Cecil Guthrie Gets Six Years on Three Charges of Peeping

Walter Blanchard and George Brads, charged with burglarizing Leamon Garner's Service Station, Newport, the Cedar Point Drive-In Theatre, and the Whiteway Laundry and Dry Cleaners, Morehead City, were sentenced in Superior Court Tuesday to five to seven years on the roads. The grand jury returned true bills in three separate warrants against them.

Alvah Hamilton, attorney for Cecil Guthrie, who appealed three separate judgments for peeping, pleaded his defendant guilty. Guthrie got two years on each of the charges and the court recommended that he be given "a thorough physical and mental examination."

Five true bills were returned by the grand jury Monday. Herbert Collins and Earl Tootle for theft of money; Eliza McCray, second degree murder; Ernest L. Williams, forgery; Henry D. Smith, theft of movie camera; and Ted Day, worthless checks. Smith, charged with stealing a camera, was also charged with embezzlement, but the grand jury found not a true bill in that case Tuesday. On the camera charge he pleaded guilty to forcible trespass and prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of costs.

Collins and Tootle did not contest the charges against them and were placed on probation.

Pleas Guilty
Williams pleaded guilty to forgery and Judge Clawson Williams ordered him to pay costs and make the checks good.

Prayer for judgment was continued in the case of Abraham Williams, charged with non-support.

McCray was sentenced to 15 to 20 years Thursday morning.

Two judgments were handed down Monday. Glenn D. Atwood, charged with drunk driving, was given six months on the roads suspended on payment of $150 and costs providing he does not violate a state law for two years.

William Bennett, charged with peeping, pleaded guilty and was given a six-month sentence on the roads suspended providing he pays costs and does not violate any law in the future.

The state decided not to prosecute at present the case of L. F. Williams, charged with assault with a shovel. The same decision was made in the case of Willford Norman Penny charged with bigamy.

Case Remanded
The case of Homer Lloyd Menter, an appeal on speeding from County Recorder's Court, was remanded to the lower court for judgment.

A case in which a truck exceeded the road weight limit was remanded to Recorder's Court also. The defendant was Vernon Richard Bowen.

In the case of George Hoover, charged with seduction, the state did not prosecute on the seduction charge, but on a charge of abandonment. See COURT, Page 7

Two Schools To Open Monday

Two summer sessions will open here Monday. The Woman's College Fine Arts session will open in Beaufort and continue for six weeks. The Salt Water Fishing Institute, under the extension division of North Carolina State College will open at Camp Glenn.

The fishing institute will close June 18. The surveyors short course and annual meter school being conducted in the buildings of the former Morehead City Technical Institute will end tomorrow. The surveyor's course started Monday and the meter school opened Tuesday.

One hundred fifty were enrolled in the meter school. They and their guests attended a graduation banquet at the Blue Ribbon Club last night. The speaker was Roy Palmer, Duke Power Co., Charlotte, and the toastmaster was Dean J. H. Lampe, School of Engineering, State College.

Students in the surveyor's course will attend their graduation banquet at 8 tonight in the Camp Glenn section base dining room. The 12 graduates will hear A. Corsey, assemblyman of Martin County. The toastmaster will be Prof. D. B. Stencil, State College.

Duke University summer session opened in Beaufort Thursday.

Registration for the Beaufort summer recreation program will take place tomorrow morning from 9 to 12 at the Scout Building on Pollock Street.

The program, which is sponsored by civic and fraternal organizations and through donations by merchants and private citizens, will provide supervised baseball, swimming and dancing to all children from the age of 8 on up, until Aug. 14, when the program will end.

Hugh C. Gordon, new football coach at the Beaufort High School, will direct the recreation program. He and his family will move to Beaufort tomorrow morning from Burgaw where he has been teaching.

Registrants should go to the Scout Building Monday morning to see Mr. Gordon and learn the week's schedule.

Assisting at the registration will be Mrs. Jack Barnes, Mrs. Adam Metz, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and Mrs. Jack Ward, members of the Junior Woman's Club.

ASC Office Measures County Leaf Acreage

B. J. May, head of the county Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, reported this week that all tobacco acreage measurement in the county should be complete by July 1.

The county's leaf acreage this year is about 50 acres more than last, he said, or 1,975 acres. The cotton acreage quota is fairly high too, 150 acres, he added. This year is the first for cotton acreage limits since 1950.

The penalty rate for overplanted tobacco is 21 cents a pound. Anyone who plants excess acreage can request assistance of the ASC in measuring and destroying the excess. A deposit must be made, however, Mr. May said, to help defray the expense of this service.

Measuring was started May 24. Those doing the work are the following: Clyde Morris, White Oak; Prentiss Garner, Clarence Mills; Harry D. Lockey, Newport; Sam Garner and Addison McCabe, Morehead township; H. D. Carraway Jr., Merrimon, and Henry M. Goodwin, Atlantic, area east of Beaufort.

M. May said his office is looking for a person to supervise farmers' compliance with government rulings. Pay, he said, is $11 a day.

The ASC manager said that the entire county was photographed from the air in November and these photographs, 165 of them, will be used in checking farmers' compliance with acreage allotments next year.

Planning Board Meets Tuesday

The Beaufort Planning Board met Tuesday night at the town hall to discuss a program for getting the board into working order again after a lapse of half a year.

No conclusive action was taken, Halsey Paul, chairman of the board said. He added that any decision the board makes must be approved by the town board and that he would probably appear before the town board at their July meeting.

The next meeting of the planning board has been scheduled for Tuesday, July 13.

Attending Tuesday's meeting in addition to the chairman, were Mrs. Henry Hattell, secretary; Jarvis Herring, D. F. Merrill, Dr. W. L. Woodard, members of the board and Gerald Woolard, building inspector.

Floyd G. Bryant, Beaufort, Plays Good Samaritan to English Sparrow

By S/Sgt. JAMES J. OGGERINO

Camp Lejeune — Nearly every morning, before the arrival of students at the Camp Lejeune High School, a solitary figure can be seen walking near a certain tree holding in his outstretched palms either ground meat or some bread soaked in milk.

He's Floyd G. Bryant, 1407 Front St., Beaufort, former fishery research biologist for the U. S. Wildlife Service in Beaufort, but now a science instructor.

Mr. Bryant is feeding "Twentybird," his pet English sparrow. Two months ago some children climbed a tree in the Bryant neighborhood and broke a nest, destroying three of the four nestlings.

"Twentybird," almost dead, was picked up by some benevolent older boys and brought to Mr. Bryant's home.

First aid in the form of milk fed from an eyedropper and an incubator rigged up from a shoe box and a 15-watt bulb saved the day for "Twentybird."

Two Motorists Tried Monday

H. W. Long Pays $100 Fine for Drunk Driving; Allen Palwick Pays $100

Judge George McNeill heard two drunk driving cases Monday in a short session of Morehead City Recorder's Court.

Harold W. Long was fined $100 and costs on a drunk driving charge. Allen Palwick was found not guilty of drunk driving but guilty of reckless driving and was ordered to pay $100 and costs.

Hubert Wesley Bryant, charged with public drunkenness, was given a 30-day suspended sentence on the streets. Bryant was ordered to stay on good behavior for 90 days and pay court costs.

Prayer for judgment was continued for four weeks in the cases of Parris Willis and Leon English, both charged with public drunkenness.

To Pay Costs
Reginald Conway was ordered to pay costs of a public drunkenness charge. Prayer for judgment had been continued from Feb. 16.

Ed Fitzpatrick was found not guilty of public drunkenness. The case of his failing to pay a fine and costs of May 3 was continued. Fitzpatrick was found guilty at that time on a public drunkenness charge.

James F. Robinson was ordered to pay $10 and costs. He was fined to stop for a stop sign.

The case against Frank Raddi
Camp Lejeune, was removed from the docket until he returns to court. Raddi is currently AWOL. He is charged with no operator's license.

Fails to Appear
Cecil Joe Rouse did not appear in court to answer to a charge of no operator's license. He was given two weeks to appear and show why his bond should not be forfeited.

The prosecuting witness was taxed with court costs when a warrant, charging Frederick Hughes with being drunk and disorderly and using loud and profane language, was withdrawn. The court ruled frivolous prosecution.

Esther B. Sutton, charged with speeding, was fined $10 and costs. Court costs were imposed on the following: Hubert C. Smith, Forrest Burch Hayes, and James Wilbert Taylor, charged with speeding; Francis James Hartley and Frederick H. Prescott, charged with failing to stop for a stop sign; and J. R. Williams, public drunkenness.

Cases continued were Peter Paul Kalafus, reckless driving; Edna Whaley Stevens, breaking, entering, and larceny; and Vestall Adair Grant and Tanya Lindsay, failing to stop for a stop sign.

K. W. Wright Makes Statement on Arrests

K. W. Wright told THE NEWS-TIMES Wednesday that the migrant laborers charged Saturday night with possessing non-taxpaid whiskey were not arrested on his farm.

Mr. Wright said one was arrested at a camp on Neal Campen's farm and the other was arrested on his place but was a worker from Campen's labor camp who "had no business" being on the Wright property.

Board Discusses Paving, Zoning, Closes Chicken Shack on Queen Street

At the request of the county health officer, Dr. F. E. Hyde, the Beaufort town board Monday night authorized the clerk to write to residents in the 700 block of Ann and Front Streets who have made sanitary sewer connections on to the town's newly-laid storm sewer.

Dr. Hyde said "seven water closets" have been hooked into the storm sewer and that the sewer empties into Taylor's Creek above the low water line. He termed it a public health danger.

After discussing ways in which the residents affected can connect to sanitary sewers on Marsh, Pollock and Ann Streets, the board authorized the clerk to notify them, enclose a copy of the health officer's letter and offer the town's help in an engineering standpoint in correcting the situation.

Three Judges Will Select Father-of-Year

Judges for the big Father-of-the-Year contest being sponsored by 10 leading Morehead City businessmen were announced yesterday.

They are Mayor George W. Dill, Morehead City, Ted Davis, manager of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce, and I. E. Pittman, vice-president of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Co.

Any father may be entered in the contest. The person submitting his name should state in 25 words or less why that father should receive the honor of being Father-of-the-Year.

A blank can be clipped from today's paper or may be obtained from any of the 10 sponsoring merchants.

Deadline for submitting nominations is 10 a.m. Wednesday. There are only FIVE DAYS left to turn in ballots. The decision of the judges will be final.

Announcement of the winner will be made in next Friday's NEWS-TIMES. The winning father will be presented with 10 grand gifts at 11 a.m. Saturday morning in front of the Morehead City municipal building.

The gifts are as follows:

1. A two-piece slack set and pair of shoes from Belk's Department Store.
2. A bathroom heater valued at $19.95 from Carteret Gas Co., Inc.
3. A Bulova picture watch, $55 value, from Early Jewelers.
4. Television chair from Hamilton's, Inc.
5. Summer suit from Leary's Store for Men.
6. Brownie Hawkeye flash camera from Morehead City Drug Co.
7. Wash and lubrication job, Willis Pure Oil Service Station.
8. Pair of Florsheim shoes, Webb's.
9. Box of three sport shirts, Styron's.
10. Basket of groceries, value $10 from Stroud's Food Center.

Willis was killed instantly when the car in which he was riding failed to make a curve east of the Smyrna Creek Bridge. Styron, whose father owned the car, a 1950 Chevrolet, received minor injuries.

Funeral services for Willis were conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Free Will Baptist Church. The Rev. R. H. Jackson, pastor, and the Rev. M. P. Garner, pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church, Davis, officiated.

Willis is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Willis, Davis, a younger brother, Elton Gray, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willis and Mrs. Heddie Murphy. Burial was in the Murphy cemetery.

State Highway Patrolman W. J. Smith Jr. who investigated the accident said it could not be learned who was driving the automobile.

Willis was killed when he was thrown from the car. He had a fractured skull, broken neck and internal injuries. His body was pulled from a water-filled canal by Elmer Dewey Willis of Williston.

Serving on the coroner's jury which was impaneled by Coroner Leslie D. Springle, were Ben Gibbs, T. P. Allen, Herbert Whitehurst, Ralph Eudy, Elmore Davis and R. H. Brown.

Coroner's Jury Rules Youth's Death Accidental

A coroner's jury ruled Tuesday night that Otis Guy Willis, 17, met his death as the result of an automobile accident at 11:45 a.m. Sunday and requested further investigation of the case. It had not been established by Tuesday night who the driver of the car was, Willis, or his companion, Roy Davis Styron, Davis. The inquest took place at the courthouse, Beaufort.

Willis was killed instantly when the car in which he was riding failed to make a curve east of the Smyrna Creek Bridge. Styron, whose father owned the car, a 1950 Chevrolet, received minor injuries.

Funeral services for Willis were conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Free Will Baptist Church. The Rev. R. H. Jackson, pastor, and the Rev. M. P. Garner, pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church, Davis, officiated.

Track Owners Seek To Block Injunction

After a three-hour hearing Judge Clawson Williams ruled in Superior Court late Wednesday afternoon that the act creating the Morehead City dog track is unconstitutional and said he would sign an order preventing operation of the track.

But legal wheels were still turning yesterday to allow the operation of the track this season. Frank Aycock, attorney for Wiley Taylor Jr., Beaufort, who brought the action to close the track, was due in Beaufort at 3:30 yesterday.

Attorneys for the racing association were to present at that time a motion to prevent the injunction from going into effect until the State Supreme Court acts on an appeal which the racing association intends to file. The appeal will be from the decision handed down by Judge Williams.

The judge's decision is based on the fact that gambling is illegal in North Carolina and therefore the track constitutes a nuisance because of the gambling carried on there.

Notarized signatures of more than 200 persons who said that the track is operated in an orderly manner were presented by attorneys for the track.

The perspiring Mr. Aycock objected to entering the signatures as evidence, claiming they were "irrelevant." Special affidavit attesting to the orderly operation of the track were presented from former Sheriff C. G. Holland, Deputy Sheriff Bobby Bell, a former track employee and Sheriff Hugh Salter.

Appearing with Mr. Aycock was Mr. Taylor who had nothing to say throughout the proceedings. Joining track attorneys W. A. Lucas and John Dawson as co-defendants were George McNeill, Morehead City town attorney, and Harvey Hamilton Jr., attorney for the Morehead City Racing Commission.

A small group of about 30 people were in the courtroom but among them was Mayor George Dill, Morehead City, Town Commissioner D. G. Bell, H. Earle Mobley former assemblyman; Dr. B. F. Royal, Sam Adler, D. B. Webb, Rudolph Dowdy, Bernard Leary, Don Femia; also greyhound owners and men employed at the track in previous seasons.

Mr. Aycock, in replying to the answer filed by the defendants, kept shoving his glasses up on his forehead as he addressed the judge.

The following day the party will move up the coast to Hatteras Inlet and then to Buxton where the Cape Hatteras Park area will be inspected and will proceed thence up the sound to Manteo.

To Travel Chowan
Tuesday morning the party will cross Albemarle Sound to the Inland waterway at the mouth of the Pasquotank River and will proceed westward along the sound to Edenton. A short trip will be made up the Chowan River to inspect areas which have been called to the attention of the committee and the party will spend the night at Edenton.

The following day they will cross the Albemarle Sound to the Alligator River and thence down the inland waterway to Belhaven where the trip will end.

Members of the committee will contact numerous individuals and representatives of various companies along the route who are interested in a well-planned program for further development of the inland ports and waterways.

Rotarians Hear Labor Supervisor
Frank Nance, farm labor supervisor for this county, spoke to the Beaufort Rotary Club Tuesday night at the Inlet Inn on the migrant labor problems in this county and along the eastern seaboard.

He was introduced by Gilbert Potter, program chairman. Rotary's new officers will take office in July. A special installation program is being planned for Wednesday afternoon, June 30, Gene Smith, retiring president, said.

Visitors at the meeting were Howard McGinnis, Greenville, former district governor; Robert Rouse Jr., Greenville; John Smith, Peoria, Ill., and George H. McNeill, Morehead City.

Three Win Degrees
Three countians received AB degrees Monday at University of North Carolina commencement. They are Charles Thomas Macy, Morehead City, chemistry; James Millard Willis, Davis, education; and Donald T. Davis, Morehead City, business administration.

Elks Invite Public To Flag Day Services

Services observing Flag Day will take place at the Elks Club at 1002 Arendell St., Morehead City, Monday at 8 p.m. These exercises are held annually in celebration of Flag Day by Elks Clubs throughout the nation. There will a complete history of the nation's flags given at that time.

"The public is cordially invited and mothers are especially urged to bring the children because the program will be interesting and informative to the younger generation," commented A. H. James, exalted ruler.

Refreshments will be served.

Judge's Car Hits Parked Auto

A Pontiac driven by Judge Earl Mason, Beaufort, zoomed backward across Front Street at 4:30 p.m. Sunday and hit a car parked on the north side of the street.

According to Officer Maxwell Wade of the Beaufort police force, Judge Mason was parked in front of the Coffee Shop (formerly City Bakery). He said the judge moved to the side opposite the driver's seat to see better and put his foot on the accelerator.

The car went backward and didn't stop until it struck a car that had been parked on the opposite side of the street by John Boyce Styron of Stacy. Styron's fender was dented and the hub cap on a wheel knocked off.

Damage to the Pontiac was estimated at $15 and damage to Styron's car, a 1953 Ford, was estimated at $20.

Officer Wade said that Judge Mason agreed to pay for repairs on Styron's automobile.

No charges were preferred.

State Review Panel Approves County School Building Plan

The County Board of Education, in session Monday night at the education office, courthouse annex, Beaufort, was informed that state officials appointed to review plans for the spending of school bond money, approved the proposal submitted by Carteret County.

A letter giving that approval was read to the board by H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent of schools. The letter was from Dr. C. F. Carroll, state superintendent of public instruction.

The approval covers projects 1 and 2, an annex for Queen Street School and an elementary school for Beaufort. Mr. Joslyn appeared before the review panel May 25 at Raleigh.

At that time, it was noted by one of the panel members, that no arrangements had been made to transfer the Queen Street High School to Morehead City. Mr. Joslyn acknowledged that such was the case and reminded the panel members that in the state recommendation that such be done it was suggested also that the county follow a procedure most beneficial to the county as a whole.

Mr. Joslyn explained that transfer of the school to Morehead City would not be feasible and would mean an increased cost in transportation of students from Harlowe and the Craven County section.

The review panel accepted the county's plans for spending the $108,068.71 allotted from the first $25 million of school bond money. That approval was later okayed by the State Board of Education.

The State Board has decided to make no allotment of the second $25 million until the Supreme Court takes further action regarding integration of white and Negro schools.

Mr. Joslyn said that the next steps will be drawing up specifications for the Queen Street annex and the Beaufort school, which may require six weeks. Bids will

State Officials Will Leave Morehead City Sunday Morning

Gehrmann Holland, Beaufort, assistant fisheries commissioner, and Cecil Morris, Atlantic, chairman of the state commercial fisheries committee, will be among the group of men who will take a four-day trip along the coast and inland waterway, beginning Sunday at Morehead City.

Others who will make the trip are Miles J. Smith of Salisbury, Charles H. Jenkins of Ahoskie, Scroop W. Enloe Jr., of Spruce Pine; Henry Rankin Jr., of Fayetteville; and Leo H. Harvey of Kingston. They will be accompanied by Director Ben E. Douglas of the Department of Conservation and Development; Eric W. Rodgers, assistant to the director; and Miles Hughey of the State News Bureau.

Mr. Morris, Mr. Smith, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Enloe, Mr. Rankin and Mr. Harvey are members of the Water Resources, Inland Ports and Waterways Committee of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Staff representatives of the newspapers and press associations which maintain Raleigh headquarters have also been invited.

To Study Facilities
The cruise will be for the purpose of studying the facilities which are available for using the inland waters of North Carolina for commercial and pleasure purposes with the idea of seeing what can be done to improve these facilities, Mr. Douglas said. This is in line with one of the objectives of the Department of Conservation and Development and is a major aim of Governor Unstead in developing Eastern North Carolina, he director added.

According to Mr. Douglas, the group will leave Morehead City Sunday morning, June 13, and will pass through Core Sound to Atlantic. The second stop will be at Portsmouth and the third stop at Ocracoke. Along the way Drum Inlet and Ocracoke Inlet will be inspected.

The following day the party will move up the coast to Hatteras Inlet and then to Buxton where the Cape Hatteras Park area will be inspected and will proceed thence up the sound to Manteo.
