

Put 'Green' Groceries On Market List This Week

Easy to make with lime-flavored gelatin for the holiday feast.

 Put green groceries on your market list for St. Patrick's Day, March 17. Is the family celebrating at suppertime? Then start with green split pea soup and tiny buttered croutons. Go on to a boneless smoked pork shoulder butt or half-ham; accompany the meat with chutney — just for a different touch. Serve parsley potatoes, too, and a green-vegetable such as creamed spinach or broccoli. Tossed greens will make a crisp and crunchy salad course. Then bring on the crowning glory — a molded dessert, as green as lime-flavored gelatin will make it.

This dessert is a little different because coconut, as well as dates and oranges, go into it. The coconut gives it good flavor and interesting texture. But one tip: be sure to chop the coconut in short lengths, as the recipe directs, before adding it to the gelatin. This way the dessert will be easier to cut into portions than if you leave the coconut in long shreds. Here's the recipe.

Lime Coconut Fruit Mold
Ingredients: 2 packages lime-flavored gelatin, 2 cups very hot water, 1 cup cold water, 1 cup orange juice, 2 oranges, 20 pitted dates, 1½ cups shredded coconut, cream, toasted coconut.
Method: Add gelatin to very hot water and stir until dissolved. Stir in cold water and orange juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile peel oranges, removing white membrane; dice. Slice dates. Chop coconut into short lengths. Fold oranges, dates and coconut into slightly thickened gelatin. Turn into shamrock mold or 8 by 8 by 2-inch pan; chill until firm. Unmold. Whip cream and spread over top of gelatin dessert; sprinkle with toasted coconut. Makes 10 to 12 servings.
Note: To toast coconut; spread thin in shallow baking pan. Place in moderate (350F) oven; stir coconut often so it will toast evenly; remove from oven when it is a delicate brown.
 If friends are expected in the afternoon or evening on St. Patrick's Day, here are snack suggestions.
 Sandwich rolls, filled with water cress or canned drained green asparagus will make good-tasting and attractive offering. Butter the bread well and spread it with mayonnaise before rolling around the filling.
 Any small fry or teen-agers among the guests? Then make them a St. Pat's Cooler by mixing grapefruit juice with carbonated water; tint a pale green and sweeten to taste. Garnish the Coolers with green maraschino cherries, if they are available. Youngsters love them!

Use your favorite sugar-cookie recipe, rolling the dough very thin; cut into shamrock shapes with a floured cutter and bake as usual. Spread half the cooled cookies with frosting tinted green and top with the remaining cookies.

If layer cake is planned, you can make it up from a white or yellow cake mix. Put the layers together with a pineapple filling and frost with cream that's tinted pale green, whipped and sweetened.
