

Menhaden Boat Damaged As Wiring Causes Fire

A fire yesterday morning caused slight damage to the menhaden boat Admiral tied up at the Morehead City waterfront. Morehead City firemen answered the alarm but found that the crew had already extinguished the fire.

The blaze, believed to have been caused by defective wiring in the forepeak, was discovered by a crewman before it could cause any great amount of damage.

Rain Hampers Diamond Activity

With the opening of the baseball season fast approaching, Carteret county high school coaches are faced with the problem of trying to practice. The bad weather of the past few weeks has made it almost impossible for the coaches to get their teams on the field for practice.

Morehead City, Beaufort and Newport were scheduled to begin practice Monday. The heavy rain and wet grounds, however, have not allowed the players to do more than work out in the gym. The coaches do not know yet how their teams will shape up or who will be in their starting lineups.

Wayne Benton at Newport is faced with a slightly greater problem than the other coaches. Newport is scheduled to begin its season today against Dixon, and Coach Benton has not yet been able to use the field.

He said Wednesday, "I don't know what I have. I can't see how we can play on that field out there. It's a sea of mud."

T. H. McQuaid at Beaufort is in slightly better shape. His season does not open until Tuesday and he can at least hope for good weather between now and opening day. The Sea Dogs will play their first game of the season against Smyrna.

Gannon Talbert is even more fortunate than his brother coaches. The Eagles will not play their first game until they meet Camp Lejeune one week from today.

CP&L Holds Cooking School

The Carolina Power and Light company held a "cooking school" for its employees in the Carteret district Wednesday night in the company's branch office on Arendell street in Morehead City.

Mrs. Tom Nelson of New Bern, home service representative of the utility firm, presented the school. Four complete meals were cooked. All phases of electric cooking were demonstrated.

Approximately 35 employees, husbands and wives, attended the school, George B. Stovall, manager of the district, reported. Following the demonstration, the students at the school ate the meals.

During the cooking, a contest was held to determine the number of kilowatt hours of electricity used to cook the meal. Hazel Oglesby won the prize of $5. The stove used four kilowatt hours.

Participating in the demonstration were Ted Breeden, residential sales supervisor from Wilmington, and Jack Onkley, residential sales manager in the Carteret area.

The stove was loaned by the R and N Furniture company.

Pilot Bill Receives Favorable Report

A Senate committee reported favorably on a bill to remove certain restrictions on the licensing of pilots for the Morehead harbor and the Beaufort Inlet yesterday.

The bill would abolish the present condition that all applications for a pilot's license must be endorsed by two of the three already licensed pilots.

The House Counties, Cities and Towns committee also reported favorably on Wednesday the bill incorporating Havelock.

Fire Causes $1,000 Damage

A fire believed to have been started by an overheated flue caused damage estimated at about $1,000 at the home of H. P. Worley on NC 101 1 1/2 miles from the Beaufort town limits.

The Morehead City fire department, which was called to the fire, worked for about an hour before extinguishing the blaze. The firemen were able to keep the fire from burning the entire house, although it was nearly out of control by the time they were called.

The fire was reported by telephone to the Morehead City police who asked Beaufort officers to investigate the report. Chief Carlton Garner of the Beaufort police department, who was near the scene, had already seen the fire and called the Beaufort fire department.

The Beaufort department, which is not allowed to respond to out-of-town fires, was not able to go. Chief Garner then asked the Morehead City department to go to the fire. The Morehead City department reached the scene in a few minutes and kept the fire from spreading.

Firemen said that the fire apparently started in the wall of a closet next to the chimney and had spread to the floors and walls. They said that about one-third of the house was damaged by fire and water.

The only casualty was a fireman, Joe Fulcher, who suffered a cut hand while fighting the fire.

Red Schools Censured

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—The Nationalist ministry of education has cancelled the registration of three Chinese schools in Hong Kong for "clinging to communist ideals and supporting the Reds." The ministry also announced citations to the principals of 11 other schools in Hong Kong for "loyalty to the cause of free education despite communist pressure."

Teachers Hear Progress Report

Fred Lewis, county school supervisor, told members of the Carteret county unit of the North Carolina Education association that there has been a steady improvement in the professional services in the county's schools.

Speaking at the group's meeting Monday at the Morehead City school, Mr. Lewis said that many of the county's teachers have taken steps to obtain higher ratings and certificates. He said that this means better trained teachers in the schools.

Corbet Davis outlined the legislative program as it concerns the state's schools. The unit then voted to send Governor Umstead a telegram thanking him for the educational program which he outlined in his budget message.

H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent of schools, spoke on the dignity of the teaching profession.

The unit voted to have a dinner meeting rather than a boat trip for its last meeting of the year.

The Morehead City school band, directed by Ralph Wade, entertained the group with a musical program in the school auditorium. Selections played were Sousa's The Thunder, Washington Post March and Manhattan Beach, Skornica's Overture to Erica and Ostling's American Folk Fantasia.

The lunch room staff served refreshments consisting of hot prune cake and fruit juices.

Home Economist to Give Special Demonstration

A special demonstration on pickles will be given at 2 p.m. today in the office of the county home demonstration agent in Beaufort. The demonstration will be given by Miss Rose Ellwood Bryan, home economist in food conservation and marketing at State college.

Miss Martha Barnett, county home agent, has urged all home demonstration club members to attend the meeting.

Miss Barnett announced that the Atlantic club will meet at 2 p.m. Monday with Mrs. A. W. Pridgen. The demonstration will be on color in dress.

Tests have indicated that almost every person living in industrial societies has been infected with tuberculosis before he reaches the age of 15 although serious disease results in only a small part of the cases.

Newport PTA Hears School Superintendent

H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent of schools, was the featured speaker at Tuesday night's meeting of the Newport PTA. Mr. Joslyn also entertained those present with an exhibition of tricks by his dog.

Attendance banners were won by Mrs. Geraldine Garner's third grade, Mr. Hill's seventh and eighth combination grade and Mr. Skarren's twelfth grade.

The Rev. John Wright of the Church of Christ gave the devotional and the junior choir presented a musical program. Mrs. Herbert Waldrop also gave several numbers.

Liquor for Loggers

Vancouver, Canada (AP)—A brief presented by the International Woodworkers of America to the commission on sale of liquor in British Columbia asked that liquor be sold in canteens at logging camps. It said "loggers drink in excess because they are isolated for long periods from access to liquor."
