Jerry

Well, I am going to invest a few fifty cents, and if they can teach me to tell only one joke without forgetting the punch line, brother, that's for me!

Just heard about a family that had eight boys in a row, then at long last came a girl, so they named her Nina.

Mack McCuiston had a birthday Tuesday. "Tis rumored he is three years younger than Methuselah. Can't ever remember having more fun, excepting at Hog Island.

Dick McClain at the Blue Ribbon couldn't decide what to eat, so Ellie Garrett suggested lobster thermador, so Dick comes up with, "I feel more beefish than fishish tonight."

Understatement of the Week: Captain Bill, who claims a formal education through the second grade, just bought the Heart of the Beach, reputedly for a hundred grand. That, with his other interests, would lead me to believe that he is doing a bit of all right.

Made some aerial pictures of the Port Terminal and carried the proofs there and left them. Got back to the studio and Jack Holt called and said, "Jerry, I like one of these right well. Please print up a few on the one with the fly speck on it."

Well, going through the negatives, sure enough, there was one with what looked like a fly speck right in the middle of the picture; however, after closer inspection, we discovered it was a helicopter about to land.

Well, we had a good laugh about this and don't you know, we have filed this negative under, "Port Terminal, Aerial Fly Speck Negative."

There's a big enlargement of this picture hanging in the First-Citizen's Bank, Morehead City. See for yourself the next time you go in.

Chamber Manager Invites Executives to Meet Here

Ted Davis, manager of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce, has announced that the North Carolina Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives has tentatively accepted an invitation to meet at Morehead City next July.

The executives met last week in the western part of the state. Mr. Davis wired an invitation to them to meet here in 1955. Approximately 120 attended the meeting.

City because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community - betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. Mr. Howard added. During the past fiscal year, 448 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 51 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific.

At 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the Recreation Center committee chairmen will submit their programs for the coming year, President Howard announces.

Mr. Howard told the club last Thursday that the board of directors approved for honorary membership Judge Luther Hamilton, Dr. Ben F. Royal, Walter P. Freeman, Robert W. Taylor, and W. C. Matthews.

The board also approved continuing the Spanish subscriptions of the Rotary magazine for this year, said Mr. Howard. The club annually subscribes to a number of Spanish language magazines which are sent to South America.

Bill Chalk, program chairman, conducted a question and answer period Thursday to determine the kind of programs the club would like for the coming year.

H. L. Joslyn, Morehead City, had as his guests, his sons, Harvey Jr., Oscar, and son-in-law, Bill Menezess.

Visitors were Wade Gallant and W. C. Johnson of Raleigh; B. D. Bunn, Whiteville; Boyd Palmer, Puerto Rico; Nathan Garner, Newport; and Eddie Cameron, Durham.

to do so since many of the faculty and graduate students of Duke University and other state institutions have occupied the available space.

"The executive committee of the Duke University Marine Laboratory and the administration of Duke University, realizing the advantage of maintaining a balance between research and student activity and the stimulation derived from having investigators from other areas, planned to meet the demand by building a modern and up-to-date research laboratory.

"Various marine laboratories were visited this past fall to obtain ideas concerning construction and facilities demanded by researchers throughout the country. These features, as well as those needed in the local situation, were incorporated in the final plan for the new building."

The new research laboratory, built at a cost of $30,000, completes the quadrangle at the marine station. It was built by W. C. Flowers, Beaufort. Subcontractors were Harry Whitehurst, Carl Hartsell, both of Beaufort; Leonard's Metal Shop and Carteret Gas Co., both of Morehead City.

Following the dedication ceremony, Duke University will be host at a picnic supper at the lab.

Morehead City Hospital: Discharged after treatment: Valerie Hester, Morehead City, Saturday.

Admitted: Mrs. David Horton, Morehead City, Friday.

Morehead City—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler and daughter, Lila Mae, of Salisbury, have been visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Butler. They were accompanied by their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Edward S. Geiger. While here Mr. Geiger officiated at the graveside services of Darryl Edward Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Butler, who died last Wednesday.

Firemen Answer Call on 5th Street Sunday

Morehead City firemen were called Sunday afternoon to put out a fire at the home of J. Morton, 304 N. 5th St., Morehead City. The fire was out when firemen arrived, said Fire Chief Eldon Nelson.

Mr. Morton was in the rear of his home using gasoline to start a fire in a brush pile. A flashback caused the fire, said the chief. A neighbor, seeing the blaze, called firemen.

Mr. Morton smothered the blaze with a blanket before firemen arrived.

EDITH LOCKEY, Town Clerk

Car Gets $500 Damage in Wreck

Five hundred dollars damage was caused to the car driven by Gladys English Walker, N. 28th Street, Morehead City, when it was involved in an accident at 12:50 p.m. Sunday with a 1950 Buick driven by Anthony Dudley Jr., 209 N. 14th St., Morehead City.

Sgt. Carl Bunch of the Morehead City police force, said Mrs. Walker, in a 1954 Chevrolet, was going east on Arendell Street when Dudley, headed south on 19th struck her as he was turning east into Arendell.

Dudley told the officer that he stopped but didn't see the Walker car as he turned into the intersection. Damage to his car, owned by Anthony Dudley Sr., was estimated at $50.

Dudley has been charged with driving without an operator's license and failure to yield right-of-way.

The rally was preceded by a clam bake. Tables were set up in the Willis Brothers boat building shed to the east of the clamhouse.

Roy Thomas Garner, chairman of the County Executive Committee, was master of ceremonies. He presented Joe Dunn, Dunn, N. C. who introduced Mr. West, former city judge of Raleigh.

Competing with the steady roar of rain on the tin roof, Judge West presented his platform, declaring that it's time Republicans forgot their Civil War prejudices and "voted for a prosperous America."

Taxes Rise
He read statistics to prove that taxation has increased under the 20-year Democratic regime. Referring to the current Republican administration, the judge said Democrats predicted that a depression was on its way.

"The depression didn't come and it won't come," he declared.
Judge West told his listeners that his opponent, Kerr Scott, "is not a Democrat, he's a Socialist." Claiming that Mr. Scott received financial support in his recent senatorial race from Detroit and New York interests, Judge West closed his address with "We want North Carolinians to run North Carolina business" and was loudly applauded.

Bob Montague, Newport, introduced Zeno Ratcliffe, a director of the North Carolina Young Republicans Club. Mr. Ratcliffe, president of the Beaufort Young Republicans, urged Republicans 18 to 40 years of age to respond to efforts to organize a Young Republicans Club in Carteret.

To Meet July 31
He announced that Young Republicans of Eastern Carolina will meet at Newton's Grove in Sampson County July 31.

Grayden Paul, presented by Mr. Garner said that he was honored to be asked to take an active part in the Republican party "and if I'm elected by the Republicans and a few good Democrats I'll serve Carteret County to the best of my ability."

Mr. Jennings was introduced by Claud Wheatly, Beaufort, who termed Mr. Jennings "the hope of the Republican party in North Carolina."

The chairman of the State Executive Committee called for a united front to build the Republican party in North Carolina.

"When I accepted the responsibility of leading the party, I realized we had a great opportunity," he said. "We've got thousands of Democrats ready to join us if we show them that we mean business."

He said the party has a splendid opportunity of sending a Republican senator to Washington. The people who voted for Lennon will vote for West, he predicted. "I don't believe the people of North Carolina will have truck with a man like Scott," he added.

He told his audience that if each would start working that night, they could carry the November election for everyone of their candidates in the county and would send Paul West to the Senate.

"The trouble is," he continued, "everyone says 'Let George do it' and he can never find George."
He said it was important that the young people become interested in the party. "It's the only place they can have a voice in politics," he declared, "because the Democrats are a closed organization."

Mr. Garner announced that there would be another Republican get-together in the near future.
