United Nations Moves Milk Through Wilmington

Wilmington—Beginning this week the United Nations will use a Tar Heel port for the relief of numberless children who live and die in want in teeming Asia.

The first shipment of 2,800,000 pounds of powdered milk, assigned to Madras and Bombay, India, by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) moved across the N. C. State Ports Authority wharves yesterday when the British Motor Ship Silveroak calls on its way to the Far East.

The Port of Wilmington was nominated by R. E. Branson, Chief, UNICEF shipping section, after SPA solicitors had contacted the organization through the U. S. Department of Agriculture through which the surplus milk is being obtained. Branson and Maurice Pate, UNICEF executive director, have been invited by SPA Director George W. Gillette to visit the state's marine terminals here and at Morehead City to inspect the facilities for future shipments.

The powdered milk is purchased from the USDA's tremendous milk surplus at 1 cent a pound, packed and shipped to 72 countries in an attempt to sustain life for as many of the world's 500 million needy children as possible.

The M. V. Silveroak which took aboard the initial cargo here yesterday was at the N. C. State docks in September to discharge a cargo of burlap from India as well as ten passengers, exchange students from India, who will study at American universities. Ships nominated to bring future shipments of burlap to North Carolina will also bring long staple Indian cotton for textile mills, port officials said.

Quebec Woman Is Flying Teacher

MONTREAL (AP) — Peggy Lawrence of Montreal is the only woman flying instructor in Quebec Province.

The unusual angle is that Miss Lawrence, now 20, had never been in a plane until she took her first lesson when she was 17.

With more than 300 hours aloft, she has had her instructor's license for two months. Last year she qualified for a commercial license. Now a part-time instructor, Miss Lawrence worked as a grease monkey and dispatcher to pay for her year's instruction and flies regularly three nights a week and during weekends.

Although qualified to handle a big air freighter or passenger plane, she never had a car driver's license. The daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence, she hopes that one day airline companies will show no hesitation in hiring girl pilots.

Practice Drownings MADISON, Conn. (AP)—There's never been a drowning at 34-year-old Hammonasset State Park on Long Island Sound, although the average attendance on a good day in the summer runs from 30,000 to 40,000.

State officials are doing more than keeping their fingers crossed. Among other things, they send out an expert swimmer to fake a drowning every so often. It worries the folks on the beach, but it keeps the lifeguards alert.

Housewife Cleans Up Wrong Vacant House

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Thomas O'Malley prepared the cleanest home in the valley—but it isn't hers.

She took her soap, mop and pail out to a new home she had just leased here. She wanted to give the place a good Irish cleaning.

After the cleaning chore, she checked with the rental agent about the garage. She was told there was no garage with the house, and further checks developed Mrs. O'Malley had cleaned the wrong vacant house. Her new home was two blocks down the street.
