

Greece Seeks Tips on Power

Greece looks to North Carolina for tips on how to improve and expand its electric service. Here Venis Apostolides (right), power engineer from Athens, consults J. S. Newbold, manager of the Lumberton plant of Carolina Light & Power company. He says the largest and most efficient of four plants that Greece plans to build will be almost identical with the new 100,000-horsepower unit being added to the CP&L plant.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

Vacation time is the season when many a nice girl goes astray. She meets new friends, different from her neighborhood pals. She visits new places, unlike those to which she has been accustomed. Unless her parents have alerted her to some of the little dangers which might be lurking in unexpected waysides, she might not sense it until she is entangled in an undesirable web.

Most summer heartaches evolve from a handful of missteps. If a girl would just make a clear appraisal of any proposition that hasn't been encountered before, asking herself whether there are any drawbacks, she'd have nothing to worry about. Here are some suggestions:

1. It doesn't pay to waste time with married men. And don't believe 'em when they say their wives want them to have fun. So what? While you're flitting away time with an older man, you'll probably pass up a nice young man your own age.

2. Even if your family permits you to have cocktails at home, don't drink with strangers. If you are partying with a group and it seems like the thing to do, accept a drink, sip it occasionally, if you like. But don't think you must drink to keep up with a crowd.

3. Things are likely to get very cozy at summer resorts. People have been known to scurry back and forth to each other's rooms. The first thing you know you are likely to be partying in a gay wolf's room in the wee hours of the morn. Of course he'll look harmless, at first — they all do. Make a rule not to visit boys' rooms.

4. If you are asked to go for a moonlight sail, make sure you have

OPS Answers Price Queries

Q. Must a builder who constructs a house on land belonging to another conform to OPS ceiling price regulations?

A. Yes: the builder hired to build a structure on land belonging to another is performing a "construction service" and is required to comply with OPS Ceiling Price Regulation 93, covering construction services.

Q. How old must an automobile be before it is exempted from OPS price control?

A. Automobiles more than 20 years old now are exempt from price control; formerly, the exemption age was 25 years.

Q. Now that price controls on potatoes have been suspended by OPS, will alleged violators of the potato regulation before its suspension be prosecuted?

A. The Office of Price Stabilization has stated officially that "Any suspension of OPS regulations will not affect appropriate enforcement action with regard to violations of those regulations before the suspension."

Q. May slaughterers who slaughter only the livestock of farmers now register with OPS?

A. Yes; they should register with OPS district offices.

you plan to stay and with whom, and if arrangements are being made for the gang to stay at a hotel or inn, be sure you write for your own reservations and get a confirmation so that everything is in order before you leave home.

8. If anything goes wrong on your big adventure away from home, write, wire or telephone your family for money so that you can leave the vacation resort under your own steam. Be independent and you'll have nothing to fear.

company that is trustworthy. It is not enough that other young girls are being paired off with young men. You should know how well these girls know their male companions, and you should be very well acquainted with your own date. Unless you are a super-swimmer you'll need the cooperation of the captain to get back home from a canoe, rowboat, power or sailboat trip.

5. Picnics are fun. But don't go to out-of-the-way picnic areas with strange companions. That "darling boy" you met last night can be just as fiendish as any drug store cowboy. If you plan to go picnicking with a new beau, suggest another couple whom you know well to accompany you.

6. If you are on a two-weeks vacation or working at a resort, don't tie up with one man — that's one way to spoil your summer. Men seem more attractive in summer and girls are likely to be more romantic than at other seasons of the year. Moonlight and nature's other enchanting props can help steal a girl's heart away. When she arrives back home and sits by the telephone waiting for that devoted summer swain to call, chances are she'll be disappointed.

7. If a young man suggests you go away for a weekend with him or his crowd, discuss it with your family. They should know where

There are many everyday household tasks that may hide a danger that is very real and impending—even though it can't be seen!

This is a good point to keep in mind, particularly since National Farm Safety week comes up July 20-26, pointed out specialists of the State College Extension service.

Take washing your clothes, for example. You don't ordinarily associate tragedy with this very common practice. Of course, if you work with the older wringer type machine, there's always the danger of catching your clothing, your hair, or little Johnny's fingers. But there is another hazard associated with washing clothes that strikes with more tragic results.

According to U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists, there is the possibility of being shocked if your electric appliances used with water or in damp places aren't properly grounded. Without this very necessary protection, a stray current, seeking the easiest way to the ground, may run through your body.

Some manufacturers equip their machines with a cord that grounds the machine wherever it is plugged in. These special cords have a three-pronged plug that requires a three-hole outlet to fit it. Some other washers have a three-wire cord and a two-prong plug that fits into the conventional socket. The third wire in this cord is used for grounding purposes.

It branches off the cord near the plug and goes into a tiny socket that replaces one of the screws holding the cover plate in place. This method is very effective if the Rochester, N. Y. (AP)—Old 999 is busy going from party to party these days.

The old locomotive, spruced up in black and gold paint, is making appearances at fairs and community sesquicentennials and the like. She's still in her glory as she was before the turn of the century when she was queen of the New York Central.

Old 999 is the retired speed queen of the rails. Her record of 112 1-2 miles an hour set back in 1893 still stands.

secure any type of labor he desires if he will plan ahead far enough to enable the workers of the employment system to locate and send the labor to him. The farm labor that moves from area to area, migrant labor, are generally organized into crews. Most of these crews are specialized, they either concentrate on truck crops, berry crops, tobacco, grain harvesting or any one of many types of harvesting.

"If the farmer expands his operations to take care of his demands, then he must plan ahead for his labor to help him place on the market the crops that he has planted and tended.

"Not only are the consumers and the growers concerned with farm labor because this labor raises the buying power of a community, not only while they are in it but after they leave. It is a well known economic fact that actual wealth (buying power) must be earned to profit any group as a whole. The money these people bring into a community helps raise the standard of living of that community whether they be grower, merchant, fisherman, or fireman.

"Houses must be constructed to house these workers. When better housing is provided by the grower he profits in that he can get more and better labor. He can choose rather than take what he can get.

"When any one group of our nation effects the consumer, grower and the entire population of the nation it is an important group. I think we will all agree that farm labor is a critical factor in our lives," Nance concluded.
