

Salter Path Downs Beaufort 6-5

Hassell Scores on Henry Frost's Single in Eighth

An eighth inning single down the left field line by Henry Frost, scoring Ray Hassell from third, gave Salter Path a 6-5 victory over Beaufort, and gave them a tie for second place in the Carteret County baseball league.

Beaufort and Salter Path now have 3-2 records. Atlantic is first via a split with Newport.

Harkers Island Splits Sunday Doubleheader

Takes First Game 5-4, Lose to Morehead City 7-2 for Third Spot Tie

Morehead City and Harkers Island are tied for third place in the County Baseball League with 3-3 records. The teams split in Sunday's doubleheader at Morehead City.

Scoring in the top of the seventh, Harkers Island nudged Morehead 5-4 in the first game. Putting on a late rally in the fifth and sixth innings of the second game, Morehead took the nightcap 7-2.

Harkers Island's first game win was featured by three doubles, Wilson Davis, "SnoBall" Gaskill, and Jerry Guthrie each got one. For Morehead, Bobby Willis doubled.

Davis Hurls Three-Hitter

The visitors scored one in the first, three in the second, and broke a 4-4 tie in the top of the seventh with one run. Morehead, under new management, Bob Butler, took over the reins from Bobby Bass, scored once in the first and sent three scampers across the plate in the third.

The second game, called at the end of four innings because of the 6 p.m. curfew, was ruled no contest. Beaufort was ahead 8-5 at the time.

In the first game the score was tied 5-5 at the end of seven innings, sending the game into extra innings. In the top half of the eighth, Walt Thomas, hurling for Salter Path, sent Beaufort down one, two, three.

Hassell Singles
Hassell led off the bottom half of the eighth with a single, moved to second on Alvin Willis' single while Lloyd Frost was fanned by Cal Hodges.

Thomas sent Hassell scampering to third with a single and the bases were jammed. Jerry Pittman became a strikeout victim, but Henry Frost hit a towering drive down the left field line that scored the winning run.

Winning hurler was Thomas, losing pitcher was Hodges. Hodges was lifted in the first for Owens, but resumed the hill in the second.

Hodges, extremely wild, gave Salter Path two runs in the first on three walks and one hit batsman. He was lifted in favor of Owens who got Thomas on three strikes to end the inning. Owens gave Salter Path one run on a walk and a hit batsman.

Beaufort Bounces Back

Beaufort bounced back with two runs on singles by Ottis Jefferson and Carl Sadler, a fielder's choice, and an error. They tied it up in the second, 3-3, on two walks and Jim Parkins' single.

Beaufort took the lead in the third, scoring two runs, featured by Bill Gillikin's double and Bob Schwark's single.

A double by Hassell drove in Charley Callahan for Salter Path's fourth-inning run, and the home team tied it up 5-5 in the fifth on singles by Thomas and Henry Frost, sandwiched around two free tickets.

Parkins Ends Threat

In the bottom of the seventh Salter Path threatened when a single, a fielder's choice, and a walk loaded the sacks. Hodges was again lifted for Owens.

Harold Deibert, hitting for Gehrman Guthrie, hit sharply to the left through short, on which Parkins made a sensational stop, tossing to Powell at second for the force on Harold Bass.

This play sent the game into the extra inning with Salter Path coming through in major league fashion.

Burl Ives Pulls a Shanghai; Columnist Jumps Boat Saturday

Well, I got shanghied! Burl Ives and his beautiful sailboat, the Abaco Queen, arrived in Morehead City at 6 a.m. Thursday. He was going to spend several days with us when that curse of modern civilization, the telephone, rang and it was New York calling saying that a television crew was to meet the boat at Norfolk Saturday.

So nothing left but to catch a few hours sleep and shove off. At 4 in the afternoon we left. I was to go with the boat that night and get off the following morning and come back to Morehead. So under power we cruised through the bay into Core Creek Canal and out into Pamlico Sound. The weather by this time was making up into a first class muller blow. Storm clouds and sunset—a great sight! The motor was shut off and every rag of canvas was hoisted. You know the greatest sight in the world is a towering mass of a sailboat reaching into the sky. But then it depends on who is looking too. It's like the fellow said, "listen to those beautiful church bells ringing."

His partner shouted, "I can't hear a thing you're saying for the noise of those blankety blank bells." Now I like the spray and waves and the storm as do most people with boating experience, but to the uninitiated it could have been a little frightening to say the least.

Aboard the Abaco Queen was Bob Simpson, a former ad salesman for THE NEWS-TIMES. He tells a wonderful story. Out at sea trying to get a land fall at Morehead City at 3 a.m. in the morning, Thursday. They witnessed a rare and beautiful sight—a rainbow in full color. It rose out of the ocean in a great half circle and disappeared again into the ocean, and it was caused entirely by the light of the moon.

Well, to get back to the story. Just before the storm blew itself out—everybody being dog tired, soaked and wet and hungry, we found a little cove and anchored. The cook fixed a meal fit for a king and then we hit the sack. What seemed like seconds later we were awakened by the greatest smell on earth, bacon and eggs and coffee.

So up came the stubborn anchor and covered me with mud from head to foot and we were on our way again before daylight. There's nothing as peaceful as a sailboat.

Good life this is. It's too bad such a small percentage of people ever get to experience it. If I ever get to be a billionaire instead of like Carnegie who gave us peasants libraries, I would see to it that every school would have a sailboat and that every student before he could graduate would have to spend two weeks at sea.

Now going through the Alligator Pungo Canal, the flowers and the honeysuckle were in full bloom and the fragrance is magnificent. I was supposed to get off at Belhaven but Burl was at the tiller and he just kept on going and being that it was a mile swim to the dock I decided I had better go along to Elizabeth City.

Penny is going to be a little put out 'cause I was to be home at noon today—it's now 3:30 and we won't be in Elizabeth City until tomorrow. But then a sailboat is an unmoderated method of transportation, however wonderful it may be. So after 23 1/2 hours of sailing across the beautiful Albemarle Sound, we finally docked at Elizabeth City at 3 a.m.

The gang was bound and determined that I was going on to the Chesapeake with them but I fooled them. As soon as everybody was asleep which didn't take but about 30 seconds, I hastily scribbled them a note and left the boat. Elizabeth City is about as bright and cheerful as a graveyard at 3:30 a.m.

I finally found a place to have a cup of coffee and wash my face. Since the bus station didn't open until 7 I decided to try to hitchhike home. However, with a three day beard and mud from the anchor all over me I guess I must have looked a little on the crummy side because quite a few cars slowed up, took one look and then stepped on the gas.

Finally I managed to get three rides which netted me a total of eight miles so at 8:30 I stood in the middle of the road and flagged down the bus.

Penny is like a mother, whose boy ran away. First she was going to whom the tar out of him but when she saw him, she was so glad to see him she forgot all about it. And so ends the saga of my shanghai.

Just thinking about great writers who go into six months of research before writing a book on catfish for example, sure makes me glad to be a small town paper columnist. You just sit down and write. It doesn't take any research to know that Ray Garrett plays awful golf. If I used research I would still come up with what everyone already knows—Dig-Em-Up Garrett just has a hard time, that's all.

Walter Dear, a fine young fellow of 77 years, visits us quite often from up North. He decided to play a little golf Saturday with his son-in-law, Lockwood Phillips.

Tar Heels Afloat Cruise Will Start At 5 P.M. Saturday

The annual Tar Heels Afloat spring cruise will take place this weekend highlighted by a cabaret banquet and floor show at the New Bern Golf and Country Club.

Cruisers will gather at the rendezvous points, Morehead City Yacht Basin or River Forest Manor, Belhaven, at 5 p.m. Saturday. Dinner and entertainment are scheduled at both spots.

Sunday morning boats will leave rendezvous points, sailing under sealed orders.

A banquet with a floor show will start at 7 p.m. at the Golf and Country Club, New Bern. Election of officers will take place during the evening.

The present officers of the organization are Ed Ward of Wilmington, commodore; Elliott Street of New Bern, rear commodore; George Arrington, New Bern, secretary; Joseph D. McCotter, Washington, N. C., vice commodore; James Thompson of Morehead City, fleet captain; A. A. Ruffin of Wilson, publicity; Dr. M. A. Pittman of Wilson, fleet surgeon; and Harold Simpson of Beaufort, treasurer.

Now Mr. Dear hadn't had a club in his hand for several years but came up with a surprising score of 51. Lockwood, our senior pro, had to scramble to just barely beat him.

Mr. and Mrs. Dail, a wonderful couple from Goldsboro, are making a show place out of the old Ocean Drive hotel on the beach. They have renamed it the Edge-water. P.S.—I would rather have had the job of building the Panama Canal. Well anyway, they inherited with the place a well, an artisan well that is. It flows all the times and seven hundred feet deep and the water is soft and tastes real wonderful.

Atlantic Beach is going to have fireworks Wednesday eve. Now I like fireworks and always have ever since I was a little shaver but I like fireworks at Atlantic Beach the best because all I have to do is raise up the shade and sit back and relax and enjoy them, just like TV without the payments.
