Miss Willis has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Annie Willis Hughes.

The bride wore a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Hughes was her sister's only attendant.

Best man for the bridegroom was Louis Legare of the Coast Guard Cutter Agassiz.

Mrs. White attended Morehead City High School. Mr. White is a member of the United States Coast Guard and has been stationed aboard the Agassiz, docked at Morehead City. He will receive his discharge Monday and they will make their home in South Carolina.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride on Fisher street. A two-tiered wedding cake centered the table which was covered with a white linen cloth. Ivy surrounded the cake. Nuts, mints and iced drinks were served.

PTA Acts on Four Projects At Meeting Monday at School

The executive board of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Morehead City School, presented four projects to members at a meeting Monday night in the school auditorium. The suggested projects were voted upon and accepted by PTA members.

They decided to pay off the balance on the school movie projector, which amounts to around $400; to give $25 to Earl Willis, janitor of the school, to help defray hospital expenses during a recent illness; to buy a washing machine for the home economics department, which will amount to around $90; and to give $200 for equipment for the physical education program for grammar grades.

A committee of Mrs. George W. Dill Jr., Dr. A. F. Chestnut and Mrs. A. B. Roberts was appointed by the president, James R. Sanders, to contact the County Board of Education regarding installation of lavatories and drinking fountains for primary grades. This equipment was purchased by the PTA and delivered during the summer and as yet installation has not begun.

Miss Annetta Mills, public school music teacher, announced that the North Carolina Little Symphony would appear in the county March 24. She told of the training the grammar grade students are getting in preparation for the concert.

Mrs. Delfido Cordova, home economics teacher, who was in charge of the program, presented her second and third year home economics students in a fashion show. The pupils modeled clothes they made this year in their classes.

For the highest number of parents in attendance Mrs. John D. Willis' first grade won in the primary grades; Mrs. Varena Glenn's fourth grade in the grammar grades; and Mr. Jesse C. Staton's tenth grade for the high school.

Mr. 4% shows how a Jefferson Standard Policy paid $3300 more.

Mr. 4% represents the Jefferson Standard.

Jefferson Standard, now guaranteeing 2 1/2% on policies currently issued, has never paid less than 4% interest on policy proceeds left on deposit to provide income.

4% IS THE HIGHEST RATE OF INTEREST PAID BY ANY LEADER LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

On Blake's death, his wife received $50 monthly for 21 years and 5 months, at which time benefits were exhausted. This policy paid only 2 1/2% interest income so funds left in trust, BUT—

When White died, his wife received $50 a month, too. At the end of 21 years and 5 months, Mrs. White could look forward to 5 years and 6 months more of $50 monthly payments. She received $3000 more in all from the Jefferson Standard policy.

Here is an actual cash comparison... proceeds from a $10,000 policy in another major life insurance company compared to a $10,000 Jefferson Standard policy, both at the same cost.

John Blake provided for future income with a $10,000 life insurance policy.

Charles White provided for future income with a $10,000 Jefferson Standard policy.

BUT HERE'S THE DIFFERENCE

Major Suggests Line of Action

Nobel prize winners were Indians.

"The four things Americans should do," said Major Karnell, "are the following:

1. Sell democracy. "The average 12-year-old Communist child could convince anyone of us why we should be Communist but the average 12-year-old American child or the average adult cannot convince us why we should live in a democracy," declared the speaker.
2. Make friends with Asia.
3. "Wake up" in relation to the Fourpoint program. The Fourpoint program deals with helping other nations. Major Karnell says it has no philosophy of life and is mainly atheistic materialism.
4. Put God where he belongs. There must be morality in the world, declared the speaker. There can be no morality without religion and there can be no religion without God. Instead of putting God at the center of the wheel of life, we put him on the rim of the wheel and as the wheel turns rapidly, God gets thrown aside.

Introduced by Mrs. Lowe

Major Karnell was introduced by Mrs. Robert Lowe, program chairman.

Prior to his address, the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Ball, president. Mrs. Ball said Sam Adler, chairman of the Salvation Army committee, expressed his thanks to the club members for dressing dolls for Christmas.

Mrs. J. W. Jackson, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for 1954-55. They are, in addition to Mrs. Jack Roberts, president, Mrs. J. A. DuBois, vice-president; Mrs. M. Leslie Davis, secretary, and Mrs. Earl Norwood, treasurer. Officers will be installed April 13.

The meeting opened with the reading of the American Creed. A piano solo, Polonaise in A by Chopin, was played by Jimmy Willis. Guests at the meeting were members of the Lanier book club.

Hostesses for the evening were members of the American Home Department; Mrs. J. M. Davis, Mrs. Harry Van Horn, Mrs. Rupert Earl Willis and Mrs. O. H. Johnson Sr. They served lime punch, chocolate and white block cake with colored icing, nuts and mints. Green candies and pink carnations were used in decoration.

Bunn Circle Meets Monday

The Fannie Finch Bunn Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet at 7 p.m. Monday night in the assembly room of the church for a business meeting. At 7:30 they will go into the church to hear an address by Mrs. Frank H. Leavell, home life counselor of the Baptist assembly.

Writer Makes Predictions Of What's to Come in '54

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP News Features Writer

A new year is dawning. It is the season when one looks backward and when one looks ahead. It is a time when most of us resolve to do better henceforth. And we wonder what is ahead?

I don't have a private crystal ball but I think I've a pretty good idea of a lot of things which are ahead. Here follows a few predictions for 1954:

Women's fashions will be reported as undergoing radical changes. Hemlines and silhouettes will blow up into a confused crisis depending on just which designer is making his pronouncement. Roughly 80 million women will discuss the subject thoroughly and joyously—and look just about the same as they did in 1953.

Husbands will continue to shake their heads in bewilderment at their wives' hats, complain when their old clothes are thrown away, and hide gift neckties in the back of the closet.

Three-quarters of the new homeowners will start to build outdoor fireplaces, finish off expansion attics, waterproof their cellars and wind up calling in professionals to clean up the mess and finish the job.

A new, male singing star will emerge who sends teen-agers into raptures but who causes their parents to shake their heads in amazement and recall the way they felt about Rudy Vallee.

Every child specialist will continue to write articles defending or condemning television for its effect on young eyes and minds—and find a good market for said articles.

Half the economic experts will view with alarm and the other half will predict continued good times—and no one will really know whom to believe.

Everyone will continue to deplore high prices, complain the dollar doesn't buy much any more and explain that everyone is being overpaid except himself.

Employers will bemoan the fact that good, re-ponsible employees are almost impossible to find and that everyone wants ridiculous salaries. Employees will believe they could do a better job than the old man with one hand tied behind his back, grouse about his whims and peculiarities and hope for a great big raise in salary.

An unknown French actress, en route to Hollywood, will tell ship's news reporters that American men make lousy lovers and a couple of months later marry one who also happens to be rich.

Congressional investigating committees will continue to probe, make many headlines but even more arguments among the constituents.

Everyone will talk about the perils of the nuclear age, discuss nervously the nation's defenses, and the civilian defense people will have a hard time getting volunteers, anyway.

The trend toward the complete toothpaste will continue and towards the end of the year one will be put on the market which not only prevents decay, banishes onion odor and guarantees romance, but which can be used in an emergency spread on crackers for hors d'oeuvres.

People will continue to drive automobiles too fast, postpone paying their income tax until the last minute, worry about delinquency, narcotics traffic, the future of the United Nations, the mortgage payments—and in spite of everything, have a pretty good time and some fun.
