Pep Up Gowns With Crayons

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Remember what fun you had as a little girl, filling in the pictures in your coloring book?

Now, using the same wax crayons, you can draw designs on your party dresses, to give them extra glamor.

Local sewing center experts have worked out a unique system of crayon coloring which is bright, permanent and washable. Here's what to do:

First choose a sheer fabric such as lawn or organdie, so the color will penetrate. Using any standard pattern cut out and make your party dress. Then carefully sketch your design on a piece of wrapping paper, and, getting the placement just right, use carbon paper to trace the outline onto the dress. You may choose any design you like — flowers, fruit, or even animals.

Then, using non-tarnishable metallic thread, fashion stitch the outline of the design on the dress, using your sewing machine. Now comes the fun. Using ordinary wax crayon, carefully fill in the design with whatever color you like. Sandwich the crayoned design between two pieces of brown wrapping paper to absorb excess wax, and press with a warm iron. The wax melts out and the color remains. The design may be washed but not dry cleaned, so be sure the fabric of the dress is washable.

This simple white organdie dress is decorated with a design of green leaves, applied with ordinary wax crayons. An artificial flower adds touch.

Build-Up Toward Larger Benefits to Begin '55
Beginning with their 1955 earnings, people under the social security program will be building credits toward larger old-age and survivors insurance benefits. The amount of yearly earnings which will be reported for social security purposes after 1954 will be increased.
Social security tax contributions will be paid on yearly earnings up to $4,200 instead of $3,600 as under the old law, according to N. A. Avera, district social security administrator. The formula for calculating benefits has been revised also. And the special "drop-out" of low or no earning years has been added by the 1954 amendments to assure the highest possible benefits in relation to the lowest levels of income.

That Rooster Wanted Results!

Salmon, Idaho (AP)—A rooster teaching pullets how to lay? Mrs. Doris Hicks of Salmon says she saw it happen with her own eyes.

Mrs. Hicks reports her flock was doing very poorly in the egg line. But one day her prize Brahma rooster boosted a pullet bodily into the nest.

The bird laid an egg. Mrs. Hicks said, and the rooster summoned the other pullets to the side of the nest to look at it.

For about a week, every time a pullet got near the nest the rooster would push her in, Mrs. Hicks said, repeating his summons to the other chickens if the pullet produced results.

Apparently the pullets got the point. Mrs. Hicks reports the flock is now laying regularly.
