State Federation Will Sponsor UN Tour Again

By MARTHA BARNETT Home Agent

The State Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs is sponsoring a United Nations Tour again this year on Oct. 4-9.

Wednesday and Thursday will be spent at United Nations Headquarters. There will be a briefing by someone from United Nations giving the women a general background on the work and structure of United Nations, and an opportunity to ask questions.

The group will attend any open sessions at the time of the visit. There will be a guided tour of buildings and time to visit the UN Bookshop, gift shop, and postoffice.

The trip will also include Hyde Park, the Roosevelt Estate; Vanderbilt Estate; traveling up East side of the Hudson, through upper New York City, and returning by West Point Military Academy and over the famous Storm King Highway.

This trip is one of the best educational opportunities offered to Home Demonstration women. Carteret County plans to be represented by at least one club member.

Last week this section carried cookie recipes for parties and special occasions. Here are two more that are equally as good. This dough may also be frozen for future use.

Oat Drops

Ingredients: 1/2 cup soft shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 6 T. molasses, 1 tsp. soda, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 2 cups rolled oats, 1/2 cup cut-up nuts, 1 cup cut-up raisins.

Method: Mix together thoroughly shortening, sugar, eggs and molasses. Sift together and stir in flour, soda, salt and cinnamon. Stir in oats, nuts and raisins. Drop rounded teaspoonfuls about 2 inches apart on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in preheated oven, center rack, at 400 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Yield: About 5 dozen.

Brownies

2 sq. unsweetened chocolate, 1/3 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 3/4 cup sifted flour, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup broken nuts.

Melt together over hot water, chocolate, shortening. Beat in sugar and eggs. Sift together and stir in flour, baking powder, and salt. Mix in nuts. Spread in well greased 8 inch square pan. Bake in pre-heated oven, center rack, at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Yield: about 46 2-inch squares.

These cookies may be baked in your roaster and will save heating the kitchen in hot months. The roaster might be placed on the porch.

For some new drinks, here are two recipes. Both recipes use an electric blender.

Pineapple Smash

3 T. lemon juice; 1/2 cup light corn syrup; 1/2 cup crushed pineapple, 1 1/2 cup buttermilk.

Orange Nog

1 1/4 cup cold milk, 1 egg, 1/4 cup vanilla ice cream, 1/3 cup concentrated frozen orange juice, dash of nutmeg.

Method: Put ingredients in glass container of blender, cover. Turn on blender and run until ingredients are completely blended, from 20 seconds to one minute. Serve immediately. Yield: From two to four servings.

Squirrels Recover

Wallet Containing $28

Galt, Mo. (AP) — Home on an Army furlough, Justin Holt helped his brother put up hay. He lost his billfold containing $28.

Months later the billfold, not a bit damaged and with the cash still in good shape, turned up below a squirrel den tree. The Holts figured some bushy-tail was attracted to the leather wallet and hid it in his nest. Then, apparently the squirrel's interest faded and he pushed it out of the nest.

A recent survey showed that the average U. S. Steelworker has two dependents.

Church Gets Ring and $550

Waterbury, Conn. (AP) — Her dead aunt's engagement ring was all one woman said she could give toward a fund being raised for improvements at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles B. Hart was reluctant to accept the gift feeling it represented too great a sacrifice. Then the Waterbury Republican mentioned the incident.

A day or so later, Hart received a telephone call from a person "who doesn't belong to our church," offering to donate the value of the ring to the improvement fund.

The check which followed was for $550. But, says Hart, the ring donor insisted that the church keep it. It will be set into a cross which will be installed above the Communion table in the sanctuary.

Lonely Heart at Zoo

San Francisco (AP) — Zoobelle is a very lonely giraffe. City Zoo Director Carey Baldwin says lone-some male giraffes might drop her a line.

State Receives High Shellfish Sanitation Rating for Past Year

The division of commercial fisheries has received a general shellfish sanitation rating of 94.8 from the U. S. Public Health Service, according to C. G. Holland, assistant fisheries commissioner, in his August progress report.

The period covered by the rating is 1953-54. The sanitation rating of the division's oyster shucking houses is 92.5.

Mr. Holland said: "For years we have stood high among the first ranking of the oyster producing states in our shellfish sanitation program by the unprejudiced score count of the U. S. Public Health Service. Capt. John A. Nelson was rather proud of our rating with this service and I certainly am just as proud as he was.

"Our two sanitarians work hard at this job and take pride in their work and at the outset I let them know plainly that I was willing to back them as far as the federal government and state health services required of us. Though their salaries and traveling expenses and that of our bacteriologists are paid by other state agencies, still we cooperate on the old basis of furnishing office, laboratory, and budget in the amount of $1,100."

Division activities for August were largely routine, says Mr. Holland. Patrol boats have been busy enforcing laws and regulations, and checking boat licenses.

License Fees Up Low enforcement supervisors and investigators are active, sending in boat licenses that exceed expectations for this time of year, he said.

Receipts for the first quarter will be almost again as much as that for the corresponding period last year. It is expected that they will exceed estimates by some $4,000, says Mr. Holland.

File System Started The division office is working steadily on establishing a complete filing system covering boats and equipment of all commercial fishermen, reports the fisheries official.

This filing system gives the name of the owner, address, boat name or number, length of boat, all gear, and price of license issued. Files are arranged by towns and counties.

Each inspector will be given lists of commercial fishermen, boats, and rigs, so that they will be in position to license a boat regardless of what part of the state it comes from.

Through July there were some 2,100 who had paid boat licenses, reports Mr. Holland, and some 600 who have not paid as yet.

Mr. Holland states that license fees are coming in fairly well. There will be other licenses, exact number is not known, that will be issued covering what heretofore have been oyster dredging boats. They will be licensed as power boats, until the law is changed.

The division office is also making a list of dealers handling commercial seafoods. A mimeographed copy will be available on request, says Mr. Holland.

He says the office has on file a request from the U. S. Labor Department for a list of the dealers.

Knowing Meat Cuts Helps In Wise, Thrifty Shopping

By DOROTHY GRAHAM CP&L Home Economist

Meat shopping is one of the most interesting parts of marketing. Housewives sometime dread to shop for meats because they don't know meats. It's up to the shopper to decide which she wants and can afford—porterhouse steaks and loin chops or economical pork shoulder roasts, lamb meat stew and beef short ribs.

Since we can't all afford rib roast, veal cutlets, and tenderloins, we need to look at the thrifter side of the picture. The really ingenious cook regards the economy cuts as a challenge to her imagination and ability. She sauces, seasons, and cooks these penny-wise purchases to produce dishes fit for the king of the household.

Which are thrifty cuts? In beef, pot roasts are often excellent buys.

These include such roasts as chuck rump, heel of round and English cut. Thrifty steaks include chuck and flank. Other cuts which are easy on the pocketbook are stew meat, tongue, ox joints, plate, brisket, short ribs and shanks.

In pork we find good buys in the Boston butt (shoulder roast), end-cut loin roasts, shank half of ham and smoked picnic shoulder as well as shoulder steaks and end-cut pork chops. Also economical are sausage meat, salt pork and pork hocks.

In veal we find the shoulder roast, rump and heel of round roast thrifty buys. Also on the economical side are shoulder chops, shanks, breast, ribs, stew meat, "city chicken" (cubes of shoulder steaks on a skewer) and mock chicken legs (ground veal shaped around a wooden skewer).
