's license; Nina Gillikin, Freeman James Bryant, Martha Sue Davis, all charged with driving without a license.

Ervin Gillikin, allowing an unlicensed person to drive; Carl William Willis, improper muffler; Francis Louis Ross, Robert Clesie Riggs, John Lawson Story, and Robert Lee Williams, all charged with speeding.

Malicious prosecution was ruled in the case of L. Y. Davis, charged with larceny of less than $100 and trespassing. The prosecuting witness, L. T. Mathis, was ordered to pay court costs.

The state decided not to prosecute cases against Floyd Graham, Ellis Jones, Jr., and Louise Lawrence, charged with driving without an operator's license; and Phillips Long, having improper lights.

DHIA Herds Give More, Better Milk

The 10,244 cows that were on Dairy Herd Improvement association test in North Carolina last year produced an average of 8,642 pounds of milk and 364 pounds of butter fat, R. M. Williams, county farm agent, reports. The milk production average was 92 per cent higher and the butterfat 82 per cent higher than the average for all cows in the state. There were 304 herds operating under this program in the state last year. When milk and butterfat records can be almost doubled by following a program of this type, there must be profitable reasons why all progressive-minded dairymen participate, Williams commented.

A. C. Kimrey, extension dairy specialist, says that dairy farmers lose thousands of dollars annually through failure to keep onion flavor out of milk. Most of the loss can be avoided by proper care, he added. Dairymen should keep their cows off onion infested fields for at least six hours before milking.

Cows should be kept off the onions entirely. One good practice is to graze onion infested fields with dry cows and young cattle. If this is not possible, when the cows are taken off the onion pastures for six hours before milking, they should be given free access to hay and water.

Awards Given

The Beaufort Red Cross chapter this week mailed awards of merit to workers who assisted in the 1952 Red Cross drive. Chairman of the campaign to raise funds was Braxton Adair.

A. W. Pridgen, principal of Atlantic school, was anxious that before this school year ends, the Taylor brothers of Sea Level, who equipped the Atlantic school science room, be given due recognition and credit.

The county has placed in the science room a plaque dated 1951. The plaque reads: The Equipment in This Room Was Donated to the Atlantic Consolidated School by D. E. Taylor, W. R. Taylor, A. T. Taylor and L. M. Taylor of Sea Level, N. C.

Pridgen believes that the science room is one of the most valuable instruments of learning in the school. But it was barren and useless in 1950 when the new $230,000 school building was completed. The PTA was swamped with other projects and the science room would have gone a-begging for many months had not the Taylors offered to supply the necessary items for teaching of physics, general science, and biology.

The 20 1/2 by 35-foot room was equipped and made ready for use last fall at a cost of $2,250. Among the items used there are electric motors and generators, slide projector and films, scales, electro-scope, test tubes, Bunsen burners, chemicals and metals, tripods, specimens, electrolysis machine, model steam engine, magnets, vacuum pump, funnels, jars, rubber hose, weights, calipers, and micro slides.

Instructing this year's 55 students in the various science classes was Mrs. Elsie P. Salter.

The four Taylor brothers recently purchased for the school auditorium carpets for the rear, front, and aisles.

Members of the Beaufort town board, in special session Wednesday, gave approval on adoption of daylight saving time and set 2 a.m. Sunday as the hour to move clocks one hour ahead. That date was later set aside in deference to Morehead City where town commissioners, in special session Thursday, deferred action pending a poll of businessmen.

The Beaufort officials felt, due to many persons living in one town and working in the other, that one town's adoption of fast time would only confound the confusion which already exists.

After action by the Beaufort commissioners, the clerk, Dan Walker, contacted Mayor George W. Dill, Morehead City, and suggested that his board consider the matter.

Mayor Dill, at yesterday's meeting at the town hall, which was attended by Beaufort's town clerk, contended that the merchants should be consulted and that the town fathers should not make a decision until the opinion of businessmen was obtained.

J. A. DuBois, manager of the Morehead City chamber of commerce, said that the Morehead City Merchants association sent a letter to the county board asking that the commissioners consider adoption of daylight saving time, but the merchants had not taken an official vote.

It was suggested that the chamber of commerce mail ballots to their members asking them to state their opinion on the issue. Because Beaufort's town clerk and the Morehead City officials agreed that

The editorial on daylight saving time appearing in today's paper states that Beaufort will go on daylight saving time at 2 a.m. Sunday. That is INCORRECT. The editorial page section was printed Wednesday afternoon prior to the meeting Thursday morning in which the Sunday date was set aside so that Morehead City could consider the matter.

both towns should go on fast time or not at all, Mayor Dill was requested to contact Mayor Hassell in regard to deferring the date of moving clocks ahead in Beaufort.

Commissioners D. G. Bell and Dr. Morris commended that Carteret county would be the only county in the state going on fast time. Bell said the summer visitors may not like it. George McNeill, town attorney, pointed out that the bus lines continue to operate on standard time and the mayor said he believed Cherry Point workers were pleased with the present set-up whereby they have an "extra hour to shop" when they return from the base.

Attending the meeting in addition to those mentioned above were John Lashley, town clerk, C. S. Holloway and M. T. Mills, commissioners.

Walker was invited by the Morehead City town board to appear at the meeting.

Anthrax Outbreak Endangers State

Robert Laughton, Carteret county Farm Bureau president has received through R. Flake Shaw, executive vice-president of the State Farm Bureau, a report that a severe outbreak of anthrax of livestock has occurred in a number of the mid-western states. This outbreak occurred as the result of shipping raw bone meal into Columbus, Ohio.

Shaw points out that bone meal is used in large quantities in the manufacture of fertilizer and that this fertilizer is shipped into North Carolina. Anthrax spores will live in the soil as long as a quarter of a century after being applied in fertilizers. The Farm Bureau official has contacted livestock sanitary officials in the state urging them to adopt regulations to prohibit the intra-state processing and sale of bone meal.

The American Farm Bureau Advisory committee has also urged the Bureau of Animal Industry to adopt regulations requiring that all bone meal used in feed and commercial fertilizer be treated to insure against the spread of anthrax.

The letters, signed by Dan L. Walker, town clerk, reported how much money in taxes was due, adding, "The law requires that all unpaid property taxes be advertised and that wages be garnished for unpaid personal property taxes. If it is not possible to pay the full amount, see the tax collector and make at least a partial payment."

The town clerk serves as tax collector.

Health Office Establishes Rules For Laborers

Department Sets Standards For Housing Migrants, Curbing Disease

To provide healthful living conditions for migrant laborers and to protect the permanent residents of the county, the county health department has established regulations on housing of migrant laborers in this county.

The laws drawn up by the health department will also control venereal disease.

The regulations require the following:

1. A safe water supply.
 2. A safe excreta disposal, a sanitary privy or better. (These facilities to be provided separately for each sex).
 3. Clean buildings adequately screened.
 4. A safe method of garbage disposal. This means a metal can of sufficient size and with a fly tight top, and that the contents of the can be properly disposed of, such as burying, or placed on some approved dump.
 5. No migrant-labor headquarters or housing facility may be occupied without first securing a permit from the Carteret county health department.
 6. A health certificate showing that the worker is free of a venereal disease or other contagious disease. (This certificate can be had free at the health department.)
- On Monday the venereal disease section of the state health department sent D. T. Hammons and A. E. Harvel to confer with Dr. Ennett on the matter of venereal disease control among the laborers.
- Blood tests will be made in the labor camps by Hammons and Harvel and sent to the state health department for examination. Laborers needing treatment will be treated by the health department.
- Dr. Ennett comments that this is the best set-up the county has ever had for handling the venereal disease problem among migrant laborers.

Sanitation Board Meets Tuesday

An organizational meeting of the Beaufort sanitation board took place Tuesday night at the town hall. Gerald Woolard, building and plumbing inspector, was chosen chairman.

Attending the meeting were A. D. Fulford, county sanitarian; Dr. N. T. Ennett, county health officer; Officer D. M. Wade, representing Police Chief Carlton Garner; W. C. Peterson, street superintendent; Mayor L. W. Hassell, and Dan Walker, town clerk.

The board decided that each of the 57 violators of the sanitation and water-connection ordinances be notified that they are violating the ordinances, the notification to carry a copy of the law. They will be requested to comply with the regulations within 30 days.

If within that time they neither comply nor appear before the sanitation board to give reason for not complying, they will be given a second notice. This notice will also give them 30 days to comply, warning them that if, at the end of that time, they neither appear before the sanitation board or install the necessary plumbing or other facilities, court action will be taken.

Mayor Hassell was excused from serving on the board because he will be required to act as judge should a case come before him in mayor's court.

The next meeting of the sanitation board will be at 7:30 Thursday night, June 12, at the town hall. Thereafter the board will meet the second and fourth Thursday of each month at the town hall.

The program to obtain compliance with the sanitation code is continuation of the program initiated in 1947, renewed in 1949 and also renewed now.

The mayor commented that response to the project in the past has been good.

Town Sends Notices To Persons Owning '51 Taxes

Notices have been sent to all persons owing 1951 taxes in Beaufort stating that payment of taxes before June 9 will save them the cost of advertising their delinquency in the newspaper.

The letters, signed by Dan L. Walker, town clerk, reported how much money in taxes was due, adding, "The law requires that all unpaid property taxes be advertised and that wages be garnished for unpaid personal property taxes. If it is not possible to pay the full amount, see the tax collector and make at least a partial payment."

The town clerk serves as tax collector.

Morehead Police Seek Rings Valued at $1,500

Morehead City police this week were searching for an engagement ring and wedding band lost by Mrs. Joy Dean Wiecek, 102 S. 28th st.

Mrs. Wiecek told officers that she had taken the rings off at about 10 o'clock in the morning and laid them on the mantelpiece in her home. When she looked for them at about 3 o'clock that afternoon they were gone. The rings were valued at $1,500.
