

Smyrna Tops Atlantic 4-1 in Tuesday Action

Smyrna High's baseball team pounded Atlantic's hurler, Tommy Salter, for six bingles and capitalized on six Pirate errors to fashion a 4-1 victory over the Pirates Tuesday at Atlantic.

Smyrna's record is now 2-2 and Atlantic's is 0-3. Tommy Salter was the losing pitcher with Roy Styron the winner.

Styron was lifted in the fifth for Jimmy Lewis after he had given up one run, two hits, whiffed seven, and walked six. Lewis, in his three-inning stint on the hill, fanned five, walked one, and gave up one single.

Salter Whiffs Nine
Salter, going the distance for the Pirates, gave up four runs, six hits, fanned nine and walked one.

The scoreboard showed a line of zeros until the top of the third when Smyrna pushed a run across the plate on two singles and a stolen base.

Osborne Owens singled to open the frame, stole second after Jim Lewis popped out, hesitated there as Bruce Babbitt grounded out, and scored on Jimmy Golden's single.

Mears popped to end the frame. Smyrna came back in the top of the fourth with three insurance runs after two men were out. Two errors, a single and a double accounted for the tallies.

Owens Doubles
Styron was safe at first on an error, moving to second on Pigott's single. Owens sent both runners scampering across the plate with a line double, taking third on the throw to the plate in an attempt to nab Pigott.

Another Pirate error allowed Pigott to score as Lewis was safe at first. Babbitt grounded out to end the inning. In the home half, Atlantic scored their lone tally.

Styron, pitching well until this frame, loaded the bases on free tickets and forced in the Pirate tally with a base on balls.

With one out Williamson walked then stole second. Taylor struck out, but Styron lost his control and issued free tickets to Gillikin and Salter to load the bases.

Al Morris Scores
Styron then walked Al Morris to force in Williamson. A Morris popped to short ending the inning.

Leading hitter for Smyrna was Owens with three for four, two singles and a double. Taylor, Willis, and Salter got the only hits given up by Smyrna pitching.

Smyrna was host to Swansboro yesterday. Jim Lewis was the starting hurler. On the mound for Swansboro was Cal Dupuissey.

Newport Water Main Project Near Conclusion

Charles Hill, Finer Carolina General Chairman and Project Chairman Bennie Garner said today that the Newport water main project is about finished.

"We've got to grease, clean up and paint the hydrants and most of the work will be over," said Mr. Garner.

The hydrants are in use and are available in case of fire.

The Finer Carolina water main project, sponsored by the fire department, involved laying 1,474 feet of 6-inch water main from near the water tank to the end of the Nine-Foot Road. The town is paying for the cost of materials and the community furnished the labor.

Four Saturdays were used to do the work and the response was generally good, Mr. Garner commented.

The new hydrants will protect all of the "old" business district, all of one of the Negro sections of town, and a great many residences.

Future extensions are planned so that eventually all of the 12,510 feet called for will be in the ground instead of rusting away on "the hill."

While the entire water system has been approved by the State Board of Health, several details remain to be cleared up before individuals can "hook on," Mr. Garner said. The entire system has to be filled with calcium hypochlorite and allowed to remain overnight. Then the system will have to be flushed.

Godette Fans Four
Godette was nicked for eight hits, four runs, whiffed four, and walked two. Jarman gave up one run, allowed four hits, walked three, and fanned eight.

The Knights' record now in conference play is 1-2. They will play Trenton at Trenton Tuesday, returning home Friday for a return engagement.

Queen Street opened the scoring in the first when Hazel walked to open the inning, and after two outs, Matthew Godette doubled him home. Godette was out stealing third to end the frame.

Jacksonville forged two runs in the second on three errors, a walk, and a single to take the lead. They added the insurance runs in the third on a hit, a walk, and an error.

O. Farmville Leads Attack
O. Farmville led the visitors' attack with three for four, a double and two singles. He was followed by another Farmville, one for three; Humphrey and Armstrong, one for four.

Koonce and Hazel led Queen Street with one for two followed by Branch and Matthew Godette, one for three. M. Godette got the only extra base hit off Jarman, a double.

Knights Lose To Wilmington

Home Team Clubs Visitors For Three Extra Base Blows in Winning 7-3

The Wilmington High baseball nine sifted the efforts of two Queen Street High hurlers for three hits, all extra base blows, and took advantage of four miscues Tuesday on their home field to down the visitors 7-3.

Wilmington grabbed two runs in the first, one in the second, two in the third, and two in the sixth for the conference win. The Knights got all three tallies in the fifth.

Winning hurler was James Alford, who was lifted in the fifth in favor of McLaurin, who finished the game. Henry Fenner, Queen Street starter, was charged with the loss. He was relieved in the third by Herbert Collins.

Alford Fans Five
Alford in his five-inning stint allowed three hits, gave up three runs, whiffed four, walked five, and hit one batter. McLaurin in relief was combed for three hits, gave up no runs, fanned five, and walked none.

Fenner was charged with five runs, one hit, a triple; walked three, hit three batters, and struck out one. Collins, coming in with the bases loaded in the third, whiffed the side, being charged with two runs, two hits, a triple and a double; fanned eight, and walked none.

Wilmington, scoring five runs in the first three innings, were leading 5-0 into the top half of the fifth, when the Knights suddenly came to life and pushed three markers across the plate.

Frank Hazel drew a walk, moving to third on Nolen's single. Anderson was safe at first on an error charged to the Wilmington third sacker as Hazel scored.

Godette Singles
Matthew Godette came through in the clutch with a single scoring both Nolen and Anderson. With runners on second and third, McLaurin came in for Alford and whiffed the side.

The home team scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth to lead 7-3. The Knights threatened in the seventh with three hits, but Godette was out trying to score from second to end the game.

Leading sluggers for Queen Street were Hazel, two for three, and Godette, two for four. Wilmington's hits were scattered with Moore tops, with one for two, a double.

Walker and Bowers both tripled for the victors. Queen Street had three earned runs and Wilmington had two.

Smyrna High Coach Resigns

Stewart Daniels, coach of Smyrna High baseball and basketball teams for the past two years, has resigned. The resignation, according to Stanley Dail, principal, becomes effective at the end of the school year.

At Smyrna, Mr. Daniels teaches social studies in addition to his coaching chores. He also spent one year as a member of the Beaufort High School faculty.

Mr. Dail said that Mr. Daniels gave no reason for his resignation.

Eagle Nine Seeks Sixth Win Today Against Spuds

The Morehead City High Eagle Nine seeks its sixth Seashore Conference win and its second win over Pamlico County today at 3:15 on the Eagle diamond.

Probable starters will be Walt Thomas, 4-0, for the Eagles, and either Robert Gaskill or Larry Barker for the Spuds.

In the last meeting of these teams, on the Spud diamond, the Eagles snapped Pamlico's 24-game win streak in conference play, 3-2, in 11 innings.

Since then the Eagles whipped Smyrna 11-1, being idle for two weeks because of game cancellations. Pamlico split a double-header Tuesday, beating Dover 6-1 in the afternoon and being trounced 12-4 by New Bern in a night game.

Coach Gannon Talbert of the Eagles is relying on Thomas to bring home the win, but will have Jerry Pittman, 1-0, ready for relief if needed.

Pamlico is famous for its left handed hitting attack and Morehead City has a fine defensive ball club. Both teams will be out for the win which could decide the conference winner.

If the weatherman permits, a fine game is in the offing for local baseball fans.

Bonnie Randolph Captures Hearts of Male Hot-Shots

At the Blue Ribbon the other night Mac McCuiston, the golf pro, called Penny and I over to introduce us to a girl.

Lovely creature! As they say in Hollywood, a delightful bit of feminine pulchritude, or as I would describe her, a gorgeous tomato. Well anyway, this charming gal is Bonnie Randolph, who has what to me would be, the ideal job. She represents a manufacturer of golf clubs named Burke. Never heard of them myself. Have since learned, however, they are the world's finest. Now Bonnie goes from place to place and plays golf.

That's all, plays and talks about golf. Imagine, she gets paid for that. Wow! Now her looks belie her performance. At the Blue Ribbon that evening in her frilly, feminine dress and her charming manner, I would have bet you she couldn't have lifted a croquet mallet, but on the golf course the next day, Brother, that's something else again!

Playing in a foursome with Dick McClain and Mac McCuiston, who, incidentally, can wallop a golf ball about as far as the best of them, Miss Bonnie put that ball up there with them each time.

I got so shook up that I couldn't have hit a red barn with a snow shovel. Well anyway, Miss Bonnie came here to, mainly, give our gals a few pointers on golf, but us boys took over.

We kept her busy playing and talking, even played in an eight-some Tuesday. Everyone wanted to play with Miss Bonnie. Now I wasn't about to say "Look fellows, go ahead, I'll play with curly-haired Tony."

No Sir! I stuck to my guns and so did every other man jack of them, so we played an eight-some. Ah me, guess I will buy a set of Burke clubs tomorrow.

One of Captain Ottis' boats really caught a fine mess of fish Monday. I didn't see them, but it's the talk of the waterfront. See, I have been telling you Spring is just around the corner.

Did you ever see so much building going on; new stores by the dozen, new highway will be paved soon, six new tanks at Asphalt Petroleum, new storage tanks on the waterfront for Gulf Oil Co., and carpenters hammering everywhere you look.

As I sit here in the studio looking out to the southeast, I see two troop transports docking at the Port Terminal and a half-dozen porpoises playing just a few hundred feet from the window. They must be feeding as they work their way out to sea. Great sight! Howard Case is back in town. Fine fellow. Did you ever know a fellow that every time you see him, you automatically smile?

Somehow he has the ability to make everyone feel good when he's around. Talking about moving to Morehead from Huntington, W. Va., he has already bought over a thousand acres in this vicinity, including a camp at Portsmouth Island. He sure would be an asset to us all here.

The dogwoods are all in full bloom at the golf club. Coupled with the soft velvet of the greens, it's a sight you will never forget and it's worth a ride out there even if you don't play.

He is on the course all day Saturday and Sunday, practicing, playing, performing his assistant golf professional chores, or giving lessons.

Charlie, as he is known by everybody, attended Indiana University as a pre-med student for two years before joining the Marines. His home is at Terre Haute, Ind. He had every intention of resuming his medical studies on discharge from the Marines but when he tied McCuiston's course record of 32 for the nine-hole Morehead City course some months ago he decided to turn professional.

Manager Ed Hanlon led the Dodgers to pennants in 1899 and 1900.

Golf pro Skip Alexander captained the Duke University team in 1939.

Yacht 'White Wing' Docks Here Tuesday

The "White Wing," a two-masted auxiliary schooner owned by Roscoe S. Miller of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., docked at the Gulf Marine Dock Tuesday.

The "White Wing" is a 57-foot vessel powered by a 471 GM diesel engine, and carries two sails. She has a crew of two. Captain of the vessel is Paul Jewell of Oxford, Md. Al Ewing of Cape May, N. J., is the other crew member.

The vessel is out of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and is bound for New York by way of Norfolk, Va. She was scheduled to head for Norfolk Wednesday.

Captain Jewell said the "White Wing" stops in Morehead City every year on her way to New York. This, he said, makes her fourth year of stop-over here.

Coach T. H. McQuaid Expresses Appreciation

Coach T. H. McQuaid, Beaufort, yesterday expressed his appreciation to the people of Beaufort for their support of the basketball teams.

In a statement to THE NEWS-TIMES, Coach McQuaid said, "Appreciating the splendid support and unselfish loyalty to the boys and girls' basketball teams of Beaufort High School, I want to thank our fans. Much of the success of the teams has been due to the fine support they have received.

"The success of any team lies in the material. The team members have unselfish and generous parents and the boys and girls themselves are blessed with those same traits of generosity and unselfishness which are the foundation of teamwork.

"I cannot adequately find the words to express my thanks to the people who have contributed so much in their generous gifts to me."

In recent months the McQuaids have received gifts from sports fans and following the tournament at Aberdeen they were given a television set.

Baltimore (AP)—Jim Fridley, Rocky Ippolito, Frank Kellert, Mel Held and Bob Habencik were recalled from the minor leagues and hoped they would report to the St. Louis Browns this spring. But since being recalled, the Browns have become the Baltimore Orioles.
