

Catholics to Dedicate Mission Chapel Sunday

The new Catholic Chapel of St. Mary, Star of the Sea, will be dedicated in ceremonies Sunday at 5:15 p.m. by the Most Reverend Vincent S. Waters, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Raleigh. Bishop Waters' charge, extends from Morehead City to Murphy, with some hundred parishes and churches.

St. Mary's, the newest church of the diocese, is a summer mission of St. Egbert's in Morehead City, and is served from there by the Rev. J. Paul Byron, pastor. It was erected for Catholic tourists who come to this area, and will be used almost exclusively in the summer-time, said Father Byron.

The church, located on the Fort Macon Road, is of cement-block, modern construction, and will seat 150. Sanctuary murals, which form the principal decoration of the interior, are near life-size representations of the Crucifixion, St. Joseph, and St. Mary, Star of the Sea. They were done by Richard Byrnes, on the staff of the Summer School of Fine Arts at Beaufort during the past season.

Bishop Waters will officiate at the dedication ceremonies, assisted by clergy of the surrounding counties. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Joseph F. Byron, brother of the local pastor. He is stationed in Washington, D. C. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Men's Choir of St. Egbert's Church.

The public, Father Byron emphasized, is welcome to inspect the church at any time, and to be present for the dedication ceremonies.

Less Than Half of Leaf Marketing Cards Go Out

Less than half of the tobacco marketing cards in Carteret County have been delivered, according to B. J. May, manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office, Beaufort.

Mr. May explains that the rains after the drought caused a second growth in tobacco and made the harvest late.

At present the average support price per pound for tobacco is 47.9 cents, with 73 cents for top grade tobacco and 13 cents for low grade. Tobacco farmers must have their marketing cards before their tobacco can be sold.

Street End Opened

Mayor George W. Dill, Morehead City, announced yesterday that the south end of 27th Street, Morehead City, has been opened at the request of residents of that area.

Smoke Clears in Furor Over 'Arrest Without Warrants'

By Tuesday the smoke had cleared regarding arrests without warrants. At least the State Highway Patrol got its feet back on the ground.

After busy weekend consultation with Attorney General Harry McMullan and talk of a special session of the legislature, Motor Vehicles Commissioner Ed Scheidt announced Tuesday an "arrests as usual" policy.

Law enforcement officers throughout the state were thrown into a tizzy during the past week by a July 9 Supreme Court ruling which stated that a drunk could not be arrested without a warrant unless he was disturbing the peace.

Nobody has yet explained why it took from July 9 to the middle of August for the law enforcement officers to get excited over the ruling.

Morehead City police officers were advised at a special meeting Monday afternoon to continue their "arrests as usual" policy, beating the state-motor vehicles officials by a day in interpreting the law as not applying to motor vehicle violations.

Mr. Whitley became a member in 1953 and has served in various positions.

Driver Pays Costs Tuesday

Malcolm Sullivan paid costs of court in Beaufort Recorder's Court Tuesday after he was found guilty of failing to stop at a stop sign.

Three cases were continued and one bench warrant was issued.

The case against James Johnson was continued. He is charged with colliding with another car, leaving the scene of the accident without reporting it, refusing to show his driver's license when requested to do so by the officers who investigated the accident, and resisting arrest.

Earl C. Schneider's case was also continued. He is charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, careless and reckless driving, and causing property damage of $150.

The case against Marshall Hicks, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants or narcotics, was also continued.

A bench warrant was issued by Judge Earl Mason for Laurie Guthrie, charged with failing to stop at a stop sign.

Beaufort Board Withdraws Permission to Build Reel

At a special meeting of the Beaufort Town Board Tuesday night, Claud R. Wheatly Jr., Beaufort attorney, presented the board with a petition objecting to the recent action of the board in granting permission to build a temporary seine reel on the south side of Front Street in front of the postoffice.

After a 30-minute discussion in which several of the 29 persons present voiced their opinions, the board withdrew permission to put up the reel.

Mr. Wheatly read the petition to the board. It asked that the board "protect the aesthetic values of the town, protect property from devaluation and generally preserve our present living condition by reconsidering recent action permitting seine reel and/or other instrumentalities of a view-blocking nature from being placed in the area south of Front Street, east of Queen Street which we believe is restricted for residential use only."

The petition also asked that the applicant request a building permit so that objecting citizens might be able to appear at the meeting and voice their complaints if they have any.

25 Sign Petition
Twenty-five persons signed the petition. Eleven of the signers were present at the meeting.

Signing the petition were Mrs. James Herrman, Mrs. A. J. Rose, Mrs. B. C. Brown, Mrs. L. J. Jones, Miss Mildred Jones, Howard Jones, Odell Merrill, Miss Lena Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bell, Mrs. Lon Hill, Mrs. Bob Carr, Miss Gladys Chadwick.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wheatly Jr., Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. A. V. Pierson, B. H. Stephens, Mrs. Mary E. Arrington, Miss Lessie Arrington, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Maxwell, Paul S. Jones, James Davis and Mrs. C. R. Wheatly.

After reading the petition Mr. Wheatly explained that in 1949 the Beaufort Town Board approved a zoning ordinance. He said the zoning ordinance is set up so that the people won't have to attend each board meeting to protect their rights and see that the board isn't passing motions which infringe on the property rights of the people.

Leslie Moore, Beaufort, who originally brought the request before the board that permission be given to build the seine reel, explained that he thought it would cement relationships with the fishing fleet, from which the merchants benefit.

He said, "I had no bad intentions. I just wanted to do something that would benefit the town in general."

The oath was administered by A. H. James, clerk of Superior Court.

The board approved the list of registrars for the 27 precincts. The list was presented by Irvin W. Davis, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Present at the meeting in addition to Mr. Seely and the new member of the board, was D. Irvin Garner, Democratic member from Newport.

Parents Raise Safety Question

Parents of children west of 21st Street, Morehead City, have raised the question of safety in the youngsters' getting to Camp Glenn School. Prior to this year the children attended Morehead City School.

There are no sidewalks on either Arendell Street or Bridges Street, both main highways.

Mayor George W. Dill, Morehead City, said the matter had not been brought to his attention but it would be worthy of consideration at this week's town board meeting. Sidewalks, he added, were out of the question, unless the property owners affected were willing to be assessed for the laying of walks.

R. W. Safrit Jr., chairman of the County Board of Education, said that quite a few of the parents could probably carry their youngsters to school by automobile.

Parents are concerned about the youngsters' walking along the highway and crossing 28th Street. While safety patrol boys may be on duty in front of the school, they do not cover the crossings four and five blocks away.

H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent, and school principals at Morehead City and Camp Glenn could not be consulted prior to press time because they were attending a conference at Greenville.

Officer Makes Highway Report

A financial report has been sent members of the All Seashore Highway Association, Inc. by J. A. DuBois, secretary.

Mr. DuBois reported that 3,000 membership cards have been printed and distributed; 500 to each of the following communities: Manteo, Ocracoke, Morehead City and Wilmington.

He reported that receipts from contributions and sale of membership cards totaled $115. Of this, $92.67 was spent, leaving a balance of $22.33.

A weather report on coastal North Carolina from Hatteras weather station was also included in the report, as were maps of the proposed all seashore highway.

R. M. Williams, county agent, announced this week the polling places for the Nickels-for-Know-How referendum Oct. 15.

The Nickels-for-Know-How program has been in effect in North Carolina three years. The law requires that every three years the farmers vote on whether they want to continue contributing to farm research by paying a nickel extra on every ton of feed and fertilizer they buy.

Since 1951 when the program first went into effect about $140,000 has been collected annually. It is spent for "agricultural research and education," Mr. Williams explained.

The money is collected by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture from feed and fertilizer distributors and turned over to the Agricultural Foundation of State College.

Carteret farmers overwhelmingly approved the assessment in 1951. Throughout North Carolina the approval vote was better than 90 per cent.

Farmers may cast their vote in the referendum at the following places: Stella, Jim Young's Store; Bogue, Joe Taylor's Store; Cedar Point, David Redfern's Roadside Market; Mundine Community, Cecil Pringle's Store.

Nine-Foot Road, Quinn's Store; Wildwood, Lee Murdoch's Store; Newport, Ray T. Garner's Feed Store; Crab Point, J. T. Oglesby home; Beaufort, Gaskill's Feed Store.

North Hatteras, Lionel Conner's Store; Bettie, Cleveland Gillikin's Store; Merrimon, Guy Carraway's Store; Smyrna, Headen Willis's Store.

'Unauthorized Group' Seeks Funds for Football Cards

H. S. Gibbs Jr. told Morehead City Jaycees Monday night that an unauthorized group is canvassing the town for funds for football schedule cards.

This group, said Mr. Gibbs, is not sponsored by the Jaycees nor has it the club's sanction.

The Jaycees have not as yet started an advertising campaign for their football schedule cards, but will do so soon, he added.

Mr. Gibbs then outlined the football players' group insurance plan for this year.

Jerry Rowe, religious activities chairman, reported that he conferred with members of the County Ministers' Association and it has been decided to dispense with the Fifth Sunday Union Service this month.

In its stead, said Mr. Rowe, a youth service will be held in individual churches Aug. 29. Its theme will be back-to-school.

Mr. Rowe commended Jaycees for their faithfulness in visiting the hospital each Sunday as part of the club project. Ambassadors of Good Cheer. He said that Gerald Murdoch and Nick Galantis visited the hospital Sunday.

A report on the district meeting in Greenville was given by P. H. Geer Jr., Dr. Russell Outlaw, J. B. Crowe, Jasper Bell, and L. G. Dunn.

Bill Norwood reported on Miss North Carolina's vacation here. Mr. Dunn said the club netted $100 on the fish fry given that week.

Residents File Action, Town Stops Services

A temporary restraining order has been issued by Judge J. P. Frizzelle, resident judge of the Fifth Judicial District, preventing the town of Atlantic Beach from attempting to annex the area between the present northern boundary of the town and Bogue Sound.

The plaintiffs in the suit are Etta L. Willis, John Smith, and Lester N. Moore.

Judge Frizzelle based his judgment upon the fact that there are not 25 registered voters in the area nor have property owners petitioned to be annexed.

The town of Atlantic Beach, if it wishes to continue annexation plans, now has to obtain the written consent of all property owners affected.

The restraining order also prohibits the mayor of Atlantic Beach, the town board or successors from exercising any political or governing dominion over the area.

The judgment was signed by Judge Frizzelle Wednesday.

Mrs. Willis, who is postmistress and owns the postoffice building as well as her home next door, said she did not have any grudge against the town, the town board, or the mayor.

But she charged that Atlantic Beach has been trying to charge her town taxes when she is not in the town limits.

She declared, "We just want to be left alone. I don't think any of the people in this area want to be annexed into Atlantic Beach."

She also pointed out that persons against annexation are prepared for any future action the board may take.

She added, "I think we can hold them off for a long time."

Mrs. Willis said that other areas suggested for annexation, Ocean Ridge and Money Island, will fight it.

She also charged that the map of the town limits which the Atlantic Beach board sent to the State Highway Department in application for Powell Bill Funds was not a true map of the town and some streets were included which were not in the town limits.

Mayor A. E. Cooper said yesterday that police and garbage service to persons in the area proposed for annexation has been stopped. He also said that some persons in the area outside the town limits have been receiving tax notices by error. The town was not aware that they were beyond the corporate limits.

Defendants named in the suit, Mayor Cooper, and the commissioners, J. C. Lanier, H. W. Anderson, W. C. Whitehurst and Lorenz T. White, waived right to a trial and accepted Judge Frizzelle's ruling as a final judgment in the case.

The beach town board will meet at the Ocean King Hotel at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

the Jaycee social affair last Monday at his hunting camp west of Newport.

J. T. Mott, Jaycee Junior Baseball League treasurer, said all but a few bills have been paid. Mr. Bell reminded League President J. B. Crowe that uniforms are to be collected at the end of the season.

It was also announced that an orientation program for new Jaycee members will be given Monday.

Norman Clark, Morehead City High football coach, was a guest, and reported on the first day of football practice.

Other guests were Bill Harrell, Morehead City; and Ray Gibbs, Dayton, Ohio. Elton Edwards, Greensboro, was a visitor.

Plane to Start DDT Spraying This Morning
J. A. DuBois, manager of the Sea Level Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday that a plane spraying DDT will leave the Beaufort airport early this morning and cover the marshes on each side of Highway 70 eastward to Davis.

Other areas to be sprayed include Beaufort, Stratts, Harkers Island and Marshallburg.

The spraying program, to kill mosquitoes, was undertaken this summer by the Sea Level Chamber of Commerce. Mr. DuBois says results have been most satisfactory. He says he believes that spraying twice a year will be adequate in the future and that $1,200 annually will cover the cost.

Theater to Picnic
The Carteret Community Theatre will have a dutch picnic Tuesday, starting at 5:30 p.m., at the Fort Macon State Park.

Upstate Woman Identifies Isle
Mrs. J. H. Bartholomew, Greensboro, probably thinks it really is a small world.

Cliff Flowers, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Flowers, Beaufort, was swimming around in Taylor's Creek recently when he saw a bottle coming in on the tide. He got the bottle and discovered it had a note in it.

The note said, "June 8, 1950, Haddam Island. Just South of the Sand Bar."

The note was taken to the University of North Carolina's Fisheries Research, Morehead City, but the scientists there couldn't figure out the meaning on the location of the island.

Mrs. Bartholomew heard of the note and announced that Haddam Island is in the middle of the Connecticut River about 10 miles from Middletown, Conn., where she lived as a girl.

She said she used to go swimming around the island and the sand bar mentioned in the note provides a wonderful beach.

It is believed that the bottle had been drifting down the coast for the past four years, carried along by the slow-moving Labrador Current.

Pastor Appointed
