New Fly Toxic Proves Deadly During Tests

Urbana, Ill. (AP)—The house fly is getting harder to kill because of his increasing tolerance to spray insecticides, but he dies after eating a new potion devised by Willis N. Bruce, associate entomologist of the University of Illinois. The scientist reports his syrup-sweetened compound of organic phosphate has proved extremely deadly to flies during a year of tests. The new technique in control of the house fly is reported in a special bulletin of the Natural History Survey Division of the University.

The manufactured compound is called Bayer L 13/59. A bit of it mixed with water and syrup was painted on partitions, door edges and posts of a calf barn. After locating the bait, flies fed hungrily. They showed distress symptoms in one to three minutes. Bruce said the flies were unable to move at all in five to fifteen minutes. Flies that had fed sufficiently on the bait and showed distress symptoms never recovered. The special compound, not yet available to the public, was used in tests because a single application continued to attract flies and kill them throughout the summer. Other phosphates or toxicants probably could be used, he said. The product has not been passed

Kiss is Interrupted
San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Just as Harry Rowan, sailor of the U. S. destroyer tender Sperry, kissed his girl — wham! Rowan staggered over backwards. The surprised girl friend said one man had slugged Rowan. The other grabbed his wallet, with $160. They ran down the street.

Traveller Spends Night As Guest of St. Bernard

Whitefish, Mont. (AP) — The stranger, caught in a sub-zero snowstorm, looked desperately for a place to stay. He saw a roadhouse and knocked on the door but could arouse no one. Then he saw an immense dog house. He crawled in and spent the night cuddled next to a giant St. Bernard. The next morning George Robinson was startled to see a man climb out of his dog's house. Ordinarily the dog — Peter Pan—wouldn't allow anyone but the family near his house. The stranger thanked the Robinsons — and Peter Pan — for their "warm hospitality" and walked on down the highway.
