sioners to do something about the condition of the road leading from the Merrimon road to his camp. He said that part of the road is often flooded at high tide. He asked that the surface of the road be raised above the high tide line.

Royal said that children living in the neighborhood are forced to wade across the road in order to get to the school bus. The commissioners voted to accept the road as a neighborhood road and have it filled in wherever necessary.

Bid for Radio

Motorola, Inc., submitted a proposal for a county-wide police radio system. The system will require an antenna much higher than the one now in use by the Morehead City police. The company recommended that the antenna be placed on the water tower behind the Beaufort fire station.

The cost of the antenna, a remote control station and other equipment will be shared equally by the county, Morehead City and Beaufort. The cost to each will be $461.17.

The commissioners decided to take no action on the matter until representatives of all three bodies can meet to discuss the system. After the committee meets, the county commissioners will hold a special meeting to approve or reject the proposal.

A. H. James, clerk of court, reported on court receipts for the month of September. Total receipts were $6,286.13, of which amount the county received $3,558.10. The county court took in $2,272.35; Morehead City recorder's court, $891.75; superior court, $207.30; probate and clerk's fees, $71.70; and F. R. Seeley's justice of the peace court, $115.

W. M. Marshburn appeared to offer the commissioners $50 for land in Marshallberg formerly owned by J. E. Woodland. The commissioners advised him to obtain the property from the Woodland estate rather than at a tax sale. He then asked for an adjustment of the taxes due on the land.

Accept $60

Back taxes for the years 1929-1943 amounted to $123.84. The commissioners voted to accept $60 in settlement of the unpaid taxes.

Charles Allgood asked for an adjustment in back-taxes on property which he purchased in 1948. The county has filed suit against him for unpaid taxes on the land. The base tax on the property without interest or penalties amounted to $86.35. The commissioners voted to accept the base tax and costs of court in settlement.

The commissioners also accepted the base tax and court costs in the case of William C. Willis of Davis. The base tax was $75.86.

Ralph Nelson settled his back taxes for $51.80. Guy Nelson paid $55.24 and the estate of E. C. Nelson paid $44.51. The settlements were made on the recommendation of Jules Duncan who has been commissioned to collect unpaid taxes for the county.

The commissioners voted to accept the base tax and court costs in settlement of back taxes owed by Douglas David of Morehead City. The base tax has not yet been determined.

The next regular meeting of the commissioners will be held the second Monday in November instead of the first Monday which is the usual meeting day. The meeting was postponed because of the election, the following day.

Fred Lewis, president of the Morehead City Lions club, announced yesterday that the club voted at its Thursday night meeting to donate $50 to the county welfare department for the purpose of buying adult glasses.

He also reported that $40 had been raised in the White Cane Drive for the blind fund. The drive will continue for another week or ten days. Each member is selling the White Cane pins and also has membership cards for $1 which will make the buyer a member of the North Carolina state commission for the blind.

A new member, Elmer C. Watson, manager of Rose's Five and Ten, was welcomed Thursday night. The club voted to change the time of meeting from 7 p.m. to 8:30 but the meeting place, the recreation center on Shepard street, will remain the same.

Fishing Enthusiast Claims Ocean Pier Is Best

His enthusiasm for the Triple-Ess ocean fishing pier would mark W. E. Debnam of Greensboro as a publicity agent, but he's a traveling salesman for Nebel Knitting company, and, as such, a well known Carteret visitor.

Whenever he can weekend away from home near the ocean, he fishes. And he's fished them all from Myrtle Beach to Nags Head, but avows that the Triple-Ess is the best.

These are his reasons: Saturday he caught nine drum weighing from three and one half pounds to five; five flounders from three-quarters of a pound to two pounds, two one-pound and one-half trout, 33 mixed pompano and spots and two half pound Virginia mullets. Sunday he caught one six pound drum and another smaller drum, and again a lot of spots and pompano.

To top it all off, he caught two drum on the same line. Two hooks of course.
