Oil Men Meet In Jacksonville; Oppose Tax Rise

Jacksonville — Oil men from Onslow, Craven, and Carteret Counties went on record at a recent meeting here against any further increases in the state gasoline tax. J. E. Maulsby, chairman of the Onslow County Petroleum Industries Committee, presided.

Principal speakers were S. Gilmer Sparger, executive secretary of the North Carolina Petroleum Industries Committee, and Hardin Kimrey, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the North Carolina Oil Jobbers Association.

Attending from this county were T. T. "Tom" Potter, chairman of the Carteret County Petroleum Industries Committee, Beaufort, and P. H. Geer, Morehead City.

In his talk, Mr. Sparger stated, "The state and federal taxes on gasoline take more than $95,000,000 annually from North Carolina motorists." He also pointed out, "The state tax of 7 cents, inspection tax of 1/4 of a cent, and the federal tax of 2 cents add up to a total of 9 1/4 cents on each gallon of gasoline — which is equivalent to a 41 per cent sales tax."

Mr. Kimrey discussed the overall tax burden in this state, and asserted, "The gasoline tax is one place where we should hold the line. If the gasoline tax is increased in North Carolina," he pointed out, "this state will have the questionable distinction of having the highest gasoline tax in the nation."

"It will exceed the state of Virginia by 2 1/4 cents per gallon, and South Carolina by 1 1/2 cents per gallon, and can be expected to have an adverse effect on gasoline sales — particularly in the border counties."

Following the program, there was a discussion concerning the suggested gasoline tax increase and other anticipated legislation.

Republicans

through the advent of war, he reported. Taken on an overall basis, the period of 1924 to 1928 was better in prosperity than the best days of the New Deal, from 1934 to 1938.

In speaking about the war, Mr. Wilkerson commented that the attack on Pearl Harbor was no surprise to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins and Gen. George C. Marshall. He said they knew a month before the attack that it was coming.

He based this statement on an article which he said appeared in United States News and World Report March 22.

He said, "We came out of the depression through the blood of our country's youth, both Republican and Democratic, marching shoulder to shoulder to win the war."

"But," he added, "We lost the peace." He said, "We were sold down the river by a man who was President Roosevelt's aide and legal advisor at Yalta, where concessions were made to the communistic horde, that no Republican would have ever made."

Sold Out by Hiss
This man, he said, who sold us down the river, was Alger Hiss. The Democratic party is a dead party. It died in 1933 with the advent of the New Deal, the "bloodless revolution."

The old party as founded by Thomas Jefferson is dead. Its ideals live only with a few. It no longer is a struggle, he said, between parties as it was 75 years ago, but a struggle between a conservative and a radical party.

The Democrats today are pro-socialistic and are for strong central government in Washington. But Mr. Wilkerson isn't mad at the Democrats. He said they have played an important part in the development of our country and have had some great men.

He said that today people have a misconception of Republicans in the South. He said that there are more in North Carolina than in Maine, Vermont, and New Hampshire put together.

They don't want reward for their work, all they want is an opportunity to speak out for what they believe in, he explained.

The best way to sell the party, he concluded, is to convince the people that the only way to save the country from socialism is to stick with the ideals of Abraham Lincoln in the living presence of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Roy T. Garner, Newport, chairman of the Carteret County Republican executive committee, presided. He welcomed the crowd and introduced Everett Peterson, Clinton, chairman of the Republican Committee of the Third Congressional District, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkerson, and Mrs. W. T. Odum Jr., Goldsboro, Republican candidate for Congress from this district.

Before the meeting a barbecue supper was served buffet style. Bill Norwood played background music on his accordion.

Mr. Garner and Mr. Wilkerson said they were pleased that many women attended the meeting. Mr. Garner announced that there will be a meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the Beaufort town courtroom to choose candidates for county offices in the coming primary.

Rector of St. Paul's Lists Week's Services

The Rev. James P. Dees, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Beaufort, has announced Holy Week services at the church this week.

Holy Communion will be observed at 10 o'clock this morning. There will be evening prayer and meditation at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. There will be Family Corporate Communion at 8 p.m. Maundy Thursday and the traditional Anglican service, the Last Seven Words of Christ, will take place from noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday.

R. B. Howard Speaks To Rotarians Thursday

R. B. Howard of Morehead City spoke to the Morehead City Rotary Club Thursday on employer-employee relations at the club meeting at the Recreation Center.

Mr. Howard was introduced by H. Earle Mobley, program chairman. Ed Rudy of Greensboro was a visitor.

Beaufort Income Last Month Totals $5,112.35

The town of Beaufort received $5,112.35 in March, according to the monthly report released by Dan Walker, town clerk.

Topping the list was $1,462.30 from current taxes, second was $1,355.10 from Recorder's Court, and third was $751.01 from parking meters.

Other sources were: taxes from prior years, $374.48; ABC allotment, $471.98; business license, $3.75; franchise tax, $266.73; miscellaneous, $271.40; and equipment rental, $156.50.

Barber Shops Undertake Easter Dress-Up Project

Chapel Hill—This week has been designated "Dress-Up Week" for barber shops in North Carolina.

"Each shop owner is being asked to make at least one improvement — more if necessary — in his shop between now and Easter," Y. Z. Cannon, Chapel Hill, Public Relations chairman for the Associated Master Barbers of North Carolina, announced today.

Cannon said such improvements can include a paint job, a new sterilizer, new floor, lights, barber pole, or a new cylinder for the old pole.

Power at Beach Will Be Off Two Hours Tomorrow

George Stovall, manager of Carolina Power and Light Co. in this area, announced yesterday that there will be an outage from 1 to 3 p.m. tomorrow, Wednesday, at Atlantic Beach.

The current will be cut off to allow further conversion for upping the voltage at the beach.
