Army Engineers Issue Two Notices

Col. R. C. Brown, district engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers, this week warned mariners to be cautious in proceeding past the new bridge construction in Bogue Sound at Morehead City and gave notice of the proposed change in harbor line at the port.

The notice on navigation past the bridge follows.

"During the period of construction of the new bridge between Morehead City and Atlantic Beach, North Carolina across Bogue Sound and the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway, beginning about June 1952, all navigation is urged to proceed with extreme caution in passing the construction work. The new bridge is to be located approximately 1,700 feet east of the existing highway bridge.

"Signs will be erected by the contractor constructing the bridge on both the east and west approaches to the new bridge, advising navigation of the proper channel to use in passing the construction work."

"During darkness the obstructions or structures at the new bridge site will be marked in accordance with recommendation of the U. S. Coast Guard as follows:

"Lights placed to mark structures or obstructions to be passed in the right hand side when proceeding southward will be red in color, and those on the left hand side will be green in color."

The proposed harbor line change will move the existing line south of the new dock northward along the new dock. Comments or suggested change in regard to the line will be accepted at the engineers' office, 308 Customhouse, Wilmington, until June 16, 1952.

Congressional Tangle Ties Up Postal Clerks' Paychecks

Washington (AP)—Postal workers and some other government employees apparently will have to wait a bit longer before Congress unravels a controversy which threatens to hold up their pay checks.

About 400,000 postal workers scattered throughout the country are involved: Yesterday was pay day for most of them, but the department has run out of money and has ordered checks held up for work done after May 15. There is no doubt that they will be paid eventually.

Stop-gap legislation which would permit emergency payments has been passed by both houses of Congress, but it is in different forms and cannot go into effect until a compromise is reached.

The dispute is over a senate amendment prohibiting use of special appropriations for operation of the seized steel mills or other private property. The house has refused to accept this provision in the appropriations bill, which has been locked in conference for some time.

The senate tacked the same amendment onto a resolution adopted Wednesday allowing the Post Office department to continue pay checks until June 16. The house previously passed a similar resolution without the disputed provision.

Now the seizure clause has sent the stop-gap measure back to the House Appropriations committee, which must take action before the pay checks can be issued.

Postmasters have been advised to withhold salary checks because department funds are insufficient to meet payrolls. This is due partly to recent annual pay increases which Congress voted after approving the budget last year.

The supplemental appropriations bill provides nearly one billion dollars more to run some government agencies for the fiscal year ending June 30. The senate and house have agreed on every provision except the seizure clause.

Chamber Board To Meet Tonight

The board of directors of the Beaufort chamber of commerce will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the town hall to hear Marjion Shuffler of the division of commerce and industry of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Shuffler will be in Beaufort today to study the assets it offers new industry. Braxton Adair, president of the chamber, issued yesterday a special invitation to all chamber members, as well as the public to attend.

Shuffler will explain the part the Department of Conservation and Development plays in obtaining new industries and the part the local chamber must take.

In announcing the meeting by letter last week, the chamber manager stated that the topic would be "The Love Life of a Smoke Stack." The last paragraph read, "The discussion may not be sexy, but it certainly should be worthwhile."

Housing Situation Begins to Tighten

J. A. DuBois, manager of the Morehead City chamber of commerce, reported yesterday that "the housing situation is tightening up." Although accommodations have been found to date for all tourists inquiring at the chamber office in the recreation building, there are indications, he added, that things will become more difficult as the season progresses.

The tourist information booth at the recreation center is open each Friday and Saturday night from 6 to 11 p. m. and is manned by Charles Freeman, Jr.

Manager DuBois urges persons who have rooms or other accommodations for tourists to register with the chamber of commerce. Registration will be accepted from persons with accommodations anywhere within reasonable driving distance of Morehead City. There is no charge for this service.

The chamber of commerce phone is 6-3404.

Three Accidents Lead to Arrests

Members of the state highway patrol recently investigated three motor vehicle accidents in Carteret county.

Norwood Rose, Harkers Island, has been charged with driving without an operator's license as the result of an accident on Harkers Island at 5:30 p. m. Sunday when his car ran into a light pole and snapped it off.

According to Highway Patrolman H. G. Woolard, Rose was proceeding east on the island road when a short distance west of M. L. Yeoman's store he put on the brake and the car veered to the left hitting the pole.

He said a woman in a car in front of him stopped suddenly and that's why he had to apply the brakes. Damage to the car was estimated at $100.

At 12:45 p. m. Saturday on the Harkers Island road a car driven by Charles Herbert Davis, Harkers Island, one driven by Fate Jones, Harkers Island, collided.

J. W. Sykes, investigating highway patrolman, said that Inzalaco was proceeding west on the highway and turned left into the path of a car driven by M. T. Mills of Morehead City who was proceeding east.
