Cash Awards Will be Given

Mrs. G. T. Spivey of the Carteret County Health Department has announced that cash awards will be given to children who are of greatest help to handicapped classmates.

Mrs. Spivey said the giver of the cash awards wishes to remain anonymous. The awards will be given at Newport School as an incentive for children to help Karabeth Mauney, a victim of cerebral palsy, and at Beaufort school to help Eric Pake, a victim of polio. Eric however, is now at the Crippled Children's Hospital.

If he doesn't return to school this year, the award will be given away during the next school year, according to Mrs. Spivey.

These awards have been offered at other schools throughout the state and the pattern followed consists of a committee deciding on who should receive the awards. There will be a $5 first prize, $3 second prize and $2 third prize.

On the committee are the school principal, two teachers, three student representatives, and the child who is afflicted.

The donor of the cash prizes hopes that they will "stimulate interest in the school children's helping their fellow students who have physical handicaps that may, in one way or another, interfere with their efforts at school."

Examples of the type of help would be aiding the handicapped child to get off and on the school bus, running errands, helping them on and off the playgrounds, etc.

The awards are to be made, Mrs. Spivey said, at the end of the school year.

Here's a nutritious sweet: Steam and pit large prunes, then stuff them with pecan or walnut meats and coat the stuffed fruit with sugar. You'll need about a quarter cup of granulated sugar for coating half a dozen or so large prunes.
