Thousands Visit Irish Gridiron

Notre Dame, Ind. (AP) — You won't find Notre Dame, Ind., listed on any railroad timetable or flight schedule. Nevertheless it's the destination of as many as 28 special trains and 175 private planes on Saturdays when the Fighting Irish play on their own gridiron.

An average of 10,000 cars and many busses also converge on the Notre Dame Stadium in the hours before game time.

Many of the special trains unload passéngers on spur tracks on the campus. Other trains transfer passengers to campus-bound busses nearby South Bend. The four railroads serving South Bend hire up to 400 extra employ ees to service the specials. Ar rangements for some of the special trains are made a year in advance. Specials come from such far flung points as Denver, Atlanta, New York and cities in Texas and
