Senior Panel Discusses Trips To Washington; Exams End

The senior panel for last Saturday directed its discussion on the Washington trip. Panel members emphasized that if parents would sponsor an after-school trip, there would be no objection to it. Members of the panel were Wayne King, chairman; Barbara Harris, Sue Gibbs, Emma Perry, and Walker Moore.

The Home Economics Department invited B. E. Tarkington, Beaufort High School principal, to a special waffle breakfast last week. The waffle irons, gifts of the Beaufort PTA, were christened on this occasion.

Profits from the Future Homemakers of America concession at Friday's basketball game were $5.35. Polly Chadwick and Margaret Springle handled the evening's sales.

Exams are over today. All students can breathe more easily now even though their grades have not yet been disclosed.

Tuesday the prayer group sponsored the chapel program. Devotionals were given by Kay Prytherch and Allen Windley. Master of ceremonies was Jimmy Wheatly. The program centered around the possibility of the establishment of an honor system in Beaufort Schools.

Several seniors, Emma Perry, Frances Young and Street Wetherington, spoke in favor of the system.

A playlet, starring Wayne King, Rae Frances Hassell, Nina Faye Kirk, Janice Keller, and Frances Fulcher was given. The entire program was student produced and directed by Patsy Daniels.

A southern screech owl was brought in by Horace Swain, Giles Loftin, and some other ninth grade boys about two weeks ago. This owl is next to the smallest in the world and is North Carolina's smallest.

Our specimen was wounded and was not expected to live. A couple of days later he was somewhat revived and was given his first meal, a piece of steak.

It was decided after analyzing the symptoms that the owl probably had a brain concussion. At any rate, he has made a remarkable recovery and it is expected that little Oscar will soon be able to return to his woodland cousins. In the meantime, much has been learned about owl habits.

The science laboratory has a couple of freezies blooming at the present time. The bulbs have been nourished for two years.

Miss Rumley's third grade won one of the PTA attendance prizes for this month. They will buy something for their room with the money.

Tuesday, Jan. 12, Mrs. Andrews' second grade gave a chapel program.

Julius Taylor led the devotional after which songs were sung by the entire group. Then the children, representing the months of the year, presented a poem, "The Whole Year."

These children were Freddie Hunter, Dorothy Jackson, Kay Perry, Ricky Lewis, Marie Joyner, Tommy Chadwick, Patty Quinn, Marcia Gunn, Woodrow Riggs, Billy

Knox-Whitehurst Wedding Vows Given in Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Nancy Irene Whitehurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Whitehurst of Beaufort, and Marvin Paul Knox, Staff Sergeant, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knox of Chillicothe, Ohio, were married at 7 o'clock last evening in the Ann Street Methodist Church.

The Rev. J. D. Young, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with white gladiolas and long leaf pine. Candles gave the only illumination.

Prior to the wedding ceremony, Mrs. John Butler, organist, gave a program of nuptial music and Mrs. Donald Bortz, sister of the bride, sang Angels and Bees.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant gown of white nylon net with tight fitting bodice of chantilly lace and a bolero lace jacket with high neck and long fitted sleeves. The short full skirt had a chantilly lace overskirt pointed to the hem line in front and back. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a tiara trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

Mrs. Claude Morning Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor.
