 that if the owner will call by the store, he'll be glad to return it to him.

Discards Papers

Some insurance papers in the bottom of the box were thrown in the floor. Mr. Nelson discovered the entry when he went down to the store at about 7 o'clock Sunday morning to deliver an order.

At Dee Gee's the intruders entered a side window over which a screen was nailed. They took the silver in the cash register, a typewriter in the office, a folding clock, a leather box, and several pieces of jewelry.

D. G. Bell, owner and manager of the store, said they evidently planned to take a handful of wallets too but in their rush left them behind.

The typewriter was evidently placed in a carton in which a shipment of goods had been received Friday. The merchandise was carefully placed on the floor but the carton gone.

Mr. Bell discovered the theft Sunday morning. He said that Tommy Wade of the S&W Drug Store phoned him that the front door of the gift shop was standing open. Mr. Bell said that because the lock sometimes doesn't work as it should, he took his time getting down to the shop and found then that burglars had paid a visit.

He believes they left by the front door.

A wave of burglaries has descended on the Morehead City area. Beach cottages have been entered and the thefts at Newport, Morehead City and Camp Glenn schools before Christmas remain unsolved.

County Board

 by the State. The road is three-tenths of a mile long and serves five families.

A road petition from Effie Garner, Mansfield, was ordered returned because it was not properly filled out.

Reports Accepted

The board accepted the 1953 reports presented by Floyd Garner, representing the Lower Neuse Soil Conservation District, and R. M. Williams, county agent. Both were commended for their reports.

Charles Quinn of near Newport asked for help on a drainage problem and he was referred to J. L. Humphrey, county road superintendent. Peter Carraway, South River, inquired whether the road from the Merrimon Road to Adams Creek could be paved and he was informed that the work being done in that section at present entails paving the road only to the end at South River.

Mr. Humphrey told Commissioner Tilton Davis, Harkers Island, that the work on widening the Harkers Island Bridge would begin before long. Commissioner Davis said the material has already arrived.

Three persons who appeared before the board in regard to adjustment of land valuation were asked to come before the board when it sits as a Board of Equalization Monday, March 15.

Leo Lawrence, Harkers Island Road, asked the board if he could purchase an eight-acre piece of property adjoining his. The property, he said, had not had taxes paid on it for a number of years. Alvah Hamilton, county attorney, informed Mr. Lawrence that the property was being sold at the courthouse door at noon and the board advised Mr. Lawrence to bid on it.

The commissioners extended the listing for 1954 taxes for 15 more days without penalty.

H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent of schools, was given an OK on fitting the front door of the courthouse annex with louvers to allow more light to enter the teacher supervisors' office.

Newport Widens Street To Make it Passable

Cards had to be pulled out of the mud recently on Church street, Newport, so the mayor and the town board had an informal get-together and decided that something had to be done about it.

The trees are being taken down on each side of the street and the street is being widened. During repairs the street has been closed to traffic.

The town board met in special session last Monday night to discuss getting tile for Church street and installing a water line and fire hydrants near the water pump.

"Although George Washington usually is called the first president of the United States, John Hanson was elected president under the Continental Congress and signed documents as "President of the United States."

Commissioner Asks Ordinance Enforcement

Commissioner D. J. Hall requested that the Morehead City town board meeting Thursday night that the ordinance prohibiting persons from burning trash in garbage cans be enforced.

Commissioner Hall said that he had been receiving complaints that the soot and debris from such burning constituted a nuisance. Mayor George W. Dill added that the grease that collects in garbage buckets makes their use dangerous as a container.

CP&L Replaces Ladder On 120-Foot Water Tank

The ladder on the Carolina Power and Light Co. water tank, a Morehead City landmark, was replaced last week.

The tank towers 120 feet in the air and is topped by radio aerials that aid in sending the radio-equipped CP&L trucks to all parts of Carteret County.

Submarine Docks
 The submarine Sea Lion docked at the Port Terminal Saturday and left Sunday. It was engaged in Marine maneuvers.

To Mount Compressor
 Morehead City firemen were working yesterday on getting a spot at the rear of the fire station in readiness for mounting the compressor for the fire alarm. The town board at a recent meeting agreed that cost of mounting the compressor, $400, could be spent if the money could be found. Firemen said the money has been taken from the fire department budget.

Down Our Way

By JAMES G. WHITEHURST

We drove to Cedar Island Sunday and we were amazed at the number of new homes that have either been built during the past year, or are under construction now. The first time we were over at Cedar Island was the Monday immediately following the 1933 hurricane. "Down East" presents an entirely different picture now than it did twenty-one years ago—those were the depression days, in case your memory has got short with the years.

Another thing that amazed us Sunday was the number of skunks that had been killed on the road—some all the way to Cedar Island. The skunk population of Carteret County must be enormous... not to say odorful.

A truck load of Zephyr Aluminum Awnings were installed in New Bern Friday. Some of these went on the homes of Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blandford, and one especially colorful job was installed on Pat's Pure Oil Station on Pollock Street. This last was a mitered-cornered installation running around three sides of the station, and has alternating blue and white slats. These folks were very much pleased with these awnings—so much so that they want us to do several other service station jobs for them, not to mention additional awnings for their homes.

We have more than a dozen Clearview Glass Louvered Porch Enclosures lined up for Spring installation (after the income tax man is taken care of). We have practically all of the East Central part of North Carolina as our Clearview territory, and indications now point to scores of Clearview Louvered Glass Porch Enclosures for the coming season.

Every hard wind that comes now is followed by several trailer owners coming in to get their trailer awnings repaired. Also the trailer folks are beginning to come by for awning prices and to look over our canvas sample books. This is a sure sign that Spring is not too far away. Last year and the year before, we manufactured dozens of large awnings for trailers.

Judge and Mrs. George McNeil, who got us to replace their double-hung kitchen windows with Clearview Louver Glass Windows last autumn, are now going to have their back porch enclosed and are going to use Clearview Louver Glass Windows again... so they must be satisfied with our Clearviews.

Ask Margaret and Halsey Paul how they like the natural-finished, wood-slat Venetian Blinds we recently installed in their large den.

Interest is certainly building up in our TRADE WITH WHITEHURST CONTEST, which will end at 2 p.m. August 27th. Folks are coming in and demanding their tickets—more power to you! First Prize, $300; Second Prize, $200; and Third Prize, $100.

Have your canvas awning made up now for April and May installation. We are now getting calls for canvas awnings from Jacksonville and other out-of-town sections, as well as from the local folks.

The first few issues of this column brought us nary a comment... nope, not one. Now we rarely go anywhere unless someone mentions it. Glad we are beginning to get across.

Last year we made three installations of Clearview Aluminum Jalousies on Porches in and around Morehead City. These were made on the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Royal, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Willan and the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Page, of Kinston. The proof of the pudding is in the eating—so ask these folks how they like their aluminum porch enclosures.

We have installed countless units of Clearview Aluminum Jalousies on screen doors where the folks were bothered with rain blowing under their outside doors, and they have relieved this situation nicely. We now have a similar job to install on the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Murray here in Morehead City.
