Jersey Caps Hide Curlers

how to maintain the glamor of the honeymoon and still keep her hair curled.

Edith Tapley, of Trenton, N. J., has come up with an answer. It's a gay little cotton jersey turban with attached bangs of real hair, faultlessly curled and available in blonde, brunette or redhead tones. It comes in a full range of colors, and proving popular not only for covering pin curls but also for riding in a convertible with the top down, for playing golf on a windy day and even for wearing to work on the day of a big date, when a girl wants to keep her hair up in pin curls until the last minute.

The caps also provide variety, as they enable the same girl to appear with blonde, red or brunette bangs on successive days.

Wedding Ring Lost 28 Years Ago Is Found

Bowling Green, Mo. — (AP) — Twenty-eight years ago young James F. Donnelly searched frantically through the dust beside the railroad tracks near here for his mother's wedding ring. It had slipped from his finger while he was working on a Gulf, Mobile and Ohio train.

No luck then.

Recently workmen, installing a switch, turned it up and returned it to Donnelly, now a conductor.
